THURSDAY, March 29, 1951.

The House met at 10:00 a. m.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend William Hugh Fryer, offered the following prayer:

O God the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth, and of all things visible and invisible; look with mercy upon us, the sons of men whom Thou hast created in Thine own image, and enable us to look unto Thee, whose image we have marred; that we, knowing good and evil through the disobedience of man in the Garden, may know that we have eternal life through the obedience of the Son of Man upon the Cross; by whom and with whom, in the unity of the Holy Ghost, all honor and glory be unto Thee O Father Almighty, world without end. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journal of Wednesday, March 28, 1951? If not, and without objection, the Journal is approved.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I believe that my somewhat experienced ears can detect the rumblings of the approaching steam roller. I have become accustomed to being steam rolled. I have also experienced a growing desire to be steam rolled in orderly, parliamentary, good tempered fashion.

I am glad to see that as yet there have been no symptoms of jittery nerves on the part of the majority party in this House. However, this jittery business is contagious and apparently the front office, the high command, is approaching the jittery stage.

I find in the morning papers that His Excellency, the Governor, has taken the position that anyone who questions his facts, refuses to admit that they have been divinely inspired, is playing just plain covetous politics.

His Excellency the Governor gets his financial information from the budget office. Now that mousey little man in the budget office, as far as I have known, has not framed an honest budget since he has been Budget Secretary. He is an adept at deception, at subterfuge. All those who have dealt with the budget office know—at least the Majority Leader of the House knows it, the Majority Leader of the Senate knows it, that if the budget office wants to produce $10 million additional, it finds it by boosting estimated revenue. And if they want to lose $10 million, they reduce estimated revenue.

The classic example was the budget that was balanced in times past by the simple expedient of decreasing appropriations $21 million and adding $69 million in estimated revenues. There is no integrity now, and there has not been in the past any integrity in the estimate of revenues that have emanated from the budget office. The budget office has become a government within a government. The budget officer has found a sadistic pleasure in controlling the fiscal affairs of a great Commonwealth.

Now, what I would like to see would be a great informality in handling this budget situation. I would like to see, when the time comes, the Majority Leader or his experts take a great big blackboard, big enough so everybody could see, and proceed to write down the estimate of the tax to be derived from every tax, including the bonus tax, the inheritance tax, the tax we get from insurance premiums, the whole kettle of fish broken down. Not miscellaneous taxes so much, not normal taxes so much, but specific taxes, and strike us a total that we could see.

Then write down the amount of money that has been collected during this biennium up to this particular date; what the estimates are for collections to the end of the biennium; just exactly how the revenues for the present biennium compare with the estimates at the beginning of the biennium. And then figure for us the effect of the reduction made in the present budget as compared with the 1949 budget and the effect of the non-recurring items, strike us an honest balance as to the exact needs for new money on the basis of the Governor's own budget.

Our contention is, not that the Governor has asked enough for education, we do not say it; not that the Governor has asked enough for health, we do not say it; but we do say that for what he has asked, he has presented a dishonest budget, and that we do not need his income tax.

I have as much right to say he has presented a dishonest budget as he has to say that any criticism of that budget is based upon covetous politics. There may be those who play covetous politics. I am willing to meet the majority Members of this House and His Excellency the Governor upon the basis of fact; but I do say that it is not an evidence of dishonesty or intellectual dishonesty to ask that the facts be produced and that this House analyze the facts.

I want to conclude by saying that I consider it an outrageous procedure for the Ways and Means Committee in five minutes to grind out a $550 million budget, operate at the rate of $150 million a minute; bring it into this House and insist that it be brought to a vote without any hearings, without making it possible for any part of the public to present any alternative proposals, to question and analyze and figure.

I say that that is such stupid politics that if I were concocting a program for your destruction that is just the way I would do it. I would concoct an income tax, and say "Here it is; it is gospel. There is nothing else; you have got to swallow it," and I would send it out and impose upon it a public that had no opportunity to consider the merits of the case, impose it upon a Legislature that has not as yet had sufficient time to analyze and correct a budget.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would just like to clear up a few of the facts that the gentleman from Cambria has spoken about.

He stated that the Majority Leader, who is myself, did not have faith in the budget office. I would like definitely to make the statement to him and to the Members of this House that I do have faith in the budget office. I have faith based on past experience. In past experiences that we have had with Dr. Logan, he has figured the budget every biennium almost correctly. It is pretty hard, as the gentleman knows to figure a million dollar budget down to the penny. A million dollar budget and a billion dollar budget in comparison is the same as ten cents to a thousand. To be over and to have a surplus which we have in this state today of $10 million I think is good figuring.

If the gentleman on the other side were right and we could twist figures to any extent we wanted I would like to have seen a surplus of a $100 million, and if the budget officer were able to do that he would probably have done it. I think that he has given us honest budgets. I do not think that he has exaggerated in any way.

As far as the gentleman's stating that the Governor is jittery, I do not even like the word "jittery." I can assure him that the Governor is not jittery in any way, and he still has faith in his budget office. He has worked on this budget himself.

I think probably other individuals have become jittery. A lot of people do for some unknown reason—and I do not know what. But I can assure him that the administration, and I can also assure him that the Members of this House on our side are definitely not jittery in any sense of the word. We have faith and we will keep that faith.

The gentleman has said that we have dishonest budgets.

It is easy to say something but it is not always easy to prove it. I do not believe we have had a dishonest budget ever. Some of our budgets might not have come out exactly, as I said before, to the penny, but I do not believe that I could keep my own budget in my own house so that at the end of next month I could say I am going to come out $25 ahead or $25 behind. I cannot see when we come out with $10 million surplus that it could be a dishonest budget in any way.

Again let me assure the gentleman that if there is any question on it, we will answer it in the future. When the time comes we will answer it in our tax program, but again let me reiterate that I can assure him from the bottom of my heart that nobody on this side of the House is jittery and nobody in the front office is jittery.

Mr. ANDREWS. Could I ask the Majority leader one question?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SMITH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Will he give consideration to the blackboard suggestion?

Mr. SMITH. I did not quite understand the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. I was asking whether he will give consideration to the blackboard suggestion that I made?

Mr. SMITH. The blackboard suggestion that you just made a minute ago?

Mr. ANDREWS. A little while ago.

Mr. SMITH. I believe that probably would be mechanically feasible, yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Would not it be a wonderful demonstration of good intent and all that sort of thing and would it not be beneficial to the Members to have these figures put down one by one on a blackboard where everybody could see them, then add them up and see where we were at?

Mr. SMITH. I think, Mr. Speaker, that if the gentleman would consult the Governor's budget message, he has a miniature blackboard where he could add the figures up and analyze them. That is the idea of the budget message and the budget.

Mr. ANDREWS. That is the bunk.

SENATE MESSAGE

HOUSE BILLS CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

HOUSE BILL No. 17.

An Act giving the consent of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the acquisition by the United States of America of a certain tract of land in the city of Pittsburgh Allegheny County Pennsylvania containing approximately two hundred forty-seven acres for use as a site for a Veterans' Administration Hospital and ceding jurisdiction to the United States

HOUSE BILL No. 43.

An Act authorizing the Board of Trustees of Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphan School with the approval of the Department of Public Instruction to accept on behalf of the Commonwealth a stone amphitheater erected on the grounds of the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphan School

With information that the Senate has passed the same without amendment.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. DOWLING. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, April 2, 1951 at 4:30 p. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 11:01 a. m.) the House adjourned.

Legislative Journal.

Session 1951.

139th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 32.

HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, APRIL 2, 1951.

No. 30.

SENATE

MONDAY, April 2, 1951.

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. GILBERT L. BENNETT, Pastor of First Methodist Church, Huntingdon, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

O God, our refuge and our strength, without Whom nothing is strong, without Whom nothing is holy, increase and multiply upon us Thy mercy that Thou, being our ruler and guide, we may so pass through things temporal that we lose not the things eternal. Nourish in us, we pray Thee, the spirit of trust and faith.

Thy especial blessing we pray upon the Governor of this great Commonwealth and upon these honorable gentlemen who are entrusted with the great privilege of making laws affecting the people of this great State. O God, turn Thy face to them and make their darkness to be light. May they be strong to do the things worth doing and to put aside the things which are unworthy. Fill us all with a constant sense of Thy nearness.

We pray in the name of Jesus Christ, our Lord and Savior. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. SCARLETT, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. WOOD asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. SNOWDEN, because of business.

He also asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. HARE, because of business.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 47, PRINTER'S No. 41 RETURNED WITHOUT APPROVAL

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, March 31, 1951.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 47, Printer's No. 41, entitled "An Act to amend clause (i) of section one thousand four hundred and one of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1225) entitled 'An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto' by providing for the purchase of and payment for policies of insurance on commission property"

This bill amends clause (i) of Section 1401, of "The Game Law" by authorizing the Pennsylvania Game Commission to purchase insurance policies in order to protect buildings and property which are in its custody or control and to pay the necessary premiums therefor.

The Act of May 14, 1915, P. L. 524, as amended by the Act of May 12, 1921, P. L. 549, makes it unlawful for any department, bureau, commission or any other branch of the State government or any board of trustees or custodians of State property to purchase, secure or obtain any policy of insurance on any property owned by the Commonwealth. This act also creates a fund for the rebuilding, restoration and replacement of any structure, property or equipment owned by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and damaged or destroyed by fire or other casualty.

Senate Bill No. 47, Printer's No. 41, is therefore contrary to the long established policy of this Commonwealth.

It is possible that the Act of May 14, 1915, P. L. 524, supra, and the method provided in it for the rebuilding and replacement of Commonwealth property damaged by fire or other casualty should be restudied. Until this is done, however, we see no reason to permit one commission owning a relatively very small part of the property of the Commonwealth to follow a policy contrary to that of the other departments, boards and commissions.

For this reason the bill is not approved.

JOHN S. FINE.

HOUSE BILLS FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented for concurrence bills of the House, as follows:

House Bill No. 42, entitled:

An Act to amend subsection (b) of Section 921, and Section 922 of the act, approved the tenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30), entitled "Public School Code of 1949," by changing the tenure of members and officers of county boards of school directors

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

House Bill No. 496, entitled:

An Act to further amend section 1132 of the act, approved the fourth day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 519), entitled "General Borough Act," by permitting retirement of members of the police force after twenty years of total service, deleting requirement for continuous service for such retirement.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

BILL SIGNED

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bill had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

Senate Bill No. 199, entitled:

An Act to further amend Subsection A of Section 201 of the act, approved the fifteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 624), entitled as amended "An act relating to the business of banking, and to the exercise of fiduciary powers by corporations; providing for the organization of corporations with fiduciary powers, and of banking corporations, with or without fiduciary powers, including the conversion of National banks into State banks, and for the licensing of private bankers and employees' mutual banking associations; defining the rights, powers, duties, liabilities, and immunities of such corporations, of existent corporations authorized to engage in a banking business, with or without fiduciary powers, of private bankers and employees' mutual banking associations, and of the officers, directors, trustees, shareholders, attorneys, and other employees of all such corporations, employees' mutual banking associations or private bankers, or of affiliated corporations, associations, or persons; restricting the exercise of banking powers by any other corporation, association, or person, and of fiduciary powers by any other corporation; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the courts, prothonotaries, recorders of deeds, and certain State departments, commissions, and officers; imposing penalties; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts," by further regulating the names of bank and trust companies.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. STEVENSON, from the Committee on Local Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 433, entitled:

An Act to further amend sections thirty-one and thirty-two of the act, approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1278), entitled "An act relating to counties of the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes; and revising, amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto," by reclassifying counties of the sixth and seventh classes, and providing for elections pursuant to changes of classification by counties.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. WATSON and PROPERT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 435, entitled:

An Act to repeal Sections 2 and 3 of the act, approved the eleventh day of April, one thousand eight hundred sixty-six (P. L. 635), entitled "A further supplement to the act consolidating the city of Philadelphia, for the purpose of introducing a sufficient supply of fresh and pure water, for the use of the citizens of said city," eliminating the right of the City of Philadelphia to enter upon or take certain land in adjoining counties by eminent domain proceedings for water supply purposes and the manner of ascertaining damages for such taking.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Messrs. WALKER and BARR read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 436, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Trustees of the University of Pittsburgh for the general maintenance of, and the purchase of apparatus and equipment for, the University of Pittsburgh and for the maintenance of teaching facilities in hospitals for students in the School of Medicine.

CALENDAR

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 18, as follows:

An Act to amend Section 5 of the act approved the eleventh day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 565) entitled "An act providing compensation to certain persons who served in the military or naval forces of the United States or of any of her allies during World War II providing the method of making payment to representatives of persons who because of death or incapacity cannot personally receive compensation imposing certain duties on the Adjutant General making an appropriation and providing penalties" by extending the time during which applications may be filed for veterans' compensation The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 5 of the act approved the eleventh day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 565) entitled "An act providing compensation to certain persons who served in the military or naval forces of the United States or of any of her allies during World War II providing the method of making payment to representatives of persons who because of death or incapacity cannot personally receive compensation imposing certain duties on the Adjutant General making an appropriation and providing penalties" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 5 Application for Compensation Applications for compensation shall be made to the Adjutant General on such forms and in such manner as he shall prescribe

Applicants shall state on their application whether or not they have applied for or received a bonus gratuity or compensation of a nature similar to that provided for by this act from any other state in the union

All applications shall be made (1) personally by the veteran or (2) in case of death or mental incompetency preventing the making of a personal application then by such representative of the veteran as the Adjutant General shall by regulation prescribe An application made by a representative other than one authorized by such regulation shall be held void

The Adjutant General shall not accept or consider any application filed with him after the first day of July one thousand nine hundred [fifty] fifty-one which was returned from the House of Representatives with amendments.

Said amendments having been twice read, and printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, for the information of the gentlemen of the Senate, the amendment placed in the bill by the House was to extend the time from July 1 of 1951 to July 1 of 1952, and it is the thought of the sponsors of the bill, or the advocates of the legislation, that a conference committee can get this straightened out with the Veterans' Bonus Department so that we do not continue beyond a reasonable time the department set up over there.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate concur in the same?

SENATE NON-CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS MADE BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE BILL No. 18

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do non-concur in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 18.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—43

(b) Any person given the right by this section to collect and distrain for rent shall be deemed for the purposes of this article to be a landlord

Section 304 Collection of Rent by Purchasers at Sheriff's and Judicial Sales In the case of a tenant whose right of possession is not paramount to that of the purchaser at a sheriff's or other judicial sale the latter shall have the right as a landlord to collect by assumpsit or to distrain for rent from the date of the acknowledgment of his deed except for such fractional part of a quarter as the tenant if a farmer or one engaged in raising crops or produce or such fractional part of a month in other cases as the tenant may in accordance with the terms of his letting have paid as an advance payment prior to the date of the acknowledgment of said deed In the case of a tenant whose right of possession is paramount to that of such purchaser advance rent paid prior to the date of acknowledgment of the purchaser's deed shall be deemed properly paid though paid prior to its due date unless it is so paid with the actual notice of the pendency of the proceeding resulting in the sale or with intent to defeat the rights of a purchaser thereat

The right of possession of a tenant for years shall not be deemed paramount to that of a purchaser at a tax sale

The right of possession of a tenant shall be deemed paramount to that of a purchaser at a judicial sale if and only if the letting to him shall precede in point of date the entry of the judgment order or decree on which such sale was had and also shall precede the recording or registering of the mortgage deed or will if any through which by legal proceedings the purchaser derives title and shall not be paramount if the letting is made with actual notice to such tenant of the contemplated entry of such judgment order or decree or of the fact of the execution of such mortgage deed or other instrument of writing and with intent to avoid the effect thereof

Section 305 Distress of Property Fraudulently Removed In case any tenant of any real property shall fraudulently or clandestinely remove from the demised premises his personal property with intent to prevent the landlord from distraining the same for arrears of rent it shall be lawful for the landlord or his agent within the space of thirty days next ensuing such removal to take and seize such personal property wherever the same may be found in distress for said arrears of rent and to proceed to sell the same as hereinafter provided as if the personal property had actually been distrained upon on the demised premises

Section 306 Replevin by Tenant or Owner The tenant or owner of any personal property distrained on may within five days next after notice of such distress replevy the same All proceedings in replevin shall be conducted in accordance with general law and applicable rules of procedure governing actions of replevin

Section 307 Proceeding by Tenant to Determine Set-Off Any court of record or court not of record having jurisdiction in civil actions at law may entertain an action to defalcate by a tenant against a landlord where the landlord has distrained for arrears of rent to compel the landlord to set-off any account which the tenant may have against the landlord No such court shall entertain any such action where the rent or set-off claimed is in excess of its civil jurisdiction Proceedings in such actions shall be the same as in actions of assumpsit and the amount of the set-off if any and enter judgment in favor of the proper party for the balance due

If such judgment is in favor of the landlord he may in lieu of issuing execution thereon proceed with his distress for the amount of such judgment If the landlord shall sell more personal property than necessary to satisfy such judgment and costs and fail to pay the overplus to the tenant he shall be liable in trespass to double the amount of the sum so detained together with the costs of suit If the landlord shall proceed to sell any personal property after notice of any such proceeding to defalcate and before judgment in his favor thereon he shall be liable in trespass to double the amount by which the sum realized from such sale exceeds the sum to which he shall be found to be entitled by the final judgment in the defalcation proceeding if such judgment be in his favor

If the landlord proceeds with the distress he shall satisfy the judgment to the extent of the amount realized on the sale less the costs of the distress or on his failure to do so the tenant may proceed by rule to have such satisfaction entered

Section 308 Appraisement of Property Levied Upon If the tenant or owner of the personal property distrained upon fails to replevy the same within said five days next after distress and notice thereof the person distraining may with the sheriff or his deputy or any constable or his deputy which officer upon demand of the landlord shall aid and assist cause the personal property so distrained to be appraised by two disinterested and competent persons appointed by said officer

The appraisers shall each take the following oath or affirmation to be administered by the assisting officer

ARTICLE V

Recovery of Possession

Section 501 Notice to Quit—A landlord desirous of repossessing real property from a tenant may notify in writing the tenant to remove from the same at the expiration of the time specified in the notice under the following circumstances namely (1) Upon the termination of a term of the tenant (2) or upon forfeiture of the lease for breach of its conditions (3) or upon the failure of the tenant upon demand to satisfy any rent reserved and due where there is not personal property on the premises adequate to satisfy the rent in arrears except such property as is by this act exempt from levy and sale on distress for rent

In case of the expiration of a term or of a forfeiture for breach of the conditions of the lease where the lease is for any term of less than one year or for an indeterminate time the notice shall specify that the tenant shall remove within thirty days from the date of service thereof and when the lease is for one year or more then within three months from the date of service thereof In case of failure of the tenant upon demand to satisfy any rent reserved and due the notice if given on or after April first and before September first shall specify that the tenant shall remove within fifteen days from the date of the service thereof and if given on or after September first and before April first then within thirty days from the date of the service thereof

The notice above provided for may be for a lesser time or may be waived by the tenant if the lease so provides.

The notice provided for in this section may be served personally on the tenant or by leaving that same at the principal building upon the premises or by posting the same conspicuously on the leased premises.

Section 502 Complaint If the tenant shall fail to remove from the real property in compliance with such notice the landlord or his agent may complain in writing under oath or affirmation to any justice of the peace in the county in which the real property is situated.

The landlord's complaint shall set forth with particulars dates and amount (1) that he was quietly and peaceably possessed of the real property from which the tenant was notified to remove (2) that he demised the same for a specified or indeterminate term to the tenant or to some other person under whom the tenant claims of the lease (4) that the term for which the same was (3) that due notice to remove has been given to the tenant or that no notice was required under the terms demised is fully ended or that a forfeiture has resulted by reason of a breach of the conditions of the lease or that any rent reserved and due has upon demand remained unsatisfied as the case may be (5) that the tenant retains the real property and refuses to give up possession of the same and (6) the amount of rent if any which remains due and unpaid and the amount of damages claimed for unjust detention of the real property if any.

Section 503 Summons and Service Upon the filing of the complaint the justice of the peace shall issue his summons reciting substantially the complaint and directed to any constable or the sheriff of the county commanding him to summon the tenant to appear before such justice of the peace to answer said complaint on a day not less than five nor more than eight days from the date of the summons and at a time fixed therein.

Such summons may be served personally on the tenant or by mailing the same to the tenant or by posting the same conspicuously on the leased premises.

Section 504 Hearing Judgment Writ of Possession Payment of Rent by Tenant On the day and at the time appointed or on any day to which the case may be adjourned the justice of the peace shall proceed to hear the case. If it shall appear that the complaint has been sufficiently proven the justice of the peace shall enter judgment against the tenant that the real property be delivered up to the landlord and for damages if any for the unjust detention of the demised premises as well as for the amount of rent if any which remains due and unpaid and for costs of the proceeding.

At the request of the landlord he shall after the fifth day after the rendition of such a judgment issue a writ of possession directed to the constable or sheriff commanding him forthwith to deliver actual possession of the real property to the landlord and also to levy the costs and amount of judgment for damages and rent if any on the tenant in the same manner as judgments and costs are levied and collected on writs of execution.

If however it shall appear that the said complaint is vexatious and unfounded then the justice of the peace shall dismiss the case and assess the costs against the landlord.

At any time before any writ of possession is actually executed the tenant may in any case for the recovery of possession solely because of failure to pay rent supersede and render the writ of no effect by paying to the constable or sheriff the rent actually in arrears and the costs.

Section 505 Return of Constable or Sheriff The constable or sheriff shall make return of said writ of possession to the justice of the peace within ten days after receiving the same. He shall be answerable in default of executing said writ according to its terms and for failure to pay over the amount received by him in satisfaction of the judgment or the rent and costs paid to him by the tenant in the same manner as such officers are now by law answerable on other writs of execution.

Section 506 Appeal Certiorari Within five days after the rendition of judgment either party may appeal to the next court of common pleas upon filing in that court a bond with one or more sufficient sureties conditioned for the payment of all costs and rent that have accrued or may accrue up to the time of final judgment and for damages assessed if any in case the judgment shall be affirmed. Any such appeal shall be tried in the same manner as other suits are tried. Such appeal shall not be a supersedeas to the writ of possession in any case except upon special allowance of the court to which the appeal is taken.

If upon the appeal the jury shall find in favor of the tenant they shall also assess any damages which he may have sustained by reason of his removal from the premises costs and that the tenant shall retain or recover possession and judgment shall be entered for such damages and session of the demised real estate as the case may be. The tenant shall have the necessary writ or writs of execution to enforce said judgment.

A writ of certiorari to remove the proceedings before the justice of the peace may be had as in other cases and the court of common pleas shall review the same de novo.

Section 507 Proceeding Where Title to Real Property Is in Dispute If in any such proceeding by a landlord to repossess real property the tenant shall declare in writing on oath or affirmation that the title to the real property is disputed and claimed by some other person named by the tenant by virtue of a right or title accruing since the commencement of the lease by descent from or deed or will of the landlord and if the person so named and claiming does not forthwith appear voluntarily then the justice of the peace shall immediately issue a summons returnable in six days commanding such person to appear before him.

If the person so summoned fails to appear the justice of the peace shall proceed to give judgment as though no such dispute or claim had been made.

If the person so summoned shall declare in writing on oath or affirmation that he verily believes that he is entitled to the real property in dispute and shall give bond as hereinafter provided then the justice of the peace upon notice of the filing of such bond shall not enter judgment.

Any such bond shall be filed in the court of common pleas of the county shall be in such sum as the court shall fix shall have thereon one or more sufficient sureties and shall be conditioned that the person claiming title to such real property shall prosecute his claim by ejectment at the next term of the court of common pleas. If said claim is not so prosecuted the bond shall be forfeited to the landlord and the justice of the peace shall proceed to give judgment and cause the judgment to be executed as hereinbefore provided.

Section 508 Proceedings Where Tenant Claims Title as Joint Tenant or Tenant in Common If in any such proceeding by a landlord to repossess real property the tenant or person in possession shall declare in writing on oath or affirmation that the real property in dispute is held and claimed by him as joint tenant or tenant in common with the landlord and that he verily believes that the real property so held does not exceed in quantity or value the just proportion of the tenant's share as joint tenant in common and shall file a bond in the court of common pleas with one or more sufficient sureties in such sum as the court shall fix conditioned to prosecute his claim by ejectment at the next term of court of common pleas then the said justice of the peace upon notice of the filing of such bond shall not enter judgment. If the said claim is not so prosecuted the bond shall be forfeited to the landlord and the justice of the peace shall proceed to give judgment and cause the judgment to be executed as hereinbefore provided.

Section 509 Return Where Tenant Retains Forcible Possession Notice to Tenant that Alias Writ Will be Issued Required Use of Force and Service Thereof In any case brought by a landlord before a justice of the peace for the recovery of the possession of real property if there is no supersedeas to the writ of possession and the tenant or occupant forcibly detains the real property against the officer serving the writ of possession the constable or sheriff shall make return of the writ as follows "Un-served because the tenant or occupant forcibly details possession of the real property"

Whereupon after the expiration of ten days from the rendition of judgment by the justice of the peace as in this article provided and the issuing of the writ of possession to the officer such officer shall notify in writing the tenant or occupant that an alias writ of possession will be issued setting forth his duty to use such force as may be necessary by the breaking in of any door or otherwise to enter upon the real property for the purpose of executing a writ of possession in accordance with the judgment obtained

Any such notice may be served personally on the tenant or occupant or by leaving same at the principal building upon the premises or by posting the same conspicuously on the leased premises

Section 510 Alias Writ of Possession Forcible Ejection of Tenant or Occupant If the tenant or occupant fails to deliver up possession of the real property within ten days after the service of the notice as provided in the last preceding section the justice of the peace shall issue an alias writ of possession and the officer shall thereupon use such force as may be necessary by the breaking in of any door or otherwise to enter upon the real property and to eject the tenant or occupant and shall deliver possession of the real property to the landlord or his agent

Section 511 Remedy to Recover Possession by Ejectment Preserved Nothing contained in this article shall be construed as abolishing the right of any landlord to recover possession of any real property from a tenant by action of ejectment or from instituting any amicable action of ejectment to recover possession of any real property by confessing judgment in accordance with the terms of any written contract or agreement

The Reverend Charles F. Trunk, Jr., guest chaplain, pastor of the Bethlehem Lutheran Church, Harrisburg, offered the following prayer:

O God, our Father, we look to Thee for that certainty which we cannot find in the world of men. In the midst of change, Thou are unchanging; and when all else is dark, Thou art the Light. Help us to see the path which we should take, lest we wander down the wrong road; and when we are sure of the way, keep us on it until we arrive at our proper destination. We ask this in the Name of Him Who is the Way and the Truth and the Life, Thy Son, our Lord. Amen.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, we are at the season of big calendars. If there is any Member in the House that has read every bill on the calendar today he should arise in his place and be awarded a medal. I doubt that we have any assurance that every bill on the calendar today has been read and studied by at least one Member.

We have just passed on first reading what is supposed to be a sacrosanct and sacred tax program. I arise with some diffidence to even comment concerning the fringes of this program, because I see by the daily press that budget critics are assailed by Fine. I hope that this budget critic will not be assailed by the Governor or anybody else.

My understanding is that this tax program is to roll, roll today, roll tomorrow, roll Wednesday and be passed finally on the 5th; that it does not need to be studied; that quite likely the membership of the House is not competent to study it and if we did study it, we would find that it was meritorious and impeccable altogether.

The question was raised the other day regarding the accuracy of the financial weather prophet who functions as the Budget Secretary. I submit to the Members of this House that any prognosticator financially, who has $25 or $30 million rolling around loose all the time is not exactly a dependable person.

I want to read from the record. If I am mistaken in reading from the record, I hope the Majority Leader or some other Member of the House will interrupt me and correct me.

Consider the budget figures of March 19th last, the budget message, on page four of that message near the bottom of that page we read "The budget I presented calls for general fund appropriations, as stated, in the total amount of $833 million plus." This amount includes the reserve of $20 million for civil defense. The amount without the reserve $833 million compares with $766 million for the 1949, 1951 biennium then increases to $67 million. However the recommended appropriations also include a $112 million of obligations arising from actions taken before this administration, and $42 million additional for school subsidies.

Then the record goes on to state that the financing of the present biennium was made possible by reason of a $63 million surplus which was inherited from the previous administration. Now, all of you older Members were around here. I wonder whether you heard anything during the beginning of this biennium of a $63 million surplus. If you look in the budget for the current biennium, you will see that there was an estimated unappropriated surplus as of June 1st, 1949, of $42 million, and we wind up, says the Governor, with some $63 million. Only 20 some million out of line. That is the case in point. If you will look at the budget for the current biennium you will see that the Budget Secretary there made it very close, a very close guess. He said that we would wind up with some $960 thousand at the end of the current biennium. That guess is pretty close. That is a pretty good guess—if he is right. Well $960 thousand surplus winds up with ten million two hundred thousand surplus at the end of this biennium, plus $16 million in deficiency appropriations. By waving some magic wand, admitting his mistakes or recalculating his figures of $960 thousand estimated surplus, yields him $26 million. Now that is not anything new or it is not anything peculiar, the surplus.

I am not going to take your time now by quoting other similar instances. For example, the amount recommended from the appropriations by the Budget Secretary was $696 million plus and they wind up with having spent some $60 million more than the Budget Secretary said would be kicking around, and the estimated general fund revenues for the current biennium is $653 million. The Governor's current budget message informs us that we managed to spend, one way or another, some $60 million more than that.

Now the point is this: If we have $25 or $30 million kicking around in surplus funds that can be pulled in or shoved out at will, if we are proceeding to enact an income tax without having been furnished with anything like official figures for the state of Pennsylvania as to the amount of the tax base upon which that income tax will be levied; if we are in complete ignorance concerning the amount of that tax base, I say that there is no reason for precipitate action. I say that if there has been information which could have been obtained from Federal sources as to the amount of the tax base upon which the income tax will be levied why has it not been furnished? On the basis of the available information, I have as much right to say that the proposed income tax will raise $150 million as the Budget Secretary has to say that it will raise $119 million. You gentlemen on the other side, perhaps Members on this side, may be perfectly satisfied to have your tax income screened in the budget office without examination here; to have your departmental needs screened by the budget office and handed to you, with the Appropriations Committee, of course, given the privilege of making some readjustments but without any Committee having had prior jurisdiction concerning the needs of this Commonwealth. So far as I know the only person who knows how much the Department of Health thought it ought to have is the Budget Secretary. The only person who knows how much the Department of Welfare thought it ought to have is the Budget Secretary. I do not know of any source to which I could turn to find out what amount the Department of Welfare passed, to what extent the Budget Secretary pruned it. The Appropriations Committee has not done any pruning up to the present time, and yet, the Governor says that he has cut the requests very materially. The Governor has not cut the requests, the Budget Secretary has. It is barely possible that every reduction that the Budget Secretary made was a reduction that the Members of this House would have made if they knew about it, and it is barely possible that that is not so. I know it is obnoxious to hand to the budget office powers that establishes the Appropriation Committee of this House simply as a rubber stamp, or to hand to the Budget Secretary powers which make it incumbent upon a Ways and Means Committee to pass judgment in less than an hour upon a tax program calling for over-all expenditures of $883 million, or something like that.

I am saying now that the Budget Secretary has been making his budgets for years, and there is the $61 million reduction in Public Assistance. You say $61 million will balance the budget. It would have been as easy for the Budget Secretary to say $51 million. He pulled whatever figure would best balance his budget out of the blue. Now I understand that the orders are that without a hearing, without proper deliberation, we pass this tax program with a flat income tax and as its core and do so without being in actual possession of any figures except the figures that have been filtered to us by the budget office.

We shall tomorrow move that the tax bill be placed upon the postponed calendar. We say there is no need for hurry. The probabilities are this session will be delayed by reason of the necessity for dealing with reapportionment. There is no need for hurry.

We only have a guess as to what the figures will show as to the amount collected under the existing taxes during the current biennium. If I were to abuse the patience of this House, I would go further and show that from the records in the past the Budget Secretary has erred more than $40 million in his estimate as to what the final showing would be when the money properly credited in this biennium comes in.

There is every reason why there should be no hurry. First of all, it is wrong for the Governor to send a "take it or leave it budget" to this House. Second, it is wrong and the Press of the state, many organizations of the state say it is wrong for us to swallow it because the Governor says take it or leave it. It is wrong for us to deny the Appropriations Committee and the Ways and Means Committee the time and the machinery and the advice necessary for them to check on the budget office.

When the Governor says he does not want any accounting other than the budget office accounting, he is infringing upon the prerogatives of this House because part of our business is to check on the budget office.

We will move for delay as far as the income tax measure is concerned, unless there is delay, proper time for consideration, hearings; unless the Appropriation Committee is given ample opportunity to call before it the Department Heads and we first determine how much we would appropriate, if the burden was upon us. Then, having determined how much in good conscience we would appropriate, proceed to enact the tax legislation necessary to finance the program that we and not the budget office would set as the amount to appropriate.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I cannot disagree with the gentleman that he has a right to have a difference of opinion. I think that difference of opinion is the basis of democracy, and we are willing to have it.

The gentleman states that this tax has not been studied. I think every Member of this House has known the principle of this tax for at least a sufficient time to give it study.

The principle and the administration of it are two different things. The gentleman stated that the Budget Director would be out something like $10 million. Well, I would like to remind him that $10 million is only one percent of a billion dollar budget. So his percentage is not too far off. It could be $20 million and two percent on a two year forecast is not too far off.

I for one, and I am sure that we on this side of the House, have faith in our Appropriations Committee in checking the requests of the Departments. That is what we have the Committee for, and the Committee in the past has always done a good job. There is no reason to believe at this time that they will do anything other than a good job.

Now the budget has been submitted to us as Members of this House for a period of at least two weeks. Everyone here has had an opportunity to study it and look at it. I do not know how long we have to look at a budget to decide whether we want it or do not want it.

The gentleman stated that Governor Fine in his budget message said Governor Duff had a surplus of $63 million at the start of the 1949-51 biennium. That is perfectly true. There is an answer for that. Approximately $19 million were collected over our estimate. When you take this and add this to $42 million in Governor Duff's Message the result is approximately $61 million.

In addition, there were $2 million more in estimated lapses from various Departments, making a total of $63 million plus in actual surplus. Governor Duff was in no position to know at the time that $19 million more would come in during the biennium of 1947 and 1949. He did not anticipate that this surplus would come back.

On February 19th the gentleman made a statement that there was a $960 thousand balance. Again that is perfectly true. That was in February of 1949, when he made that prediction. Two years later the prediction was changed to $10 million. That is not a whole lot. It is only one percent off on our entire budget, and there was a two year interim.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, might I ask the Majority Leader to say where the $16 million in deficiency appropriations come from, because that is in addition to the $10 million, is it not?

Mr. SMITH. That was true, Mr. Speaker, but there were lapses in this biennium that accounted for most of that.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, lapses that accounted for the $16 million?

Mr. SMITH. There were $20 million in lapses.

Mr. ANDREWS. I do not want to get into a discussion at this time on the side, but most of the lapses went for the $25 million that went to public assistance.

Mr. SMITH. I believe, Mr. Speaker, that some of those lapses, if the gentleman will check, went into the $16 million deficiency and the $10 million surplus.

Mr. SMITH. We are talking now about a budget. I would like to remind the gentleman of a few facts about the budget and I think all of us should really consider this. A budget is an estimate. It is a forecast of future needs. We have to consider that when we talk budget. We have to keep in mind that a budget is not a book-keeping method, because it does not deal in actualities. Bookkeeping deals in actualities. Budgeting deals in forecasting for the future.

I cannot see that our Budget Director has been too far wrong, as I stated before. In fact, I agree with him. It is pretty difficult, and the gentleman on the other side has made this admission, that we should have annual sessions making it more feasible to work on a budget on an annual basis rather than a biennium. I agree with him on that. I think he should realize how difficult it is to forecast two years in the future. When a budget is made up, we have to consider business booms, we have to consider depressions, we have to consider strikes, and we have to consider normal times. That is a pretty difficult thing to do on a two year basis in advance.

I am quite sure that if he were a sage and if he could look into a glass ball and predict exactly what was going to happen, I do not believe he would be working for us here in the state. I know if I could do that, and I am quite sure that if the gentleman on the other side of the House could do it, we could make a lot of money in the stock market by telling where the depressions were going to be; where the booms were going to be.

Then, as I have said before, and I am not going to repeat, his estimate of 1949 in February was really only one-tenth of one percent off. I say that is mighty good budgeting. I wish I could do as well in my own household. I believe that the Members of this House wish they could do as well, or that their wives could do as well; because I even have difficulty at the end of the week making my little budget stretch. I am reminded that I owe some more money that I did not figure out on Monday, and on Thursday I do owe it for some reason. So, if a man can hit it within one-tenth of one percent, I think he is a good director; I think he knows what he is talking about.

The gentleman also stated, I think, that on March 21st if I remember correctly, we needed $160 million of new taxes. I do not think there has been a lot of changes since March 21st. In fact, I am going to predict that he was a pretty good forecaster, because we are now needing $163 million in new taxes.

I am sure we have faith in our Appropriations Committee. I am sure that all of us have had in the past. I am sure when the gentleman considers this budget he would not agree to cut the major portions of it. One of those major portions is public education. Forty-three percent of our entire general fund goes to teachers and to public education. Public Health and Welfare are 33 percent of the money in the budget.

On administration alone, and I would like to impress this on everyone in this House, only $71 million is asked for the next two years. That is 8 percent of our general fund. There is no way to cut appropriations to the schools; there is no way to cut them to Public Health and Sanitation. I am sure that if we took our entire $71 million away from our administration and fired everyone in the Capitol, we would not save enough money so that we would not need new taxes.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, very briefly I want to inquire if the Majority Leader knows whether in the budget now before us there is any provision for salary and wage increases, other than the salary and wage increases that have been made during the current biennium, and if those wage increases or salary increases are in the budget, where am I to find them?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, there are some provisions for the increases that have been given. I think the gentleman will agree on that. I can agree with him that at this stage there is no appropriation, but the Governor has stated that if there are to be any salary increases they are to be taken care of from economies in the Departments, and in doing that we hope to save the people of this Commonwealth any increases that would be forced upon us. He feels that possibly, and he feels truly, that if economies are observed wage increases can come out of the Departments themselves.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to make one final statement and I promise the House that as far as the discussion tonight is concerned on this topic, this will be the final statement. I am of the impression that if this administration desires to make payroll economies, it cannot do it by continuing the practice of establishing two pay-rolls, a Fine pay-roll and an Owlett pay-roll.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on _____ for the purpose of further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Robertson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ROBERTSON. I shall.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, will you please tell me the purpose for the recommitment of this bill?

Mr. ROBERTSON. I will, Mr. Speaker. This bill is an exact duplicate of House Bill 139 which passed the Senate and the House in 1941, was vetoed by Governor James. It was an unconstitutional bill then and it is still an unconstitutional bill.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Robertson.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Delaware being a member of the legal profession, I would ask him in what way this bill which he states was passed in 1941, was unconstitutional.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, the bill was unconstitutional due to the fact that it was an amendment to the Justice of the Peace Act and attempted, by amendment, to give power to Magistrates and Aldermen, which is different than the title of the Act.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Robertson, you are a member on the Committee on Judiciary.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, that is correct.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, this bill was discussed within that Committee, was it not?

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, as far as I know, it was. I was under the impression that any discussion in Committee is not for discussion on this floor.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, is it not a fact that the desire to recommit this bill is for further discussion in the Committee, is that correct?

Mr. ROBERTSON. That is correct.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was before the Committee, did anyone at that time raise any question as to the constitutionality of this bill.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, my answer is still the same in regard to the discussion in Committee. I believe the only one that can answer that is the Chairman of the Committee.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, this bill is identical with a bill that was introduced by me in the session of 1949, which bill received the favorable recommendation of the Committee, was reported out on the floor, reached second reading and then by motion was recommitted and there it died.

Now as to this bill, there is an endeavor to put this bill in the same position as it was two years ago. This bill was before the Committee on Judiciary; was very, very seriously considered by the Committee and I do not think that I in any way abused my membership on that committee by stating on this floor that there was an endeavor to place this bill in sub-committee and that after due argument the bill not only was not sent to sub-committee, but a great majority of the Committee voted to report it out on the floor.

At no time during the discussion before the Committee was there ever any question raised as to the constitutionality of the bill.

Now this bill, I do not dare speak upon its merits, but I will say this, does things that a lot of people on the floor of this House do not understand. Otherwise, they would not support such a motion. I ask the gentleman, as a member of the bar, as a member of the Committee on Judiciary and as the sponsor of this bill in two sessions to permit this bill to remain on the floor and let the question of constitutionality be argued here when it comes up for final passage tomorrow.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I do not desire to discuss the merits of the motion nor the merits of the bill, but since the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Robertson has suggested that there is a question as to its constitutionality in that the effect of the bill is different from that proposed or expounded in its title, may I suggest that we not act on this motion now, but that an amendment be offered tomorrow or some other time that will meet the objections of the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Robertson.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Schmidt and Mr. Kamyk and were as follows:

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Corporations for further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, this bill evidently needs more study than has yet been accorded it. It is my considered opinion that the Committee that reported the bill has not given consideration to all of its possibilities. I am sure that the Committee that reported the bill did not want to cause housing projects in the state of Pennsylvania to cease and terminate. I think the bill deserves more consideration and therefor move that it be recommitted.

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose this motion. The gentleman on the other side of the House has long sponsored home-rule legislation. There is absolutely nothing in this bill that the gentleman should be afraid of. This is definitely a home-rule proposition. I know that the gentlemen around me have certain extracurricular activities to which they would like to proceed. A great many people here have aroused a great thirst which they would like to slake forthwith. I am sorry that gentleman asked for a roll-call. I would accept a voice vote. But, if the gentleman wants a roll-call he may have it. I oppose the motion.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am quite confident that this House has no desire to inaugurate a rule of thirst to govern its activities. Perhaps thirst caused a cessation of activities upon the part of some of those who are reporting this bill, and very frankly we will have a record vote on the matter of recommitment which may or may not be equivalent to a vote on its final passage.

On the question recurring

Will the House agree to the motion?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McNALLY. Mr. Speaker. I believe every member of the House received a letter this morning from the Izaak Walton League of America, Pittsburgh Chapter. This letter proposed that the members of this organization are opposed to this bill. This is why I am taking this matter up and I would like to have this letter on the record. The letter reads as follows:

"Dear Sir:

"The Officers of the Pittsburgh Chapter of the Izaak Walton League of America have directed me to convey to you our extreme aversion to House Bill No. 18.

"As you well know, all the funds available to either the Fish or Game Commissions of the Commonwealth are derived from the license fees paid by the Sportsmen of this State or from other activities of the Commissions directly connected with law enforcement or management of game lands making these Commissions self supporting.

"We are reminding you at this time that the Organized Sportsmen of Pennsylvania, have consistently expressed the desire to have only the Game and Fish Commission manage these funds and perform their other duties.

"This organization which is directly affiliated with the Izaak Walton League of America now wishes to add its voice and concur in the opinion of such organizations as the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen Clubs, its affiliated clubs, and the Allegheny County Sportsmen's League of this County, and hereby respectfully request that House Bill No. 18 be defeated.

"Moreover, we feel that we can give additional reasons to substantiate our position. The Fish and Game Commissions are Administrative Agencies of the Executive Branch of the Commonwealth whose functions may be prescribed by the Legislature but as such should be free of legislative participation and possible coercion. It is believed that this legal position would be upheld by the Courts.

"This communication has been directed to all members of the Game and Forestry Committee and it is requested that you, or one of the other members of the Committee read this communication into the legislative record before final action is taken on this vicious piece of Legislation."

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am not speaking for and on behalf of the minority Members. I am only speaking for and on behalf of myself.

I am opposed to this bill in its present form. I was opposed to it when it first appeared on the calendar and was not subject to amendment. The Sportsmen's organizations seem to be opposed to this bill but that is not the reason I am opposed to it.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, I will vote "no" on this bill inasmuch as it appears to me that there is a constitutional question. Although we as Members of the House may like to see our Members of this House and members of the Senate a part of certain commissions or agencies of the Commonwealth, thereby flattering or increasing our own power, yet there is a constitution and I believe that we should maintain the letter of the law as a matter of principle.

I believe that this type of legislation in principle runs contrary to Section 6 of Article II of the Constitution.

"No Senator or Representative shall, during the time for which he shall have been elected, be appointed to any civil office under this Commonwealth"

On constitutional grounds I shall vote "no." I believe it is a bad precedent. Of course, whether we have done this before in reference to other commissions or bodies in this House, I do not know because I was not present as a Member when certain other commissions were established. However, at this time I will insist personally and I believe the Members of the House looking into this question would have to agree that this type of legislation is dangerous and that we should maintain the powers of the House and Executive department separate. That is all.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, I do not wish to delay this session this evening very long, but I would like to interrogate the Minority Leader, Mr. Andrews.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ANDREWS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Andrews, you recall that this bill was up for discussion at the session of 1949?

Mr. ANDREWS. I presume it was. I do not know whether I recall the discussion or not.

Mr. McMILLEN. Well, Mr. Speaker, that is all of Mr. Andrews.

Mr. Speaker, I want to read from the Legislative Journal what the gentleman had to say about this bill in the 1949 session.

After some discussion by various Members of the House, Mr. Andrews got up and addressed the Chair like this:

"Mr. Speaker, I had not expected that such a basic and fundamental issue would be raised at this time. I, however, welcome the raising of it.

"We have witnessed during recent years in the nation and in the state a gradual accretion of power in the hands of the Chief Executives, a gradual accretion of power in the hands of the State Departments, or gradual accretion of power in the hands of boards, commissions and what have you. We have reached the point where boards and commissions are having entrusted to them certain functions by this Legislature, and then proceed after we have left the halls of this House, to in fact set themselves up as legislators and legislate and promulgate rules that have the force of law. Then, Mr. Speaker, we come here and find that these boards, these commission, these departments that have had two years to think about what they were trying to do or what they wanted to do, some to you and deluge this chamber with bills in the interest of the entrenched bureaucracy."

Has the question changed a bit from that time to this? He goes on to say then, Mr. Speaker:

"So, I say, Mr. Speaker, by means of the approach in this bill it is simply the beginning of a process to recover for and on behalf of the legislative branch of our government that power which the legislative branch has permitted to slip out of its hands. So serious has the situation become, as you well know, that after protracted discussion in the State Government Commission, there has appeared in the session a bill which would absolutely give the power to the legislative groups to sit in with these boards and commissions, to see what they are doing and call a check on them, if they are abusing the power the Legislature as entrusted in their hands.

"Mr. Speaker, one of the reasons that government is so expensive, that payrolls are so expensive, that there is so much waste is because there is no possibility for this House to keep its eye on what is going on. I say to you that the Members of this House realize that there are 700 empty beds for tubercular patients in this state and that patients that should be in the hospitals are not there."

And he says:

"Mr. Speaker, I am very sorry to disagree with the philosophy of the gentleman from Allegheny, but I am in disagreement and I am strongly in favor of the approach that this bill presents because it is a means of regaining the legislative power which we have permitted to slip from our hands."

There is the gentleman's argument of two years ago. I wonder what the change is all about. The situation has not changed one bit as far as boards and commissions are concerned, and I want to make it absolutely clear right here that I have no fight nor quarrel with any particular board or commission in this state. The only quarrel I have with any of them is that we are the ones that have to come in here every two years, levy the taxes and take the money away from the people to have these boards operate. We, therefore, have a right to know, we have a right to take time to sit in on these boards and commissions in order that we may come here and do a better job for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Now I am interested, Mr. Speaker, in the letter that was read from the Isaac Walton League of America, defenders of soil, woods, water and wild life. Certainly I know about these things. I would just like to ask the gentleman who read that letter into the record if he will permit himself to be interrogated.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McNally, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McNALLY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McMILLEN. Do you personally know Grace A. Beech, who wrote it?

Mr. McNALLY. I do not.

Mr. McMILLEN. Do you know where she works?

Mr. McNALLY. I do not.

Mr. McMILLEN. Do you know for whom she works?

Mr. McNALLY. According to her signature, she works for the Press, that is all I know about it.

Mr. McMILLEN. All right, thanks.

Mr. Speaker, I am passing this on for what it is worth. Some very reliable sources handed information to me very recently, since these letters came in, and I am passing it on as information that was given to me. I do not know the woman. I do not know for whom she works, but I am informed that she is the secretary to the present President of the Game Commission. It was a rather interesting revelation to me. Does anybody else want to answer that. I do not know the woman.

The thing is, Mr. Speaker, this bill has been misrepresented to the average sportsman, the average man or woman buying a license. An article in yesterday's paper appeared in Pittsburgh stating the fact that it would be a very nice thing for a Member of this House to have an appointment, say to the Game Commission or the Fish Commission. They could go on a fishing jaunt in the eastern part of the state and then turn around and go to the western end on a fishing jaunt at the expense of the sportsmen. I guarantee, Mr. Speaker, that that is impossible. It could not be worked. The writer of that article did either one of two things; he absolutely disregarded and had no desire to abide by the truth and the facts in the case, or he does not know the operation of these boards and commissions about which he is writing.

These meetings are called to order by the President, usually on a monthly schedule and at only regularly stated and called meetings would the members of the board appear, and only for those meetings of a board or commission would a man appear and then be paid for his mileage or traveling expense, which any event would not exceed possibly $25 for his day's work.

It is a gross misrepresentation. It is a direct attack to mislead the thinking on the part of the sportsmen of this Commonwealth. They come in to us, the members of the Game Commission, the Fish Commission and all these other Commissions, they want pension funds, retirement, and so forth; but do they go out and tell the sportsmen the actual facts of the case? Do they tell them how many dollars it is going to take out of their pockets? Let us get this thing out in the open where we can see it.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I think that is enough said on the subject unless somebody wants to carry it farther.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I most distinctly want to carry it farther. In reading what I said upon another occasion, the record shows that I spoke repeatedly on commissions that spend the taxpayers' money. We have quite a number of those commissions. I spoke of Departments that spent the taxpayers' money. I said I thought I should know something about it. I said the bill he is talking about was an approach to what I considered a proper line of procedure—an approach. I find that the approach did not lead anywhere.

We have selected the one or two agencies that contribute all the money. They are not handling taxpayers' money. That is our job, to watch the taxpayers' money. The sportsmen and the fishermen are handling their own money and it is an entirely different proposition.

The gentleman from Indiana evidently does not agree with the Game and Fish Commissions. I do not know what they did to him or what they did not do; but he evidently has a rod in pickle for them. Well, that is a matter not for the gentleman from Indiana but a matter for the sportsmen of this state. I think there is a way of choosing the board.

I also object to the gentleman's political approach. If he wants to set up the board under the Governor without proper mandatory legislation give him the proper balance in the viewing group that he suggests.

Now if he is building a political machine, if he has visions of political progress that this victory may win, he is going about it in the right fashion. I am not interested in his quarrels with the Fish Commission or with the Game Commission or with the man that is administering their affairs. I am not interested in that in the least.

If his bill was to observe the Department of Forest and Waters that does spend taxpayers' money, that would be an entirely different proposal. And so because he is so frankly and so crassly and so insistently bent upon having his viewers predominantly of one party, I must question the holiness, the sanctity of his intentions, and I must register my revised opinion that if we are going to get this kind of legislation we start with boards and commissions and departments that are spending taxpayers' money and do not start to build a political machine here in the Legislature to watch a group that contributes all the money themselves.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman wants to air his gripe with the Department of Forests and Waters by amending it into the bill, it is perfectly all right with me. It is a well known fact that the gentleman does have a quarrel with the Department of Forest and Waters, but I defy anybody to find a quarrel that I have with the Game and Fish Commission. The gentleman has expressed his quarrel with the Department of Forest and Waters on several occasions publicly, in the newspapers and on the floor of the House.

I have never been mistreated by any member of the Game Commission or the Fish Commission. I have no quarrel with them, except that I think when we get better legislation we can have a better understanding of the problems that confront them, because I know of no thing, no one issue in the state on which there is more disagreement than on wild life, fish and forestry and all those allied subjects. So the Members of the Legislature should have closer contact with this issue.

I know the gentleman subscribes to the two party system of government; he has never deviated from that that I know of. At least he has never passed up an opportunity to criticize the majority party. And I subscribe to the two party system, Mr. Speaker, and if that is politics, then let it be politics. Let us face the facts.

The question may come before this House sometime when there will be more Democrats than Republicans—I have seen it that way. There may be a Democrat in the Governor's chair—God forbid, of course; but it could happen. In that event, Mr. Speaker, it is the prerogative of the Governor then to make the appointments, and I am certain that should that disastrous calamity occur to us in the Commonwealth, that even he, the Democratic Governor of this Commonwealth, would be considerate of the minority and give them representation just the same as Republican Governors now give the Democrats minority representation in all of these appointments that they have.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, I just want to correct one misstatement of facts that was read into the record by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McNally.

He stated in a letter that he read that the organized sportsmen of Pennsylvania are directly affiliated with the Isaac Walton League of America. I happen to be a member of both organizations and I am absolutely sure that the one organization by its constitution does not permit affiliation as to the other organization.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

NOT VOTING—25

McKinney,	Thompson, R. L.,	Verona,	Yetzer,
Muldowney,

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 62, as follows:

An Act relating to the examination detention hearing commitment care treatment rehabilitation probation and discharge of any person who is not insane but who suffers from such conditions of emotional instability or of impulsiveness or behavior or who lacks the customary standards of judgment self-control and discretion or who fails to appreciate the consequences of his acts or who combines any one or more of such conditions so as to render such person irresponsible and thereby dangerous to himself or to others imposing certain duties on district attorneys courts and the Department of Welfare in respect thereto payment of maintenance costs and reimbursement in such cases

Section 1 Definitions The following words terms and phrases as used in this act shall have the meanings herein assigned to them unless the context clearly indicates otherwise

(1) "Person" means any person who is not insane but who suffers from such conditions of emotional instability or impulsiveness of behavior or lack of customary standards of good judgment self-control and discretion or who fails to appreciate the consequences of his acts or who combines any one or more of such conditions as to render such person irresponsible and thereby dangerous to himself and to others

(2) "Majority of the board of psychiatrists" means at least two (2) members of the board of psychiatrists

(3) "Court" means any court of record having jurisdiction to hear and determine criminal charges and any court having jurisdiction of juvenile delinquents

Section 2 When Charged with Criminal Acts Whenever a person is charged with one or more criminal acts and the district attorney believes that such a person has evidenced conditions as described in subsection one of section one hereof he shall prepare and file a petition with the court of the county having jurisdiction over the offense charged requesting said court to conduct an inquiry into the conditions of such person Where such person is under eighteen years of age the petition shall be filed with the court having jurisdiction of juveniles

Section 3 Examination (a) The court with which the petition described in section two of this act was filed shall appoint a board of psychiatrists composed of not less than two or more than three psychiatrists each of whom shall be a qualified physician who has directed his professional practice primarily to the diagnosis and treatment of mental and nervous disorders for a period of not less than five years and at least one of whom shall be attached to a court psychiatric clinic or to the medical staff of a State mental hospital to examine any such person to ascertain whether the person suffers from the conditions defined in section one subsection (1) of this act

(b) The psychiatrists so appointed shall file with that court a written report of the result of their examination together with their opinions conclusions and recommendations A certified copy of this report shall be served upon such person within three (3) days after the filing thereof with the court

Section 4 Hearing (a) If the majority of the board of psychiatrists find that such person suffers from conditions defined in section one subsection (1) the court shall conduct a hearing thereon within thirty (30) days after receipt of the report which report shall be admissible as evidence The court may in proper cases exclude the general public from attendance at such hearings There shall be no jury at this hearing Such person shall be entitled to have subpoenas issued out of the court to compel the attendance of witnesses in his behalf have the right to counsel to act on his behalf

(b) The psychiatrists who made the examination may be present at the hearing and may be called on to testify as to the result of their examination and to any other pertinent facts within their knowledge The district attorney shall appear for the board of psychiatrists and cause witnesses to be subpoenaed if necessary in support of the report

(c) Upon such hearing it shall be competent to introduce evidence of the commission by such person of any number of crimes previously committed by such person together with any action taken in the way of punishment or otherwise

(d) The proceedings shall be reported by an official court stenographer shall be reduced to writing and shall be part of the records of the court

(e) The court shall make an order determining whether or not such person requires treatment care supervision guidance or control From such order any such person has the right of appeal to the Superior Court of this Commonwealth

(f) If the majority of the board of psychiatrists find that such person does not suffer from any of the conditions defined in section one subsection (1) or if after hearing the court shall determine that such person does not require treatment care supervision guidance or control then in either event such person shall be held to abide the final determination of the criminal proceedings pending against such person

Section 5 Commitment (a) Any such person determined by the Court to suffer from such conditions as defined in section one subsection (1) shall either be committed to the State Department of Welfare to be confined in an appropriate mental (psychiatric) hospital designated by the said Department of Welfare which department shall make adequate provisions to house and treat such persons at such hospital in separate wards wings or buildings for the care and treatment of persons similarly afflicted or at the discretion of the court such person shall be placed on probation under such supervision and conditions as the court taking into consideration such person's condition deems advisable

(b) The Department of Welfare or the individual under whose supervision any such person has been placed on probation shall make or cause to be made periodic examinations of any such person so committed or placed on probation with the view to determining the progress of cure if any and shall in an annual report submitted to the court give a medical and psychiatric finding on each such person These reports in each person's case shall not be destroyed sooner than six years after a final determination by the court of the recovery of said person as provided in section six of this act

Section 6 Discharge (a) If such person has been committed to the State Department of Welfare whenever thereafter it determines that such person has recovered or that his condition has improved to such an extent that he will not be dangerous to himself or others the department shall recommend to the committing court that such person be discharged and shall send to said court a complete record of the case if such person has been placed on probation the individual under whose supervision he has been placed whenever said individual should determine that such person has recovered or that his condition has improved to such an extent that he will not be dangerous to himself or to others said individual shall recommend to the committing court that such person be released from probation

(b) The court shall hold a hearing after receiving such recommendation notice of which shall be given by registered mail to the district attorney and to the person proceeded against at least fifteen (15) days prior thereto At such hearing upon motion presented by the district attorney or the individual who executed and verified the petition the testimony of a board of psychiatrists appointed by the court subject to the same qualifications and conditions of appointment as hereinbefore provided shall be heard After such hearing if the court shall find that such person is no longer dangerous to himself or to others it shall order his discharge but if the court shall find that such person remains dangerous to himself or to others it shall order such person to be returned to custody to be held under the provisions of his original commitment subject to such modifications as the court shall deem proper. At said hearing such person shall be entitled to subpoenas and counsel as set forth in section four subsection (a) of this act.

(c) Any proceedings held under the provisions of this act shall not be admissible in any subsequent trial for such person for any crime.

Section 7 Temporary Confinement On the receipt by a court of the petition to initiate proceedings pursuant to section two of this act the judge thereof may if in his opinion the public safety so requires deliver to the sheriff a written order requiring him forthwith to take and confine such person in some specified place until the proceedings provided for in sections three and four inclusive of this act can be had or until further order.

Section 8 Payment for Maintenance Costs and Reimbursement The county from which any such person is committed shall pay the cost of maintenance of such person during his commitment and the costs of the proceedings instituted under this act including the fees of the psychiatrists in such amount as may be approved by the court but said county shall be reimbursed out of such person's estate or if he be indigent by the county of his legal residence.

Section 9 Severability The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions shall be held unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction the decision of such court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions. It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included therein.

Section 10 Repeal All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Section 11 Effective Date The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 80, Printer's No. 118 was passed over at the request of Mr. DALRYMPLE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 220, as follows:

An Act to reenact and amend the title of and the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1661) entitled "An act to impose a temporary tax on real estate for public school purposes in school districts of the first class for current expenses" by continuing the provisions thereof for the year one thousand nine hundred fifty-two and succeeding years and deleting certain obsolete provisions. The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 1 The title of and the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1661) entitled "An act to impose a temporary tax on real estate for public school purposes in school districts of the first class for current expenses" are hereby reenacted and amended to read as follows:

An Act

To impose a [temporary] tax on real estate for public school purposes in school districts of the first class for current expenses.

Section 1 The Board of Public Education in school districts of the first class shall levy annually on or after the second Monday of November and before the first Monday of December next following a tax of one mill (.001) on each dollar of the total assessment of all real property assessed and certified for taxation in said district.

Section 2 The taxes and penalties collected under the provisions of this act shall be used by such school district for general public school purposes.

Section 3 The tax authorized to be levied under the provisions of this act shall be in addition to any other taxes any school district of the first class is empowered to levy and collect under any existing

Section 4 The taxes which are levied under the provision this act shall be collected at the same time in the same manner like authority and subject to the same discounts and penalties as real estate taxes for school purposes are collected.

[Section 5 The provisions of this act shall apply only to school districts of the first class having a population of 1,500,000 or more persons. If any act reclassifying school districts is passed by the General Assembly during the session of one thousand nine hundred forty-nine the provisions of this act shall apply only to school districts of the first class under such classification and not to school districts of the first class.]

Section 6 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment and shall expire on the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred fifty-one.

Section 2 The provisions of this reenacting and amending act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I do not rise to oppose this bill I am going to vote on it, but I again want to call the attention of the Members of this House to the manner in which the Board of Education of Philadelphia has been compelled to come here each session like beggars, hat in hand, asking for assistance so they could properly raise sufficient funds to carry out the excellent program that they have been attempting to carry out in Philadelphia.

We in Philadelphia have been contributing a large amount of taxes that go into the general fund, and yet when the allocations are made to the school districts we have been short handed, and I just want to protest at this time the steps being taken by the administration in dealing with the Board of Education of Philadelphia. I feel that the making of these tax measures permanent might be criticized, and we would like to have some better program carried out so that Philadelphia could properly carry out its school functions without the necessity of coming here constantly seeking this sort of aid.

We do want to say that we in Philadelphia feel that in so far as State contributions to school funds are concerned we have been short changed and we feel that in the future we should be given a better deal.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Section 4 Listing Date The board shall on or before the fifteenth day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty and annually thereafter fix a day as of which the property made taxable by this act shall be listed and returned The day so fixed shall be between the first and the fifteenth days of the month of January both inclusive and the day so fixed shall be printed or stamped on the forms for making returns of all such property If through inadvertence mistake or otherwise the board fails to designate or fix such date or if such date does not appear on the form for making return of such property the date as of which such property shall be listed and returned shall be the immediately preceding first day of January

Section 5 Payment of the Tax The tax imposed by this act shall be due and payable at the same time and subject to the same conditions as to discounts penalties and interest as in the case of personal property taxes due and payable to the county or city coextensive with the county in which the school district of the first class levying the tax is located

Section 6 Collection and Use of Tax Compensation of Collector All taxes penalties and fines imposed under the provisions of this act shall be paid to and collected by the receiver of school taxes or in school districts in which there is no receiver of school taxes by the school treasurer Such moneys shall be collected by such collecting officials in the same manner as the personal property taxes for county purposes or in cities coextensive with counties for city and county purposes are collected There shall be paid to the school treasurer for the services rendered by him in collecting the tax an amount to be mutually agreed upon between the school treasurer and the board of public education

Section 7 Assessment by the Board Notice (a) If any taxable resident shall fail to file a return or fail to include in any return all of his property made taxable by this act or shall file a return which is false incomplete incorrect or inaccurate the board shall make an assessment of tax against such resident of the amount of the tax for which such resident is liable or for which he is believed by the board to be liable to which estimated return the board shall add twelve per cent (12%) and the aggregate amount so obtained shall be the basis for taxation

(b) The board shall notify by mail such resident of the estimated assessment If such resident is dissatisfied with the assessment so made he may on or before the day fixed for appeals from assessments present reasons supported by oath or affirmation for his failure to file a return to include all of his taxable property therein or for having made a return which was incomplete incorrect or inaccurate and the board may if satisfied with the excuse so presented permit the taxpayer to file his own return and substitute said return for the estimated return made by the board. In all cases where a false return has been filed by the taxpayer the board may not relieve the taxpayer from the payment of the twelve per cent (12%) penalty but the estimated return shall be final except in those cases in which a true and correct return shall reveal a higher assessed value than that contained in the estimated return in which case the tax and penalty shall be based upon the true valuation.

Section 8 Assessments Made at Any Time Within Five Years. An assessment as herein provided may be made by the board at any time within five (5) years after any property owned held or possessed or alleged to have been so owned held or possessed by any resident should have been returned by him for taxation notwithstanding he shall have paid a tax assessed on the basis of returns previously made or filed and notwithstanding the board shall have made previous assessments against such resident. In any such case no credit shall be given for any penalty formerly assessed and paid.

Section 9 Petition for Reassessment Appeal (a) Any resident against whom an assessment is made may petition the board for a reassessment. Notice of an intention to file such a petition or to appear and be heard shall be given to the board within thirty (30) days after notice of such assessment is given or sent by the board to the taxpayer as provided in this act. The board shall hold such hearings as may be necessary to hear and determine petitions for reassessment at such places and at such times as may be determined by rules and regulations of the board and each petitioner who has duly notified the board of an intention to file a petition for reassessment or to appear and be heard shall be notified by the board of the time when and the place where such hearings shall be held. All such petitions shall set forth specifically and in detail the grounds upon which it is claimed the assessment is erroneous or unlawful and shall be accompanied by an affidavit under oath or affirmation certifying to the corrections of the facts stated therein. If no petition for reassessment is filed with the board the petitioner may in lieu thereof appear at the hearing and present his petition orally in which event all testimony or statements of facts shall be made under oath or affirmation.

(b) If such petitioner is dissatisfied with the action of the board on his petition for reassessment he shall have the right to appeal to the court of common pleas of the county where he resides at any time within sixty (60) days after notice of such action is given to him by the board. If any resident shall fail to give due notice of an intention to petition for reassessment and to file a petition for reassessment or to appear and be heard after due notice of his intention to do so or to appeal to the court of common pleas within the time and in the manner herein set forth the right to do so shall be forever barred and any such resident so failing shall not thereafter be permitted in a suit for the recovery of such tax to set up any ground of defense which might have been determined either by the board or the court of common pleas. In all cases of petition for reassessment and appeals the burden of proof shall be on the petitioner or appellant as the case may be and every appeal to the court of common pleas under this section shall specify all the objections to the assessment and any objection not specified in the appeal shall not be considered by the court.

Section 10 Information at Source Reports. The executor of every will and the administrator of every estate at the time of filing with the register of wills or clerk of the orphans' court the inventory and appraisal of such estate shall file with such register of wills or clerk of the orphans' court a statement in duplicate under oath or affirmation setting for the items included in such inventory and appraisal which may be liable to the tax imposed by this act. The register or clerk with whom the same is filed shall forthwith send one copy thereof to the board. It shall be the duty of the board to proceed at once to assess the tax due from such decedent with interest as provided in this act. Such assessment shall include all property owned held or possessed by the decedent which should have been returned by him for taxation for any former year or years not exceeding five (5) years. In any case where a false incomplete incorrect or inaccurate return has been previously filed the board shall make an additional assessment for the five (5) years immediately preceding the year of assessment in the same manner as otherwise provided in this act. The school district levying the tax may proceed to collect the said tax by presenting a claim therefor to the orphans' court of the proper county or may proceed by action or suit at law in any court of competent jurisdiction or take any and all other appropriate steps or procedure for the collection of such taxes.

Section 11 Examination of Books and Witnesses Rules and Regulations (a) The board or any employee authorized in writing by it is hereby authorized to examine the books papers and records of any resident in order to verify the accuracy of any return made or if not return was made to ascertain and assess the tax imposed by this act. Every such resident is hereby directed and required to give to the board or its duly authorized employee the means facilities and opportunity for such examinations and investigations as are hereby provided and authorized. The board is hereby authorized to examine any person under oath concerning any property which was or should have been returned for taxation and to this end may compel the production of books papers and records and the attendance of all persons whether as parties or witnesses whom it believes have knowledge of such property. In the event of the refusal of any taxpayer to permit the examination of his books and records or upon his refusal to appear before the board or to testify or in the event of his refusal to produce books papers and records which the board has directed to be produced the board may have recourse to the court of common pleas of said county which court shall upon cause shown direct the attendance of witnesses and the production of such books papers and records.

(b) The board is hereby authorized and empowered to prescribe adopt promulgate and enforce rules and regulations relating to any matter or thing pertaining to the administration and enforcement of the provisions of this act and the collection of the tax penalties and interest imposed by this act.

(c) The powers conferred by this act upon the board relating to the administration and enforcement of this act shall be in addition to but not exclusive of any other powers heretofore or hereafter conferred upon the said board by law.

Section 12 Compensation Employees (a) The members of the board and the receiver of school taxes and such of the assistants and employees thereof as the board and the receiver of school taxes shall respectively designate shall be paid by the school district for their services in the administration and enforcement of this act. Such compensation shall be in addition to any other salary or compensation each now or hereafter may be entitled to receive for any other duties performed or to be performed by him.

(b) Upon the respective recommendations of the board and the receiver of school taxes the board of public education shall appoint and fix the salaries which shall be paid by the school district of such other assistants and employees as the board and receiver of school taxes may respectively require to assist the board and the receiver of school taxes in the administration and enforcement of this act.

Section 13 Certified State to Board of Public Education and Collecting Officers. For the purpose of enabling the board of public education to levy the taxes imposed by this act for one thousand nine hundred fifty and for every year thereafter it shall be the duty of the board to furnish annually at the same time as it furnishes the valuation of real property to the boards of public education in school districts of the class and to the receiver of school taxes or in school districts in which there is no receiver of school taxes to the school treasurer an estimate of the total valuation of all personal property taxable for school purposes

Section 14 Interest Tax Liens and Claims (a) The tax imposed by this act shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum until paid

(b) The school district levying the tax may at any time transmit to the prothonotary of the county in which the school district levying the tax is located a certified record of taxes imposed under this act and the penalties and interest thereon. The record so transmitted shall contain the name of the taxpayer his address if known amount of tax penalty and interest due and the year during which said tax was payable and it shall be the duty of the prothonotary to enter and docket the same of record in the prothonotary's office in a docket which shall be designated "Personal Property Tax Lien Docket" and such tax lien shall be indexed as judgments are now indexed and shall be combined with liens arising from county or in cities coextensive with counties city and county personal property taxes. In no even shall the prothonotary be entitled to duplicate fees. All taxes imposed under this act together with penalties and interest thereon shall be a lien on the real estate of the taxpayer within the county until paid. After the same shall have been entered and docketed of record by the prothonotary all such liens shall have priority to and be fully paid and satisfied out of the proceeds of any judicial sale of said real estate before any other obligation judgment claim lien or estate with which the said real estate may become charged or for which it may become liable save and except only the costs of the sale and of the writ upon which it is made and the real estate taxes imposed or assessed upon said property. The lien of said tax shall continue for a period of five years from the date of entry and may be revived and continued in the manner now or hereafter provided for revival of judgments and it shall be lawful for a writ of scire facias to issue and be prosecuted to judgment in the manner in which such writs are now ordinarily employed

(c) Claims for taxes due under this act may be collected by action in assumpsit brought by the school district levying the tax against the taxpayer or may be presented at the audit of any estate in the orphans' court

Section 15 Penalties (a) It shall be unlawful for any person or persons copartnership unincorporated association limited partnership joint-stock association or corporation whatsoever in loaning money at interest to any person or persons whether such loans be secured by bond and mortgages or otherwise to require the person or persons borrowing the same to pay the tax imposed thereon by this act and in all cases where such tax shall have been paid by the borrower or borrowers the same shall be deemed and considered usury and subject to the laws governing the same

(b) Any person who shall wilfully and corruptly make a false and fraudulent return as aforesaid shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon [his or her] conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) or to undergo [an] imprisonment not exceeding two (2) years or both

(c) Any person who wilfully fails or refuses to file any report containing the information required by this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500) or to undergo an imprisonment for not more than six (6) months or both

(d) As used in this section the term "person" as applied to associations shall mean the partners or members thereof and as applied to corporations the officers thereof

[Section 16 Applicability and Related Matter (a) The provision of this act shall apply only to school districts of the first class having a population of 1,500,000 or more persons. If any act reclassifying school districts is passed by the General Assembly during the session of one thousand nine hundred forty-nine the provisions of this act and under such classification apply only to school districts of the first class and not to school districts of the first class A]

Section 17 Saving Clauses (a) Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to empower any school district of the first class to impose levy and collect the taxes hereby levied upon any personal property of any of the classes hereinbefore enumerated not within the power of the General Assembly under the Constitution of the United States

(b) If the tax or any portion of the tax imposed upon any of the personal property of any of the classes hereinbefore enumerated under the provisions of this act or if any exception of any personal property of any of the classes as hereinbefore enumerated from the imposition of the tax under the provisions of this act shall be held by any court of competent jurisdiction to be in violation of the Constitution of the United States or of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the decision shall not affect or impair the right to impose the taxes or the validity of the taxes so imposed upon the personal property of the other classes as hereinbefore enumerated or to impose the taxes on the personal property so excepted. It is the intent of the General Assembly that the taxes imposed or excepted so held to be unconstitutional were not to be imposed or excepted as the case may be but that the taxes imposed upon all other personal property made taxable under this act were to be imposed and that taxes on the personal property excepted were to be imposed thereon

(c) It is the intent of the General Assembly that the power vested in it to levy taxes shall not be delegated by any of the provisions of this act to any school district of the first class in violation of the provisions of the Constitution of Pennsylvania. If a court of competent jurisdiction shall hold that such power has nevertheless been so unconstitutionally delegated the rate of the tax herein imposed shall be four (4) mills on each dollar of the value of the personal property made taxable which rate the General Assembly under such circumstances intends to be imposed

Section 18 Repeal All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

[Section 19 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment and shall continue in effect until and including the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred fifty-one]

Section 2 The provisions of this reenacting and amending act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Discharge Leaves of Absence and Boarding Out of Patients

(a) Discharge

Section 601 Discharge by Trustees and Superintendents

(a) The trustees of any institution or the superintendent when given authority by the trustees may discharge any patient from the institution if in their or his opinion no harm will arise from the action. No patient shall be discharged until notice of the action has been given to the Department of Revenue. The following patients shall not be discharged:

(1) A patient under sentence for crime or charged with crime and acquitted on the ground of insanity without an order of the court in which he was sentenced or acquitted.

(2) A patient known to be homicidal or otherwise dangerous to be at large without examination by and consent of the department nor without a sufficient guarantee by the person liable for his support and care that the safety of the public or any individual will be safeguarded.

(3) A patient whose parent guardian or friend liable for his support opposes his discharge without notice to the parent guardian or friend and an opportunity to state his reasons.

(4) A mental defective or inebriate committed by order of court without the recommendation of the chief medical officer in charge and an order of the court. The provisions of this clause do not apply to a person discharged by lapse of time from leave of absence or escape or to an inebriate who has been under hospital care for one year.

(5) A mental defective who prior to his transfer to an institution for mental defectives has been arraigned and convicted or in custody on a criminal charge before he might have been discharged from the penal or correctional institution from which he was originally transferred to the institution for mental defectives.

Section 602 Return of Mental Defectives to Institution District

A mental defective forty-five years of age and over not having criminal tendencies and no longer requiring care in a school for mental defectives may be returned by the department upon recommendation of the superintendent and trustees to the institution district of the county to which he belongs. If committed by a court the consent of the court shall be obtained.

Section 603 Discharge by Department

The department may in its discretion order and compel the discharge from any institution of any patient except a criminal under sentence or a person charged with any crime and acquitted on the ground of insanity. Before issuing such order the department shall give due notice to the trustees or superintendent of the institution wherein the patient is under care and to the person at whose instance the said patient is detained and shall give reasonable opportunity to such trustees or superintendent and person to justify further detention of the said patient.

Section 604 Discharge by Order of Court

(a) Any court may order and compel the discharge of any patient committed by the court to any institution if upon hearing it appears that such discharge is for the best interest of the patient and not incompatible with the public welfare and safety.

(b) Before ordering a discharge the court shall require that notice of the application be given to the Department of Revenue.

(c) In making an order not in accordance with the expressed opinion of the superintendent of the institution the court shall set forth the reasons for its decision which reasons shall be part of the order. The order and reasons and the opinion of the superintendent shall be entered in the clinical record of the patient.

(d) The court may in its discretion admit in evidence the sworn statement of the superintendent or the physician in charge of the patient as to the condition of the patient without requiring the appearance and personal examination of the superintendent or physician.

Section 605 Discharge by Lapse of Time

(a) Any patient except a criminal under sentence or one charged with crime and acquitted on the ground of insanity who has been continuously absent with or without leave for a period of twelve months from the institution in which he was under care shall be deemed to be discharged therefrom and cannot be readmitted except as provided by this act for admission or commitment.

(b) The provisions of this section shall not apply to a mental defective who is on indefinite leave of absence when away from the institution. Unless formally discharged such mental defective may be returned to the institution without a new commitment.

(b) Leaves of Absence

Section 611 Leaves of Absence

(a) The superintendent of any institution in his direction may allow a leave of absence to any patient whose condition is such as to warrant the action for a period not exceeding twelve months and upon such conditions as he may prescribe not inconsistent with the provisions for discharge of patients as provided in this act.

(b) Leaves of absence may be terminated by the superintendent who may if necessary authorize the apprehension and return of the patient by any sheriff constable or police officer who shall apprehend and return the patient.

(c) Boarding Out

Section 616 Boarding Out of Patients

(a) The superintendent and the board of trustees of any State institution may by contract or otherwise arrange for the boarding out of committed patients who have no criminal suicidal or homicidal tendencies who are not addicted to the use of alcohol or narcotics and who in the opinion of the superintendent and board of trustees may be otherwise suitable. Such arrangements shall be made only with the approval of and subject to regulations prescribed by the department.

(b) Such patients shall be considered remaining inmates of the State institution and shall be considered as on parole subject to return should the condition of the patient or other circumstances in the opinion of the superintendent and the trustees make such return necessary.

(c) Subject to the approval of the department patients if physically and mentally able may earn the cost of their maintenance or a portion thereof by engaging in suitable employment.

Section 617 Colonies for Mental Defectives

(a) Whenever in the judgment of the superintendent and trustees of any State institution for mental defectives there is a group of patients in such institution of such a character that their interests and the interests of the Commonwealth would be better served through their colonization in a colony outside of the institution and if such a colony can be established without damage to private property or detriment to the public welfare these facts may be brought to the attention of the department.

(b) If the department approves it may authorize the superintendent with the approval of the trustees of the institution to establish a colony by the rental or purchase of suitable property

(c) The patients of the colony may be employed on and about the premises of the colony or under supervision by residents of the community. Strict account shall be kept by the treasurer of the institution of the cost of administration thereof of wages of the patients and any other direct compensation paid to them and of all financial transactions of the colony. The superintendent and the ment shall determine the wages of the patients the port-trustees of the institution with the approval of the department of the wages to be paid the Commonwealth as maintenance reimbursement the portion to be set aside for the benefit of the patients of the institution or colony and the portion to be paid the patient

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. I simply desire, Mr. Speaker, to inquire specifically as to whether there is any new legislation in this code, and, if there is, what the new legislation is. I simply want that as a matter of record.

Mr. TOOMEY. There are no new laws enacted in this bill. This is merely a codification, a simplifying and bringing the laws together, that is, the Mental Health Act of 1923. There are some of laws that go into it that are nearly a hundred years old.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 512, as follows:

An Act to further amend subsection (b) of Section 4 of and to add Section 36.1 to the act approved the twenty-fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1050) entitled "An act relating to the collection of taxes levied by counties county institution districts cities of the third class boroughs towns townships certain school districts and vocational school districts conferring powers and imposing duties on tax collectors courts and various officers of said political subdivisions and prescribing penalties" by requiring taxing districts to pay the premiums on corporate bonds of the tax collector in townships of the first class and further regulating the fixing of the compensation of elected tax collectors

Section 1 Subsection (b) of Section 4 of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1050) entitled "An act relating to the collection of taxes levied by counties county institution districts cities of the third class boroughs towns townships certain school districts and vocational school districts conferring powers and imposing duties on tax collectors courts and various officers of said political subdivisions and prescribing penalties" as amended by the act approved the fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 453) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 4 Bonds of Tax Collectors

(b) In boroughs towns and townships of the second class the elected tax collector shall be the collector of borough town or township taxes as the case may be and of county and institution school and vocational school district taxes He shall before he enters upon the duties of his office take and subscribe an oath of office and file the same in the office of the clerk of the court of quarter sessions of the county He shall enter into one surety bond to the Commonwealth for all taxes to be collected by him in an amount to be fixed by the court of quarter sessions of the county which amount shall never exceed the estimated amount of taxes charged in the duplicates to be delivered to him in one year Such bond may at the option of the tax collector be an annual bond or many cover the full term of office for which the tax collector shall have been elected Such bond shall have thereon at least two sufficient sureties or one bonding company and the sufficiency of the sureties on the bond shall be approved by the court of quarter sessions at any time prior to the delivery of a tax duplicate to the tax collector The bond shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the court of quarter sessions on or before the fifteenth day of March of the year in which the tax collector qualifies for office and annually thereafter except where the first bond given by the tax collector covers the full term of office for which he was elected Should any of the taxing districts be of the opinion at any time that the bond given by the tax collector is not sufficient in amount or as to the surety thereon the said taxing district may apply to the court by petition to have the tax collector furnish additional bond in the manner provided by this section Thereupon the tax collector shall furnish such additional bond if any as the court of quarter sessions may prescribe but not exceeding the limitations as to the amount hereinbefore prescribed [After the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred forty-nine]

(b.1) In boroughs towns and townships of the second class and after the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred fifty-three in townships of the first class where the surety on a tax collector's bond or on the bond of a township treasurer as tax collector is a bonding company the premium on the bond shall be paid by the respective taxing districts Each taxing district shall be liable to pay that percentage of the bond premium as the total taxes charged in the duplicate of the taxing district bears to the total taxes charged in the duplicate of all of the taxing districts In any case where a tax collector is required to furnish additional bond the premium on such additional bond shall be paid by the taxing district which petitioned the court for the additional bond Prior to the first day of January one thousand nine hundred [fifty] fifty-four where the surety on a tax collector's bond in a township of the first class is a bonding company any taxing district may pay its percentage of the bond premium as above provided

* * * * *

Section 2 Said act is hereby amended by adding thereto immediately following section 36 a new section to read as follows

Section 36.1 When any taxing district or taxing authorities propose to either raise or reduce the compensation or salary for the office of an elected tax collector such action shall be by ordinance or resolution finally passed or adopted at least ten days prior to the last day fixed by law for candidates to withdraw their names from nomination previous to the day of the municipal election

Section 3 All acts and parts of acts are hereby repealed in so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions of this act

Section 4 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 587, as follows:

An Act providing a method for the reestablishment of townships of the first class from any city to which they have been annexed regulating the proceedings pertaining thereto and reestablishing the same as separate school districts

Section 1 Reestablishment authorized within ten years after the annexation of a township of the first class to a city a petition may be presented to the Court of Quarter Sessions of the county wherein the whole or the greater portion of the territory of the former township is located for the reestablishment of the annexed territory as a township of the first class

Section 2 Petitions Petitions for the reestablishment of townships as provided in the preceding section shall be signed by registered electors equal in number to at least five per centum of the highest total vote cast within the former township of the first class boundaries for candidates for any office in the city affected at the last preceding municipal election Where candidates for any city office have as yet not been elected by the residents of such former township then a petition for the reestablishment of any such township may be signed by fifty of the registered electors of such former township Such petition shall be sworn to and subscribed by at least three of the signers

Such petitions shall set forth the name of the proposed township to be reestablished and shall specify the reasons for such reestablishment One such petition in each such proceeding shall be accompanied by an accurate map or plot prepared by an engineer showing the lines of the township to be reestablished Where natural marks are on such lines they shall be shown

Section 3 Confirmation Nisi of Petition Notice of Filing Upon the presentation of any such petition the same shall be confirmed nisi and the court shall by its order require that notice thereof be given by the petitioners to the residents of such former township and the city by advertisement once a week for three weeks in two newspapers in or circulated throughout the territory where such residents reside

Section 4 Exceptions Confirmation Absolute of Petition Within thirty days after the filing of such petition any taxpayer of the city affected may file exceptions to such petition questioning the sufficiency of the number of signers or the legality of any signatures or the accuracy or sufficiency of the map or plot attached thereto The court upon the filing of any exceptions shall fix a day for hearing of which such notice shall be given as the court may direct At such hearing the court shall hear all parties interested and their witnesses If the exceptions in the opinion of the court are sustained and the court deems the petition not amendable it shall dismiss the petition otherwise it shall confirm the same absolutely after any amendments permitted by the court have been made

Section 5 Elections When any petition is confirmed absolutely the court shall order an election to be held on the question of the reestablishment of such township which shall be held on the day of the next general or municipal election occurring at least ninety days after such order of court Such election shall be held at the regular polling places only within that part of the city which was formerly the township of the first class which was annexed to the city affected At any such election all of the registered electors of that part of the city which was the township of the first class prior to its annexation to said city affected shall have the right to vote The ballots or ballot labels at such election shall be furnished by the county commissioners and the question to be placed thereon shall be framed and printed on the ballots or on the ballot labels of voting machines as provided by the Pennsylvania Election Code

Section 6 Return of Election Decree The election officers of the consolidated territory or if they have not as yet been elected then the election officers of the former township after the polls have been closed shall count and certify the number of votes cast for and against such township reestablishment to the clerk of the court of quarter sessions who shall tabulate and compute the same and lay the result before the court If it shall appear that a majority of the votes cast in that part of the city which was the township of the first class prior to its annexation to said city affected are in favor of the reestablishment of the township the court shall order and decree the reestablishment of the township agreeably to the name and lines set forth in the petition and the government of the reestablished township shall be organized and become effective on the first Monday of January next succeeding such election If a majority of the votes cast in any such election are against the reestablishment of such township no further action shall be had upon said proceedings No new proceedings shall be entertained by the court for a period of two years

Section 7 Boundary Monuments The court may when deemed necessary cause the lines of any such reestablished township to be appropriately marked with stone monuments placed at intervals not exceeding fifteen hundred feet the cost thereof to be paid by the reestablished township

Section 8 Classification of Reestablished Townships Townships reestablished as herein provided shall be and remain townships of the first class unless and until by subsequent proceedings in accordance with law its classification shall be changed

Section 9 Costs When a township of the first class is reestablished as hereinbefore provided the costs of the proceedings shall be paid by such reestablished township and where any petition is dismissed or a majority of the electors shall vote against the reestablishment of any such township the costs of the proceedings shall be paid as the court may direct

erty vested in such township as of the date of its annexation to the city affected shall again be vested in such township as of the date of its reestablishment as a township. All bonded indebtedness of such township as of the date of its annexation shall be the debt of such township as of the date of its reestablishment as a township and the township shall not be liable for any part of the bonded indebtedness of such city existing prior to its annexation to such city. All unpaid taxes assessed and levied within such township during such annexation shall continue to be due until paid to the taxing authority of such city.

Section 11 Officers for Reestablished Townships Whenever a township of the first class shall be reestablished in accordance with the procedure in this act the court of quarter sessions shall divide such township into districts not in excess of fifteen nor less than two each of which shall contain not less than three hundred and fifty registered voters. The said court shall appoint five commissioners and the other elective officers to which a township of the first class is entitled and fix the polling place or places in such township. The officers so appointed shall hold their offices from the first Monday of January following the election reestablishing such township until the first Monday of January following the municipal election at which officers of the township are elected as hereinafter provided.

Section 12 Election of Commissioners in Reestablished Townships At the first municipal election following the reestablishment of a township as hereinbefore provided there shall be elected by the registered electors of each district of the township one township commissioner who shall reside in the district for which he is elected. At such election the township commissioners elected in even-numbered districts shall be elected for terms of two years each and those in odd-numbered districts for terms of four years each from the first Monday of January next following such election. The ballots or ballot labels at such election shall designate the term for which each commissioner is elected. Their successors shall be elected for terms of four years.

Section 13 Election of Treasurer in Reestablished Townships At such municipal election the qualified electors of such reestablished township shall elect a township treasurer for a two or four year term so that his term shall expire at the same time as the terms of treasurers of other townships of the first class as provided by law. Thereafter the term of treasurer of said township shall be four years from the first Monday of January next following his election.

Section 14 Election of Township Assessor and Assistant Township Assessor in Reestablished Townships At such municipal election one township assessor shall be elected for a term of four years and one assistant township assessor for a term of two years. Thereafter the terms of such township assessor and assistant township assessor shall be four years from the first Monday of January succeeding their respective elections.

This section shall not apply to townships in counties having county boards for the assessment and revision of taxes where assessors under existing laws are appointed.

Section 15 Certificate of Creation of Townships to State Departments Whenever a township of the first class is reestablished the clerk of the court shall certify such reestablishment to the Department of Internal Affairs and Department of Highways of the Commonwealth. The clerk of the court shall be allowed a fee of three dollars and fifty cents for his services to be paid as part of the costs of the proceedings.

Section 16 School Districts Upon the reestablishment of a township of the first class the territory comprising the same shall be reestablished as a separate school district of the class to which it is entitled.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, this is the bill we discussed last week and action on it was postponed. I have no desire to review at length the arguments made at that time. The facts were brought out however that this has its origin in an entirely local problem, local dispute. It has been brought to the Legislature, and according to the provisions of our Constitution it has been put into a general form that will affect every first class township which has become a part of a city and every city in the Commonwealth that at some future time may have such an annexation. If there are Members who have decided to swallow a principle in order to assist in the solution of a local difficulty I would just like briefly to remind them what the principle is that they are prepared to swallow.

The principle very simply is this: in case of a secession of a part of any type of municipality and type of political subdivision, which is to remove itself from that subdivision, if we follow the principle set forth in this particular piece of legislation we will see that they can depart in peace, provided a majority of the people in the small area involved in the secession vote to do that. That means that all of you interested in second class townships, first class townships, boroughs, cities, should consider the effect that this principle will have upon your problem if you come to this legislature asking for legislation with regard to secession.

I reviewed the last time the history of the three bills; one proposed by one of the sponsors of this present bill, the other two voted on by this House affirmatively, in which this House took a stand when any part of a political subdivision wished to secede it should only be by a vote of the entire political subdivision. Members of the House are on record twice in the last session as favoring that principle as to affected townships. I personally do not see how Members of this House can consistently go on record today in favoring the proposal as it applies to cities, and it will have, I am sure an effect in the future when any legislation of this type is involved, certainly the principle that we lay down today will become an issue. Therefore I ask the Members to vote "no" on this particular bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 701, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1206) entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by changing requirements for contracts and purchases and imposing penalties

Section 1 Section 1802 of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1206) entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" as reenacted revised and amended by the act approved the twenty-seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1955) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1802 General Regulations Concerning Contracts (a) All contracts or purchases made by any township involving the expenditure of over [five hundred] seven hundred fifty dollars except those hereinafter mentioned shall be in writing and shall be made only after notice by the secretary published in one newspaper of general circulation published or circulating in the county in which the township is situated at least [three] two times at intervals of not less than three days where daily newspapers of general circulation are employed for such publication or in case weekly newspapers are employed then the notice shall be published once a week for two successive weeks. The first advertisement shall be published not less than ten days prior to the date fixed for the opening of bids. All plans and specifications shall be on file at least ten days in advance of opening bids. The amount of the contract shall in all cases whether of straight sale price conditional sale bailment lease or otherwise be the entire amount which the township pays to the successful bidder or his assigns in order to obtain the services or property or both and shall not be construed to mean only the amount which is paid to acquire title or to receive any other particular benefit or benefits of the whole bargain.

(b) In every instance in which any contract for any public work construction materials supplies or other matters or things for any township shall be awarded upon competitive bids it shall be the duty of the authorities authorizing the same to award said contract to the lowest responsible bidder. Any published notice for bids shall contain full plans and specifications or refer to the places where copies thereof can be obtained and give the time and place of meeting of the township commissioners at which meeting bids shall be publicly opened and read. If through lack of a quorum or other reason no meeting shall be held at such time and place notice of the same kind shall be repeated once at least six days before the meeting of the subsequent time and place fixed and the foregoing provisions as to bids shall apply. The same course shall be pursued until a meeting shall actually be held for receiving and opening bids. Any contract made in violation of the provisions hereof shall be void. But nothing herein contained shall prevent the making of contracts for governmental services for a period exceeding one year but any contract so made shall be executory only for the amounts agreed to be paid for such services to be rendered in succeeding fiscal years. Provided That if prior to the letting of any contract taxpayers of the township whose valuation as assessed for taxable purposes within the township shall amount to sixty per centum or over of the total property valuation as assessed for taxable purposes within the township shall sign and file with the township secretary of the board a written protest against such contemplated contract then such contract shall not be let.

(c) The successful bidder when advertising is required shall be required to furnish bond with suitable reasonable requirements guaranteeing the performance of the contract with sufficient surety in the amount of fifty per centum of the amount of the liability under the contract within twenty days after the contract has been awarded unless the township commissioners shall prescribe a shorter period of not less than ten days. Upon failure to furnish such bond within such time the previous award shall be void. Deliveries accomplishment and guarantees may be required in all cases of expenditures including exceptions herein.

(d) The contracts or purchases made by the commissioners involving an expenditure of over [five hundred] seven hundred fifty dollars which shall not require advertising or bidding as hereinbefore provided are as follows

(1) Those for maintenance repairs or replacements for water electric light or other public works of the township provided they do not constitute new additions extensions or enlargements of existing facilities and equipment but a bond may be required by the commissioners as in other cases of work done.

(2) Those made for improvements repairs and maintenance of any kind made or provided by any township through its own employees. Provided however That this shall not apply to construction materials used in a street improvement.

(3) Those where particular types models or pieces of new equipment articles apparatus appliances vehicles or parts thereof are desired by the commissioners which are patented and manufactured products.

(4) Those involving any policies of insurance or surety company bonds those made for public utility service under tariffs on file with the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission those made with another political subdivision or a county the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the Federal Government any agency of the Commonwealth or the Federal Government or any municipal authority including the sale leasing or loan of any supplies or materials by the Commonwealth or Federal Government or their agencies. But the price thereof shall not be in excess of that fixed by the Commonwealth the Federal Government or their agencies.

(5) Those involving personal or professional services.

Section 2 Article XVIII of said act as reenacted revised and amended by the act approved the twenty-seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1955) is hereby further amended by adding thereto immediately following section 1802 a new section to read as follows

Section 1802.1 Evasion of Advertising Requirements. It shall be unlawful for any township commissioner or commissioners to evade the provisions of section one thousand eight hundred two of this act as to advertising for bids by voting for the purchase of or contracting for service and personal properties piecemeal for the purpose of obtaining prices under seven hundred fifty dollars upon transactions which transactions should in the exercise of reasonable discretion and prudence be conducted as one transaction amounting to more than seven hundred fifty dollars. This provision is intended to make unlawful the practice of evading advertising requirements by making a series of purchases or contracts each for less than the advertising requirements price or by making several simultaneous purchases or contracts each below said price when in either case the transactions involved should have been made as one transaction for one price. Any commissioner who so votes in violation of this provision and who knows or should by the exercise of reasonable care and prudence as a commissioner know that the transaction upon which he so votes is or ought to be a part of a larger transaction and that it is being divided in order to evade the requirements as to advertising for bids shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than five hundred nor more than one thousand dollars and in default of payment thereof be imprisoned for not less than six months nor more than one year and shall in addition forfeit his office. The township commissioners whose votes shall have approved any transaction in violation of this section shall be jointly and severally subject to surcharge for the full amount of the contract or purchase price of the transaction. Wherever it shall appear that a commissioner may have voted in violation of this section but the purchase or contract on which he so voted was not approved this section shall be inapplicable. All fines recovered under this section shall be paid to the township treasurer for the use of the township.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

An Act to futher amend the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 519) entitled "An act concerning boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs" by further regulating the affairs of boroughs and revising amending and changing the law relating thereto

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMENDED

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommended to the Committee on Municipal Corporations for the purpose of amendment.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 716, Printer's No. 112 was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 717, as follows:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance and providing for certain allocations therefrom for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred forty-nine and for the payment of assistance and expenses accrued or incurred prior to and remaining unpaid on May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty-nine

Section 1 The sum of ten million dollars ($10,000,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Public Assistance for the payment of the deficiency in the appropriation for the payment of assistance and administrative expenses as provided by the Public Assistance Law and for the payment of attorneys' fees and court costs necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the Department of Public Assistance for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred forty-nine and for the payment of assistance and administrative expenses at attorneys' fees and court costs accrued or incurred prior to and remaining unpaid on May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty-nine

Section 2 Out of the moneys appropriated by section one of this act the Department of Public Assistance shall allocate funds from time to time for the several assistance programs (old age assistance aid to dependent children pensions for the blind general assistance and other programs provided by the Public Assistance Law) for administrative expenses of the several county boards of assistance for such administrative expenses incurred by the department which are chargeable to such boards and for the payment of attorneys' fees and court costs necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the department

Section 3 Out of the moneys appropriated by section one of this act quarterly allocations shall be made to the Department of the Auditor General and the Treasury Department respectively in such amounts as may be deemed necessary to pay the administrative expenses of such departments in auditing and disbursing appropriations for or relating to public assistance including any Federal sums supplementing such appropriations In the case of the Department of the Auditor General said allocation shall be made by the Governor President pro tempore of the Senate Speaker of the House of Representatives and the Auditor General or a majority thereof and in the case of allocations made to the Treasury Department such allocations shall be made by the Governor President pro tempore of the Senate Speaker of the House of Representatives and the State Treasurer or a majority thereof

Section 4 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I simply wanted to call the attention of the House to the fact that in these deficiency bills we operate with a pistol at our heads. Apparently there is no limit except the discretion of the Governor as to the amount of the deficiency that any operating Department may incur.

To those who are interested in riding herd upon the way Departments spend money, I suggest that something be done to establish some sensible system of control that will prevent Departments from incurring deficiencies in any amount that the department heads, with the consent of the Governor, may elect.

We are appropriating $10 million to the Department of Public Assistance. It could just as well have been $20 million, or $30 million, or $40 million, and some day we will have to attack that problem in sensible fashion.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

SENATE

TUESDAY, April 3, 1951.

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. GILBERT L. BENNETT, Pastor of First Methodist Church, Huntingdon, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Most gracious God, we thank Thee for the exceeding great inheritance by which the life of our generation has been enriched. We pray we may use with wisdom that which has come to us, and that we may steadily continue in the company of those who will not be satisfied with the world as it is, but who are patiently and steadfastly devoted to the world which is to be. To this end, O God, we invoke Thy divine guidance upon the Members of this great body. Give them wisdom and understanding from on high. Keep them steadfast in following those virtues which were extolled by the Master of men. Teach all of us with humble patience to be good workmen of Thine. We pray, in the name of Christ, our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. LETZLER, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. HARE asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. SNOWDEN, for the remainder of the week, because of pressing business.

PUPILS OF NORTHUMBERLAND BOROUGH JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. WOLFE. Mr. President, we are always happy to have the boys and girls of our public schools visit us while we are in Session, and to see how we conduct our business and enact laws. This afternoon we are happy to have with us the pupils from Junior High School of Northumberland, under the leadership of Professor Harold Bollinger, the principal, and his assistant, Mrs. Jerre Musser. We would like to have them stand up.

The PRESIDENT. Will the guests of Senator Wolfe, from the Northumberland Junior High School, please rise in place and take a bow?

HIGH SCHOOL CLASS FROM SHELLSBURG-NAPIER JOINT SCHOOL PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I have been informed that we have in the gallery a high school class from the Shellsburg-Napier Joint School, the birthplace of our own Senator, Charles H. Ealy, former President pro tempore of this Senate, and they are here under the leadership of their principal, John W. Miller.

The PRESIDENT. Will the guests of Senator Hare please rise in place and take a bow?

STUDENTS FROM FREDERICKSBURG HIGH SCHOOL PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, on behalf of my colleague, Senator Diehm, I would like to present to the Senate the class in democracy from the Fredericksburg High School, Lebanon County. They are in the balcony, under the leadership of their teacher, Mrs. Watson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the guests of Senator Diehm please rise in place and take a bow?

REMARKS BY SENATOR FREED

Mr. FREED. Mr. President, since the promptness of our starting out at three o'clock this afternoon, the pupils from our Allentown High School had to leave. So, I would like to make mention that they were here, under the leadership of Miss Ruth Kistler and Mr. Melville Boyer, their teachers.

The PRESIDENT. Would the Senator from Lehigh wish to take a bow on behalf of his guests?

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. During the Hoover depression days, the farmers of this State could not sell their milk at a profitable price due to the fact that unemployment was at its height.

Men without income could not buy milk for their family and children.

Milk that was being sold, was sold on a buyers market, which meant low prices.

Out of these depression days was born the Milk Control Commission. Purely a creation of depression.

It was the intent of this Commission that the farmer be given a fair price for his product, as well as the large dairy companies and the dealers.

The price would be fixed for retail use that would be within the pocketbook of the consumer, and give a fair return to the handlers of milk.

This Milk Commission was never intended to be a permanent fixtures of Government, but merely a stop gap between depression days and the days when full employment was a reality.

Today we have a demand for employment, including the military services of 85,000,000 men and women, an all-time high for employment in the United States. But we still, with this full employment, have the Milk Commission functioning and increasing its cost to the State at each biennium.

I was surprised to learn by the letters that I have received from farmers that they thought this Commission was self-sustaining, and that no appropriation was necessary for the conducting of its business. I have also talked to a number of newspapermen who have argued with me that there was no appropriation made by the State to this commission.

I believe that this will be a rude awakening to those people when they find that this depression creation is now bloomed forth into a full fledged commission with salaries and expenses that are rapidly reaching the million dollar mark, and from all indications, if permitted to exist, will reach that figure at the next biennium.

I have been unable as yet to get a breakdown of the items that make up their salaries and general expenses. However, as soon as it is received, it is my intention to bring it to the Members of the Senate and to the press and to the people of Pennsylvania, especially to the farmers who think this is not a tax supported commission.

This commission started out in 1935, with an appropriation of $225,000. The fees collected from the milk dealers amounted to $194,884. There was $14,823 paid by the dealers to the Board for payments made to farmers. Other revenues and receipts amounted to $5,692, making a total of $215,339 for this first biennium.

Salaries and general expenses amounted to $201,162. Payments to dairy farmers, which consisted of compensating them for any underpayments made by purchasing dealers, amounted to $12,823 and $476 was paid out for refunding milk licenses and fees.

Therefore, under the first biennium of its operation, their receipts were $215,399, and their total disbursements were $214,461. with the result that the General Fund appropriation of $225,000 was not used.

In 1937-39, the Milk Control Commission receipts amounted to $334,625 and the disbursements, $241,151. Their appropriation of $300,000 again was not used.

In 1939-41, their receipts were $260,267. Their disbursements were $320,522. They had an appropriation from the General Fund of $200,000, which shows that in the first biennium of the James Administration they used $60,000 of that appropriation.

In 1941-43, their receipts were $365,074, and their disbursements were $603,129. They had an appropriation from the General Fund of $240,000. It looks as though they became good politicians at this time under Governor James, for they used up all their appropriation with the exception of $1,945, and I think I would call that cutting the cloth pretty thin.

In 1943-45, the receipts were $296,441 and the disbursements were $542,353. They received in that biennium an appropriation from the General Fund of $340,000. They used up $245,912.

In 1945-47, their receipts were $274,034, and their expenditures were $587,711. They had an appropriation of $320,000, and they used up this appropriation and left a balance of $6,323.

In 1947-49, their receipts were $335,227, and disbursements were $781,071, and they had an appropriation that year of $400,000 from the General Fund, with the result that they had a deficit of $45,844.

We do not have the exact figures for 1949-51, as the total figures are not available as yet. Their receipts have been estimated at $300,460, and the disbursements at $799,800, with an appropriation from the General Fund of $450,000

You will note that this commission has steadily increased their appropriation from the General Fund, due to the fact that their salaries and general expenses have mounted to more than four times the original expenditures for salaries and general expenses in 1935-37, and until today this commission is going to spend in salaries and general expenses $748,300, over three-quarters of a million dollars. This commission is getting into big business and it will soon be a million dollar concern.

In am certainly interested to find out just what this $748,300 represents. It looks to me that the spending of three-quarters of a million dollars always results in an increase in the cost of milk.

It is a pretty costly operation when the State, in this biennium, is going to give nearly a half a million dollars, to be exact $450,000, to merely go through the routine of costly hearings which always result in the same decision—another cent or two on milk.

I believe that the Milk Commission alone is a good reason to start public hearings to find out where the money is going. There have never been any good results out of closed hearings where department heads are called in, and whose pay rolls are covered up by political organization stalwarts who are more interested in getting more patronage than economy and efficiency in government.

Even if only one argument is used to abolish the Milk Commission, it is the fact that we are now out of the depression period. We have full employment in Pennsylvania at good wages, and I cannot see why we single out milk, especially during a sellers market, by contributing the taxpayers' money in following the same Socialistic way of life that they now have in England.

In these good times we need no control.

Competition will take care of the price of milk and will give a good profit to all concerned, and if the Milk Trust starts to squeeze out some of the producers of milk, we have laws on the Statute Books to take care of them.

I am certainly surprised that the Majority Party has hesitated to do away with the Milk Commission, after all their talks of Socialism, especially in the last election, and the many talks of the Republicans in the Congress of the United States.

Here is a Socialistic venture that I have said before has grown into one of the biggest commissions in dollars and cents in the State.

We talk about subsidies to the farmer in the Federal Government, but I wonder what you call this half million dollars that we are giving to the Milk Commission; that is subsidy in another form. It's the old story of doing in Harrisburg exactly to the opposite of the Republican party in Washington.

It is time for us to get away from depression thinking and ideas and work with one thought in mind; that is, to see that the free enterprise system that we all talk so much about stands on its own feet, and I am sure if we do, the farmers and the large dairies and the dealers will not suffer, and every one of them will make the profit which they are entitled to make, without gouging the consumer.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, and Members of the Senate, I have a Resolution that I intend to offer, and I do not expect to ask for immediate consideration.

In searching the Budget Message for 1951, I took into consideration the budget messages for 1949, 1947 and 1945. It is difficult for the Members of the Senate to determine the need of new revenue and also the need for specific amounts of revenue for specific purposes, unless they do study the past budget messages.

Mr. President, I discovered that back in 1947, we had appropriated ten million dollars for flood control, and as part of that appropriation we said that the Secretary of Forests and Waters, who would act as the president or chairman rather, ex-officio, of the commission, would make a report to the General Assembly. I cannot find in the messages from 1947 to this date any accounting of the expenditure of this ten million dollars. I have tried to call and make inquiry from the various departments, and I succeeded in finding out that the Flood Commission met twice. They were never presented with any plans or specifications, and the time has come, I believe, before we give another blind billion dollars to the various department heads, for the Senate to delve a little deeper into past expenditures for the various departments. We cannot intelligently act upon the various requests of the department heads unless we do know something about how our finances were handled in the past.

With that in view, Mr. President, without any specific recommendation other than the recommendation that this Senate find out at a very early date just what is happening to the specific appropriations made by the General Assembly to the various departments, and why it is that on an appropriation bill or a resolution carrying a recommendation or a specific order from the General Assembly, that the Commission make a direct report to the General Assembly such recommendation or order is never complied with. We accept the word of the Governor and the Budget Director. The other day I was looking at one of the comic strips, and I ran across a cartoon, and I think the heading of it was "Believe It or Not." It had a row of Buddhist statues or Buddists, and they were all in an irregular line upon this cartoon, at least they were so pictured, and beneath it it said that this line or group of Buddhist statues had never been counted correctly, and I am convinced at this moment that the Budget Director, Mr. Logan, placed that line there because nowhere have I been able to add any two columns of his figures and get the same answer.

I believe it is time that this Senate stop chasing itself and the people of Pennsylvania around in circles on budget messages. Budgets are not things that are so intricate that you cannot understand them. Some editorial writers say that we cannot possibly understand a budget. They are very clear. It is just a matter of arithmetic. It is a matter of adding the figures and subtracting in some places and trying to get a balance. It is like a book-keeping system of any other corporation. At this moment I say that the proper thing for this General Assembly to do is to delve into acts of this nature, and also I might recommend to the Majority Members of this Senate, who are faced with the terrible responsibility of broadening the tax base in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, at the suggestion of the Governor, I suggest to them that, if need be, we pass the necessary taxes to take care of the expenses of government that we know about and must pay for at this time; do it as quickly as we can and then, if need be, recess or come back at a Special Session at the end of the fiscal year, in order that we may have some understanding as to what the revenues really are of Pennsylvania.

I do not think it is fair to the Members of the General Assembly to say to them, you are responsible for the finances, for the raising of the revenues in Pennsylvania, and yet you have no knowledge, until six years later, of the actual revenues collected by the Commonwealth. At the end of June we ought to have a fairly accurate picture of the amounts of money that have been received under the tax program now in vogue in the Commonwealth, and, certainly, if we have that figure we will not have to estimate the figure so much for the next two years, and I think that that would be the proper method of trying to set up our State Government on an economical basis.

Mr. President, I for one will never allow the income tax bill to be passed without airing, if I can possibly get it done in the Senate every possibility to keep it from being enacted at this time, because once we enact that type of a broad tax base in this Commonwealth, and if we follow the procedure that has been in vogue in the General Assembly since time immemorial, there is no limit to the amount of tax that will be placed upon the people of the Commonwealth, because it will be so easy to come in and say, we are only increasing the income tax another half per cent, or, as the Governor said, it is only five dollars on a thousand. There are not too many "fives" left out of a thousand after we pay our other taxes, and, in conjunction and in addition to the rest of the taxes we pay, this tax becomes a real burden. The State of New York started with a one per cent tax and it has reached a seven per cent tax rate at this moment, and a seven per cent tax on the gross income, the gross earnings of an individual, especially family men and women of this Commonwealth, will be a real imposition upon them. I say that you, Members of the Senate, that you ought to take this resolution under serious consideration. Let us find out what has happened to the ten million dollars that went into flood control. Let us know where these dams were built.

Mr. President, I hear rumors, I have information given me, but I do not propose to use that information as authentic upon this floor; I do not believe in that type of government, but I do believe that we have the right, before we vote upon the general Budget of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to find out whether there is any truth in these rumors, whether this money was spent for recreational parks rather than for major flood control projects, how much of this money was spent for things of this nature.

For instance, Mr. President, this is what I received in my mail yesterday and today. These are reports from the various commissions and the various departments of the State. I called the Department of Property and Supplies, and I said, "Would you mind sending me"—I conceived an idea that maybe I could impress the Senate with the terrible waste of money—and I said, "Could you send me a copy of all the reports that have gone out of the Department of Property and Supplies in the last year?" I was told that I would receive them. Finally, a few minutes later the phone rang, and I answered it and an individual said to me, "Are you serious?" and I said, "Yes." He said, "Well, how do you expect me to get this stuff over to you?" I said, "Why, carry it over in a bundle." I will not use the words he used, but they were pretty strong. He said, "Bundle? You will have to have a few trucks to take it over."

Now, Mr. President, a minute ago we said that the report of the Delaware River Joint Commission would be spread upon the Journal, printed. Do you know what that means? Here it is. This is just one phase of it. Here is the other phase of it. Who reads this stuff? These are all detailed plans, hundreds of pages of them. I venture to say that there are not three men in the Senate who can make anything out of the hieroglyphics that are printed here, and yet hundreds of copies of these are printed and published and given out to the people. All we want from the Delaware River Joint Commission—and I say this advisedly—all I want, anyway, from them is a folded piece of paper about the size of that, showing me how much they took in in tolls, and how much they spent, and for what, and over here strike a balance. I will understand that, but I cannot understand this, and I have been in the building game twenty-five years. This is impossible to understand. Are we going to spread this upon the Journal, and if you do spread it, where are you going to spread the Journal?

Mr. President, I do not know what we are coming to. I read my daily paper back home, which happens, by the grace of God and the corporations in my community, to be a Republican paper, and it has always condemned the literature it gets out of Washington, the reports of committees and commissions. Let us look here at home. Let us study our own departments. How many millions are spent every year in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for useless spending, useless spending?

Mr. President, here is something that is beautiful. I think it is one of the prettiest pieces of work that I have seen. This is a beautiful job. I mean it, really it is, and this comes from the Department of Commerce. I hope someone did not take my beautiful map out of here. Now, that is pretty. There is no question about it. That is as pretty a piece of paper as I have seen in a long time, but, gentlemen, it is laughable when you stop to look at it, and it is serious when you stop to count the dollars we are spending. Do you mean to tell me that we have to give two and one-half million or more dollars to the Department of Commerce for this? Is the Department of Commerce spending money in Pennsylvania to tell the people in my district about the beauties of the country up around Wellsboro? Do they tell the people in my district about the Grand Canyon and that the thousands of visitors from my end of the State ought to take a voyage up to that end of the State, and that thousands of people from up in the Wellsboro and the Pocono districts of Pennsylvania ought to come down to our end of the State and see the beautiful mountains that we have, the beautiful roads that lead into these mountains? They do not do that. They spend ninety per cent of all the money they spend in out-of-State publications, hoping to bring tourists into Pennsylvania, and yet every year millions of tourists from Pennsylvania go to neighboring states to see something of less interest and of less value than what we have right here in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, this Department started from the Bureau of—I think I have the name of it here some place—I think I looked it up to see what it was called in the early days. It is the Bureau of Tourists and Recreation, and that is all it ought to be today, and although Jim Duff takes a pretty picture, and I do not have any objection to Jim Duff's picture, because I have one or two of them at home personally inscribed by him, and I hope he never wants to erase the loving words he put on them, but I do not think it is worth the thousands of dollars that we spent of the taxpayers' money on published articles in booklets like this, with Jim Duff on the front page six weeks before election.

Mr. President, these things are important, and you cannot vote upon this budget in Pennsylvania without pruning a little or without cutting down a little. I am sick and tired of being called the spending party of the United States, sick and tired of being stigmatized as a wasteful spender because I am a Democrat, and yet to see the millions upon millions of dollars that we are called upon to provide every two years, and there is not a man in the Senate who can tell me where fifty per cent of the money goes that we provide in the Budget of Pennsylvania. It is not your fault and it is not my fault. It is the system that we have grown up in, and it is time we changed the system, and so, Mr. President, I hope that the Senate will seriously look into the missing ten million dollars and find out where the dams are.

Mr. President, I present this resolution on behalf of my colleague, Senator John Haluska, and myself.

RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE REQUESTING SECRETARY OF FORESTS AND WATERS TO PRESENT A REPORT ON THE FLOOD CONTROL COMMISSION.

Messrs. DENT and HALUSKA offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, April 3, 1951.

Whereas, There was created in Pennsylvania for flood control purposes, a Commission known as The Flood Control Commission, said Commission functioning under the Department of Forests and Waters, and

Whereas, Said Commission was charged with the responsibility of expending Ten Million Dollars of taxpayers funds for the purpose of flood control, and

Whereas, Said Commission was charged with the responsibility of giving a full and detailed report of its activities and accounting of the funds entrusted to its care by the General Assembly, therefore

Be It Resolved, That the Secretary of Forests and Waters, Milo F. Draemel present to the Senate of Pennsylvania a complete and detailed report of the activities, expenditures and accomplishments of the Flood Control Commission.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I pulled out the wrong booklet in my demonstration, and I do not want to injure anybody by stating a falsehood on the floor of the Senate. I am not strictly a moralist, although I do tell white lies, but this happens to be a private publication.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I want to correct the gentleman's statement and I know it was done inadvertently. The map, which urges everybody from Westmoreland County to go to the beautiful Poconos that he spoke of, is contained in a private publication called "Turnpike Turns," which sells for fifty cents a copy. It has been given by some patriotic, public spirited citizen to each Member of the Senate as a gratuitous piece of information, in the hope that when we adjourn sine die we will all take these maps and go where most of the taxpayers hope we will. In the gentleman's anxiety to get out from under the accusation of representing the spending party of this great Republic, he tried to drop this into the lap of the Department of Commerce, and I assure him that I agree with him; it does not properly belong there. It is not that I blame him for trying to get out from under that accusation. If it were made as often about my party as his, I would like to get out of it, too.

Secondly, Mr. President, the report which was spread upon the Journal, as he said, I cannot hope to be as graceful in my gesture of spreading as was my colleague from Westmoreland, but may I suggest, Mr. President, when the remark was made, "spread upon the Journal," so that there be no mistaken impression, the only thing that is done is that the receipt of this very interesting document, which will while away so many winter hours during cold winter evenings, is noted in the Journal.

Now, Mr. President, for the edification of the Members of the Senate, we have no real control over the printing of this annual report. It is a Joint Commission and I mean that in the highest sense of the use of the word. We have an interstate compact with the State of New Jersey; some very distinguished gentlemen from our neighboring state are jointly responsible for this, and this is the type in which they want this presented, and the funds that are used to pay for this, of course, come from the collections of the tolls across the Delaware River Bridge and are collected by the Delaware River Bridge Commission.

Now, Mr. President, in the strict sense of the word, it is toll money and not tax money. Now, I agree with the gentleman from Westmoreland that about all we would look at, if at all, would be the fiscal statement; after we have looked at it, there is not much we can do about it anyway, but the report has been made in compliance with the joint state compact and the notation in the Journal will appear for posterity that this was received and duly noted.

Now, Mr. President, under no circumstances will this be reproduced verbatim in our Legislative Journal, and I certainly would not want anybody to gain that impression. I know that the gentleman from Westmoreland certainly does not want us to put this map that is contained in this report into the Journal, because that is not part of our usual or customary legislative practice.

Mr. President, I feel that we are all satisfied now that the Department of Commerce had nothing but a "dry run" this afternoon in the usual or customary attacks on how it is selling Pennsylvania. You can see, Mr. President, how effective the Department of Commerce has become. No sooner does something come out that is very fine than it is immediately blamed on the Department of Commerce, and that is another accolade attributed to the shield of that great and distinguished former Member of this Senate, the Honorable Andrew J. Sordoni.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I tried to catch Senator Dent's eye, because the piece of literature he was putting out was so far superior to anything put out by the Department of Commerce. I knew there must be some error.

Mr. President, I am glad that the Majority Leader found that error because this is so far superior, and I might add, too, that this made money selling for fifty cents apiece, while the Department of Commerce costs us a million four hundred thousand dollars.

Mr. President, I might also add that the great job that the Department of Commerce has done is to put our State into such a state of population that we lose our Congressmen, three Congressmen this year, and I understand the five per cent increase they made on population was a group of people who came up from the South and went on relief in Pennsylvania.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. ROSENFELD asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, confining myself for the moment to the two publications under discussion here, I would like to point out, as Senator Dent did, that "Turnpike Turns" is a brand-new publication which is, apparently, privately run. This Volume 1, No. 1, apparently reached such impressive heights in somebody's mind that already we have a full page "ad" by the Department of Revenue on page 3, and a full page "ad" by the Department of Commerce on the back cover.

Now, Mr. President, I do not know the gentleman that publishes this magazine or whether it is a magazine that will continue in publication. I think this is marked January. This is now April, and I have not seen any repeated copies for February and March, and I do not know who has been able to convince either the Secretary of Revenue or the Secretary of Commerce that this would be a good way for the Commonwealth to spend its money to advertise Pennsylvania. I do not know how many of these were printed. I do not know what the circulation of it was. I do not know whether it was good or whether it was not good.

Mr. President, confining myself now to the report of the Delaware River Joint Commission, it is true that we had no control over the printing of this report, but we are forgetting altogether that the Delaware River Joint Commission is a creature of this Legislature, and if this is the kind of a report they make to this Legislature, if we feel it is a waste of the taxpayers' money, and we must assume the taxpayers use the bridges under its control, if this is a waste of the taxpayers' money, we, the Legislature, are in a position to tell this Commission and have the Legislature in New Jersey tell the Commission that this is a complete waste of money. As Senator Dent pointed out, I do not know what interest these charts and maps have for anyone except perhaps a handful of engineers who might be interested in Boring No. 1, or Boring No. 6, or Boring No. 22. As far as I am concerned, the entire publication is boring.

Mr. President, I think the question recurs, there being but two items under discussion . . . I know Senator Walker is in a hurry to get through with the Calendar—we, the Members of this Senate, have not the slightest idea from time to time what is spent, why it is spent, what is needed and why it is needed, and I think it is high time, regardless of party and regardless of what has been done in the past, that we resolve ourselves into a decent committee to delve into these things once and for all, and I will assure the Majority Leader that once that is done, he will not have to look at the clock, and we will save a lot of time in our deliberations in this Body.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I have no desire to curtail this very interesting discussion and I know from past experiences this will not be the last word on this subject, but I just want to suggest to the gentleman from Philadelphia, this just shows what can happen. They jump on their white horses and ride in forty different directions at the same time.

Now, Mr. President, the gentleman from Philadelphia asked about February and March. If they would just take a look at this magazine, and I want to say, Mr. President, I would like to know how the circulation manager of this magazine got my colleagues on the other side to give them a million dollars worth of advertising like this for nothing, because "Turnpike Turns" is certainly getting State-wide publicity here in a hurry.

Now, Mr. President, this magazine, according to its own publication, is published quarterly in January, and there would not be an issue until April so there could not be a February and a March issue.

Now, Mr. President, if the gentlemen would just read more in the magazine and talk less about it, we would all get along and get out of here a lot sooner.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I am very glad to say, and anyone who is in advertising would certainly get a big kick out of the ad placed by the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce, Andrew J. Sordoni and John S. Fine, Governor, when it says "The Road to Penn's Woods." I would not ask anyone here to take a ride to Penn's Woods, because this is a picture of a creek, the road to Penn's Woods.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, at the expense of being televised by a famous Senatorial Committee out of Washington, would like to make a small wager with the gentleman on the other side that this magazine is published by Democrats.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, there is as much ground for that accusation as there is for most of the accusations made against the Democrats in the last twenty years.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would like to be advised whether we are now talking about the magazine in which Senator Duff's photograph appeared by coincidence six weeks before election?

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I think that we are talking about two different magazines. That startling coincidence, where Governor Duff's picture came out so shortly before election time, is reminiscent of the Farm Bureau checks that went out of Washington about the same time. We hated that, too.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I have been endeavoring to submit this resolution for the past hour. It seems to me that the Majority Floor Leaders seem to enjoy themselves every afternoon here, and we get some of these ridiculous discussions.

Mr. President, I have something here worth-while to the people of Washington and Greene Counties. So, on behalf of the Philadelphia lawyer, my good friend here, Senator Rosenfeld, and myself, I submit to the Chair this concurrent resolution.

RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

URGING THAT THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION BE DIRECTED TO STUDY AND CODIFY THE LAW OF THIS COMMONWEALTH RELATING TO PENAL AND CRIMINAL COSTS

Messrs. LANE and ROSENFEL, offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the committee on State Government:

In the Senate, April 3, 1951.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur) That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to study, compile, consolidate, and codify the law of this Commonwealth embracing that phase of criminal procedure known as "costs" (as distinguished from fines or penalties) with the purpose of setting forth and defining all penal and criminal costs and of prescribing and fixing liability therefor; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission shall embody the results of its study in the form of a codification of the law relating to penal and criminal costs to be submitted to the General Assembly at its next regular session.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WADE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, on Monday, March 19, a subcommittee of the Committee on Appropriations, led by Dr. Chapman and a number of other Members of the Legislature, visited the two hospitals in Lewistown, Pennsylvania, and during the time they were visiting the F. W. Black Memorial Hospital, we were asked to visit a patient in one of the rooms who it developed later was a former Senator, Frederick W. Culbertson, who represented the 31st District of Pennsylvania during the years 1920 to 1928. Just a few days later, the papers announced the sad death of Mr. Culbertson on his 83rd birthday. He led a very useful life. The civic life of his community was his first interest. He was interested in everything that helped to build his community, and during our visit that day he reminded us of the growth of state government, of local government, of national government, and the many problems that we are facing in this Legislature and it was a marvel, his apprehension and his grasp of the situation even at his advanced age.

Mr. President, I therefore offer this resolution and move for its immediate adoption.

SENATE RESOLUTION

A MEMORIAL TO THE LATE HONORABLE
FREDERICK W. CULBERTSON

Mr. WADE, offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, April 3, 1951.

Among the distinguished men who graced the Senate during the "tumultuous twenties" none has been held in higher esteem or has won more deserved repute than the Honorable Frederick W. Culbertson.

Mr. Culbertson was closely identified with community life for many years as a civic leader and as a sponsor of worthy causes. As a Senator from 1921 to 1927, he served our State loyally and effectively; and the impress of his personality and talent on legislative matters has persisted to the present day. Many years have slipped relentlessly into oblivion since Mr. Culbertson first saw the light of heaven; yet the passage of time has exacted its inevitable toll and he has at last departed from this life at the venerable age of eighty-three; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate express its profound sorrow at the passing of one of its most eminent members and the consequent loss of his inestimable services to his community and State, and be it further

Resolved, That the Senate declare its appreciation of the legislative zeal and labors of Frederick W. Culbertson and its acknowledgment of an exceedingly pleasant and profitable association with him from 1921 to 1927, when he served as a member of the Senate.

HOUSE MESSAGE

HOUSE BILL FOR CONCURRENCE

House Bill No. 716, entitled:

A Supplement to the act approved the twenty-seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (Appropriation Acts page 62) entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and forty-nine and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and forty-nine" providing for deficiencies in certain appropriations made by the act for the fiscal biennium ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and fifty-one

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE ON EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WATSON, from the Committee on Executive Nominations reported with a favorable recommendation the following nominations, made by His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth:

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,

Miller, Alfarata, Alexandria, Huntingdon County, for appointment as Justice of the Peace in and for the Township of Porter, Huntingdon County, until the first Monday of January 1952, to fill a vacancy.

JOHN S. FINE.

MEMBERS OF THE FULTON COUNTY BOARD OF ASSISTANCE

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, March 29, 1951.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate the following persons for appointment as Members of the Fulton County Board of Assistance:

Don Hill (Democrat), Warfordsburg, Fulton County, to serve until December 31, 1952, and until his successor is duly appointed and qualified, to fill a vacancy.

Mrs. Ethel Decker (Democrat), R. D., McConnellsburg, Fulton County, from October 2, 1950, until December 31, 1952, and until her successor is duly appointed and qualified.

JOHN S. FINE.

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. WATSON asked and obtained unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the nominations read by the Clerk.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

A motion was made by Mr. WATSON and Mr. WOOD,

That the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon the nominations reported at today's session.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. WATSON and Mr. LETZLER.

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nominations reported.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

The motion was agreed to.

CALENDAR

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 7, as follows:

An Act authorizing cities to establish and maintain trust funds for the investment and reinvestment of the moneys of charitable uses or trusts the charge or administration of which has been committed to their care or of the estates of minors of which they may be guardians providing for the administration of funds so established and prescribing the nature and kinds of investments which may be made therein

Section 1 Any city of this Commonwealth now or hereafter charged with the administration of any charitable use or trust or of the estate of any minor of which it may be guardian may establish and maintain one or more common trust funds for the collective investment and reinvestment of the moneys of any such charitable use or trust or any such estate

Section 2 Such city may invest the moneys of the estate of any minor of which it is now or may hereafter become guardian in any common trust fund maintained by it provided the assets comprising such common trust fund consist solely of assets of the class authorized by law as legal investments for funds held by fiduciaries

Section 3 If the instrument under which any real and personal property were or are given granted conveyed bequeathed devised to or otherwise vested in confided to or awarded to the city upon charitable use or trust shall limit or restrict the investment of such property or the proceeds thereof to assets of the class authorized by law as legal investments the city may invest and reinvest moneys of the use or trust in any such common trust fund maintained by the city provided the assets composing such fund consist solely of assets of the class authorized as legal investments for funds held by fiduciaries

Section 4 If the instrument under which any real and personal property were or are given granted conveyed bequeathed devised to or otherwise vested in confided to or awarded to the city upon charitable use or trust shall authorize or permit the investment of such property or the proceeds thereof in assets of the class other than authorized by law as legal investments the city may invest and reinvest moneys of the use or trust in any such common trust fund maintained by the city composed of such investments as in the honest exercise of the judgment of the officers of the city charged with the administration of the charitable uses or trusts may after investigation be determined to be safe and proper investments otherwise such assets shall be invested and reinvested in a common trust fund consisting solely of assets of a class authorized as legal investments for funds held by fiduciaries

charitable use or trust or of the estate of any minor of which it may be guardian in such common trust fund by adding the same thereto and by apportioning a participation therein to such use or trust or the estate of any minor of which it may be guardian in the proportion that the moneys of the use trust or estate added thereto bears to the aggregate value of all the assets of such common trust fund at the time of such investment including in such assets the moneys of the use trust or estate so added. The withdrawal of a participation from such common trust fund shall be on a basis of its proportionate interest in the aggregate value of all the assets of such common trust fund at the time of such withdrawal. The participating interest of any use trust or estate in such common trust funds may from time to time be withdrawn in whole or in part by the city. Upon such withdrawals the city may make distribution in cash or ratably in kind or partly in cash and partly in kind. Participations in such common trust funds shall not be sold to any other corporation or person except a non-profit corporation organized and existing for a public charitable purpose.

Section 6 If a bond or other obligation for the payment of money is acquired as an investment for any such common trust fund at a cost in excess of the par or maturity value thereof the city may during but not beyond the period that such obligation is held as an investment in such fund amortize such excess cost out of the income on such obligation by deducting from each payment of income and adding to principal an amount equal to the sum obtained by dividing such excess cost by the number of periodic payments of income to accrue on such obligation from the date of such acquisition until its maturity date.

Section 7 The city shall designate clearly upon its records the names of the charitable uses or trust or of the estate of a minor on behalf of which such city as fiduciary owns a participation in any such common trust fund and the extent of the interest of the charitable use trust or minor estate therein. No such use trust or estate shall be deemed to have individual ownership of any assets in such common trust fund but shall be deemed to have the proportionate undivided interest in the common trust fund. The ownership of the individual assets comprising any such common trust fund shall be solely in the city as fiduciary.

Section 8 Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to authorize the city to invest moneys of a charitable use or trust in any such common trust fund contrary to any specific limitation or restriction contained in the will deed or other instrument by which any real and personal property are given granted conveyed bequeathed devised to or otherwise vested in the city upon charitable use or trust nor to limit or restrict the authority conferred upon the city with respect to investments by any such instrument.

Section 9 No mistakes made in good faith and in the exercise of due care and prudence in connection with the administration of any such common trust fund shall be held to exceed any power granted to or violate any duty imposed upon the city if promptly after the discovery of the mistake the city takes whatever action that may be practicable under the circumstances to remedy the mistake.

Section 10 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

REMARKS BY MAJORITY FLOOR LEADER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I want to say to the gentlemen of the Senate that due to the pressure of committee meetings elsewhere, it has been deemed advisable by the Majority and Minority Floor Leaders to cancel Thursday's Session. I say that with a great deal of regret, because I know the Members of the Senate have been counting on a Thursday Session. We will have a Session tomorrow and then adjourn until Monday so as to permit the Members of the Senate to take care of their Senatorial duties in other parts of the Commonwealth.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Wednesday, April 4, 1951, at 12:00 o'clock, M., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 5:44 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Wednesday, April 4, 1951, at 12:00 o'clock, M., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, April 3, 1951

The House met at 12:00 noon.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend Sheridan Watson Bell, Pastor of Grace Methodist Church Harrisburg, Pa., offered the following prayer:

(This is the Church in which the House held its sessions in the Sanctuary and the Senate in the Sunday School room from the time the old Capitol burned in 1897 until the new Capitol Building was completed in 1906.)

Gracious God, we give Thee thanks for this day. For life as we are privileged to live it. For friends that we are able to discover and to keep. For work which enables us to be creators and sustainers of life. For service one toward another. All this O God we are able to have because we live in Freedom. May we so cherish it that we never permit ourselves to think or to act as if we were enslaved. Enoble our way of living. May we always reveal the fact that we are Thy children. That by love, kindness, charity, decency and honor we never lose sight of our heritage. All this we pray in Thy glorious name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journal of Monday, April 2, 1951? If not, and without objection, the Journal is approved.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. HEWITT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

It is interesting to me, and it might be to other Members of the House, to say that when the Legislature met in this Church during the 1903 and 1905 sessions while the Capitol was being built, my uncle, my mother's brother, Fred Scoville, of DuBois, was a Member of the House.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. DUFF and HERSCH. RESOLUTION No. 27.

In the House of Representatives, April 2, 1951.

Clean and brilliant athletic achievement, especially in the game of basketball, comes as a most heartening contrast to the sordid revelations of "fixed" games and corruption that have crowded the headlines during this past winter.

Pennsylvania is gratified that the game has been played hard and well in its many schools and for the purpose intended—genuine competition, exhibition of skill and prowess, wholesome recreation, and entertaining showmanship.

In no instance, has the breath of scandal dimmed the public mirror that has been held up to the many individual and coordinated feats of athletic ability that have been displayed on the innumerable courts throughout the State.

In no case, has any so-called under-privileged, young athlete yielded to the blandishments of a "fast buck" and brought ignominy to himself, disrepute to his school, and disillusionment to the public.

With justifiable pride, therefore, the sporting world has been stirred by the magnificent athletic performance of Bill Mlkvy of the basketball team of Temple University.

The wide elation over his outstanding average scoring per game, the enthusiasm declaring his versatility as a player, and the phenomenal effectiveness of his fast and bewildering court play are the forerunners to many honors that will come to him.

As a fine champion, Bill Mlkvy has won nationwide recognition, has been tendered many accolades of commendation, and has been designated a member of three major All-American teams; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives warmly extend its heartiest congratulations to Bill Mlkvy for his outstanding exploits on the basketball court; and be it further

Resolved, That like felicitations be expressed to Temple University and, in particular, to its basketball coach, Josh Cody, for the inspirational guidance and the superb training that have been given to Bill Mlkvy—to the end that he has become a shining exemplar of the best traditions of American competitive sport and a brilliant exponent of the skill and courage that are required of an exacting and hazardous game.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

DEAN OF COLLEGE OF LAW OF NOTRE DAME UNIVERSITY WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair notes with extreme pleasure the presence in the Hall of the House today, of one who for more than a quarter of a century has been one of America's most noted professors of Constitutional Law.

He is the distinguished Dean of the College of Law of Notre Dame University, the founder and builder of the Natural Law Institute. He is a recognized writer of meaningful prose and a popular lecturer of unusual persuasiveness. For his outstanding writings and addresses on Americanism he was voted the Freedom award in 1950.

The Chair asks the consent of the House to present Dean Clarence Manion of the Notre Dame University School of Law and request him to address the House. The Chair hears no objection and presents to you Dean Clarence Manion.

ADDRESS OF DEAN CLARENCE MANION

DEAN CLARENCE MANION. Mr. Speaker, I am not unmindful of the great honor that has been bestowed upon me here today in the course of this casual visit to this very beautiful building of which I have heard and read a great deal in the course of my lifetime. I am also in deep appreciation of the privilege, cognizant of the time element. I obtained the loan of a watch before I came to the rostrum, but with the clock on the wall it will not be necessary, however, I want to assure you at the outset that I am proceeding upon borrowed time, nevertheless, and that I realize, too, that in the course of your gruelling and intelligent business there is very little that the Dean of a Law School could say to you which might aid and abet you in your labors.

I am here in Harrisburg as the author of a recent streamlined version of Americanism which is called "The Key to Peace," and that is an intriguing title. It may or may not be misleading. All that I know about the subject of our common interest is bound up in the covers of that little book, so I shall not attempt to repeat it to you. Nevertheless, to people from the hinterlands of America the state of Pennsylvania is an intriguing institution, because all of us who live under the principles enunciated in the Declaration of Independence and enshrined in the Constitution of the United States are in a perpetual state of gratitude for the contribution of Pennsylvania to the United States of America.

But there is a far less widely publicized contribution that Pennsylvania made to the history of the country which I make so bold as to call to your attention here this morning.

The man who founded Pennsylvania, William Penn, is reputed to have said in the course of his foundation of Philadelphia, in response to a question that he was burdened with the religious impulse rather than practical objectives, Penn made this reply, he said

"Those people who are not governed by God will be ruled by tyrants."

I should like to have the pleasure of repeating that here in this distinguished presence, because I shall go back home, you see, and tell everybody that I had the great pleasure of telling the Pennsylvania Assembly just that. And that is this again—"Those people who are not governed by God will be ruled by tyrants."

I want to remind you distinguished gentlemen of Pennsylvania that that is the spirit in which this Commonwealth was established.

There is a single alternative between the governments of God and rule of tyrants.

Penn discerned more than a hundred years before the Declaration of Independence was written that liberty is a gift of God, and that only by his attribution can liberty be preserved. And so what we have today confronting us throughout Pennsylvania, the United States and the world, is a contest between the rule of God and the rule of tyrants, and in this cogent summation of the alternative between these two forever contending types of government we have a destruction of the American idea of self-government.

You may know about self-government; you have contended with it in primaries and in elections and in polling places. You know what self-government means in popular parlance, but in the essence and spirit of Americanism, self government means and was meant to mean, the ability of the individual citizen to govern himself, under the Ten Commandments of God, and that was precisely the type of self government that James Madison had in mind when he said that "We have staked the future of all of our American institutions upon the capacity of mankind for self-government."

And that was the spirit of Washington's Farewell Address when he said

"Religion and morality constitute the underpinning of civil society, and without them we could not expect to maintain this institution."

Your Speaker has kindly mentioned the fact that I was the founder of the Natural Law Institute at Notre Dame back in 1947, and that we have had annual convocations of the Institute there ever since.

But what is the Natural Law? If you want to seek expression of the Natural Law I direct you to the second paragraph of self evident truths which appear in the Declaration of Independence written here in Pennsylvania.

The fact that we took it for granted that all men are created and from their creator they derive certain unalienable rights, and that the purpose of government is merely and strictly to secure and maintain these unalienable rights. This is the best practicable explanation of the Natural Law that I know of. And it is also the proper implementation of Penn's dictum, that those people who forget the origin of rights, who forget that liberty is a gift of God, will soon find themselves the subject of tyranny.

Nature abhors a vacuum, nature likewise abhors disorder, and we shall either have the order of self-government under God or we shall have the enforced tyrannical order that is represented, presently at least, by a Mr. Stalin and the Soviet Government, but which has always been well represented, in one form or another, down through the five thousand odd years of recorded history by some sort of a tyrant somewhere. And in resurrecting the notion of the Natural Law out at Notre Dame it is merely our hope that we may call the attention of the world to this salient fact, that ninety-five percent of the order in Pennsylvania, in the United States, and in the world is attributable not to statutes, with all due respect to the place and purpose of statutes; is attributable not to policemen, with all due respect to the purpose and place of policemen; is attributable not to battle ships and armies, with all due respect to the necessity for them in their time and in their place, but ninety-five percent of such order as there is in the world now or at any time is attributable solely and exclusively to the respect which ninety-five percent of the people of the world have always had for the laws of God and the Commandments of God. And when one in Legislative Assemblies like this and in Assemblies of the world, we are legislated for that periphery of society which knows not God and will not follow him, which does not subscribe to the Declaration of Independence and which does not subscribe by the way to the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

I am going to close now by reading what you gentlemen undoubtedly know, which is the opening paragraph of the Constitution of this great Commonwealth. And, by the way, this language is either identical or its substance to be found in the Constitution of 47 of the 48 states of the Union. Here is what the man who made the Constitution which you have sworn to uphold and to defend said at the very outset of their deliberations:

"We the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, grateful to Almighty God for the blessings of civil and religious liberty, and humbly invoking his guidance, do ordain and establish this Constitution."

This is merely a reiteration of what was said in Philadelphia in 1776, but it is well to remember that liberty is a gift of God, and that self-government as Americans understood it at the time of the foundation of this great Commonwealth and of this great country, self-government and the objective of self-government continues to be the ability of each man to govern himself according to the Ten Commandments of the Author of Liberty. I thank you, Mr. Speaker, and you gentlemen very much.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 840, entitled:

An Act imposing an income tax on residents of Pennsylvania as herein defined including trusts and estates and on income of non-residents derived from property business or other sources in Pennsylvania defining taxable income and requiring filing of returns thereof providing for the assessment collection and lien of said tax providing for administration and enforcement of the act by the Department of Revenue conferring powers and imposing duties on certain persons fiduciaries partnerships associations corporations political subdivisions State officers employes and departments saving certain local taxes and imposing penalties

On the question,

Will the House agree to the article?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, and gentleman of the House, I desire first of all to make a few general remarks, then make a motion to recommit, and then discuss the motion to recommit. But before I do so I would like to yield to the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett, for a very brief statement.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to support the motion that the gentleman is about to make and my remarks will be along that particular line.

If you recall last week I requested that the tax measures go over in order. I had a reason for hoping that the tax measures go over in order and our reason is here today. I feel that the legislation that we have now before us is a continuation of some legislation that we passed back a few years ago. In other words, it is commonly known as a wage tax.

We amended that legislation to some extent during the last session of the Legislature and we clearly defined it as a wage tax, because we struck out certain forms of taxation under that particular law. We now have before us a continuation of this wage tax or of Act 481. I feel that I would be neglecting my duty if I did not bring to the attention of the Members of this House the necessity for due consideration of this particular piece of legislation.

I feel that we should have public hearings. I feel that the people of Pennsylvania should know. In my own mind, as a legislator for many years, I am having doubts in some respects as to the extent of this particular legislation. I received after I came back to Harrisburg on Monday letters from many people throughout the state, not in my own legislative district, who themselves felt that we should be very cautious, travel very slowly, in opening up such a field for taxation in the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. SMITH. Will the gentleman yield.

Mr. LOVETT. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would definitely like to clarify one thing. I do not believe the gentleman is really speaking on this bill. I would like to make this statement, this bill, definitely is not a wage tax; this bill is definitely an income tax which is based on all incomes and is not in any sense of the word a true wage tax.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I will accept the gentleman's statement for what it is worth. I realize and he also realizes that under this particular act you have the right of attachment of wages.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. LOVETT. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I did not think we were going to debate this bill now. I thought the gentleman's statement was only going to be to the effect of his asking us to hold the bills over last week. I would like to remind the gentleman that this is not a wage tax, as he calls it; it is what the citizens of this country call a Federal income tax, and if that is a wage tax then this is a wage tax. We are not taxing anything other than what the Federal income tax is taxing and that has never, as far as I know, and I do not think the gentleman has ever heard the Federal income tax called a wage tax.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, as I stated when I rose, I realize that the motion has not yet been made, and I will respect the time of the House and say that this particular tax, to compare it with the national graduated income tax, is going a little further than I want to go.

As I said, I have received many letters and I feel that we should give consideration at this time to every possibility under this particular act. I feel that men receiving social security which is not too great, would be subject to this tax.

Now I may be wrong in my statements. I feel that men serving in the armed forces that are not on the actual battle front, would be subject to taxation under this law. For this reason I feel that the people of Pennsylvania themselves do not know the extent this particular piece of legislation; therefore, I feel that we should give it due consideration.

I will yield to the gentleman from Cambria Mr. Andrews.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, apparently some Members of the House are becoming a bit jittery. It has been suggested to me by one or two Members on the Minority side that we should get into the fight filibuster; try all kinds of obstructionism to delay the progress of this bill. I have said to them, and shall insist that tactics of that kind engender heat but shed little light, and I am quite sure that on this side we shall be able to proceed in an orderly, sensible fashion.

Last evening there were two Members on the majority side that were saying one to the other that Smith was too easy with the Minority Leader; that there was not any reason why the House should permit that fellow Andrews to harangue day after day. The Majority Leader should clip him down, and if the Majority Leader did not do it, they had an idea they could sell three or four people the idea and they would have it done.

Now it can be done. I could tell them how to do it. If they did it, I could exchange the halo which the Majority Leader tendered me not so long ago for a martyr's crown.

I could go out and say that they silenced me in this House because they were afraid. Then I would get a lot of glory and not do any work and I can tell you very frankly that if anybody on the opposite side of the House wants to make a motion to terminate debate, I would welcome it. As I say, that would enable me to pose as a martyr.

Another thing that I want to refer to is that the minority is really in command of this situation in a great many respects. The situation has developed that whenever a bad piece of legislation comes from Committee, and some bad pieces of legislation have come out and more are coming, all it is necessary for us to do on this side is arise and denounce the bill. Straightaway the ranks close, there is a party vote and another bad piece of legislation is charged up against your record.

If they are always called to vote against the positions we take, sooner or later, just by the laws of chance, we will be monumentally right on some proposal. We will be in the position of the party that is able to carry out cause to the people and you will be the ones that are apologizing.

Mr. Speaker, is it in order now to formally make the motion to recommit?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is in order to make his motion.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill 840, Printer's No. 144, be recommitted to the Ways and Means Committee for the purpose of a public hearing.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to yield five minutes to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Guarnieri, who will state the position of the Philadelphia Democratic delegation on the motion to recommit.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, at any time, when we in this House, or any body or group of responsible legislators, who have the responsibility of public office and have a duty to the people whom they represent, are about to embark upon a new program, especially a program involving taxation, it would seem to me and to the members of the Philadelphia delegation, and I feel certain to every member of this House, that where a radical departure is about to be initiated from an existing status quo situation, it would be our duty to ourselves, and foremost to our constituents, the people we represent; that they be given full opportunity to discuss the matter.

In principle, what we ask, what the Philadelphia delegation asks for, is a public hearing. We have seen the same situation heretofore. I recall during the last session when we spoke on the then temporary tax measures, that the administration was asking for certain emergency or temporary enactments, tax measures just for that session, and just for a short time—this emergency will pass over, just give up this money, and well, after that we will not have these taxes any more.

Our experience has been that once we open the door, as you would open the door by the proposed income tax, the door remains open, the precedent is established, and it becomes a permanent measure which was originally proposed to meet an apparently specific need. There is no concession of a need at the present time, it will become a permanent fixture. That is the danger.

I personally believe and the members of the Philadelphia delegation believe, we have had the experience in Philadelphia of a wage tax which is an income tax on earned income and salaries, that once that tax ordinance was enacted in Philadelphia to satisfy a then temporary—so called temporary need—it became a permanent fixture of the Philadelphia tax structure. That precedent is dangerous and we should not repeat it here.

I just want to make this one statement in closing. I will direct the attention of the Members of this House to the statement in this morning's Inquirer by John M. Cummings in his column asking for a public hearing. I think where we have a radical departure from an existing system of taxation, the public has the right to have a public hearing, discuss the matter and let us see the need for this kind of legislature.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I now desire to present some of the reasons why I believe this bill should be recommitted.

Of course, I intended in the course of my remarks to refer to the distinguished journalist from Philadelphia, and I thought I was going to have a monopoly of praise in that particular. There are times when that gentleman is a wise old bird. He has called the turn more than once and sounded a warning signal to the dominant faction in the majority party—used to be, majority party in Philadelphia.

He has frequently detected me in error and since the matter has been referred to, I will read the opening paragraph of his letter of advice to the Fine administration and to the Legislature if I have it handy. The journalistic tongue remarks

"Unless the Fine Administration and the Republican State leadership, including the Grundy organization, are bitterly determined to fly in the face of public opinion, the proposed one half of one percent State income tax will at least be given an open hearing before its supporters attempt to jam it through the General Assembly."

I thank the gentleman for the word "jam," and I commend the temper of his writing. There are stronger terms that undoubtedly could have been used and which might have occurred to him but which might have been unprintable.

The first reason for re-committment is that we are positively proceeding upon the basis of a cock-eyed budget, framed by a man whose predictions you cannot trust, who balances his budgets by subterfuge. In his office, he himself pares down Departmental requests for money. How does he do it? By surveying and analyzing the actual needs of the Health Department, the Welfare Department, the other Departments? No. He just takes his official chisel and if he wants $500 thousand dollars he looks where there is six or seven million dollars, and he just chisels off $500 thousand dollars. He looks some other place—the program for the schools. There is a lot of money there. It is not a question of whether the money is needed. There is a lot of money there and there is where he can get another million dollars, and he chisels that out. He hands that budget that he has framed, in effect, to the Governor and says "here is your balanced budget."

I want to cite one more specific case of his financial ledgerman. Incidentally, the Majority leader yesterday said that an error of ten million dollars was small potatoes, it did not amount to much; it really did not amount to much, if you made an error of twenty million dollars. Well, it may be possible that batting around seventy million dollars is worth some sort of notice.

In the Governor's recent message, on page 6, at the bottom of the page, the Governor says that he is calling for general fund appropriations for the 1951-53 biennium in the amount of $853 million dollars, which includes the reserve of $20 million for Civil Defense. Then he goes on to say that the amount without the reserve, $833 million, compares with $766 million spent during the 1949-51 biennium. $766 million! That is very interesting.

The 1949 budget on page 4, predicts that the total available general fund will be $696 million. The recommended appropriations were $695 million. Now along comes the gentleman in the recent budget which says the amount available was $766 million. That is just a difference of some $70 million, almost $71 million, between what the Governor says was available in the current biennium and what the budget office says would be available during the current biennium.

There may be all sorts of explanations as to why that is so. But some where, kicking around inside, at the time the budget office framed the budget for the current biennium, there was that $70 million. Now, if the tax program that you are sponsoring is the best possible tax program, is not it likely that an intelligent public, if given an opportunity to speak its mind, would come here to Harrisburg and tell you so.

Do not you seek approval? Wouldn't you like to have a pat on the back? If this is a proposal, a tax program that meets the approval of the public, they will come here and tell you so, and the only possible reason for not holding a public hearing is the fear that those who came to speak would say "We do not like it."

Now, this may be a bit off the main track, but I would like to know definitely whether the proposed income tax is designed primarily to relieve a desperate financial situation or whether it is a tax designed to relieve a desperate patronage situation? We should know something about this.

Will the cost of collecting this tax be two million dollars, three million dollars, five million dollars? Should not we have the facts before we plunge ahead? Should not we know definitely, on the basis of federal experience, how many tax collectors will be needed. That ought to be easy to know. That information should be in our hands. How much does it cost to collect? We should know before we act. How many people would be needed to collect? We should know before we act. The only way we can find out is through a public hearing. What will it cost per dollar to collect this tax, particularly that portion of the tax that is levied upon small business. What will it be compared with the cost of collecting other taxes? From a stand-point of collecting taxes, is this an economical tax? We should have the facts.

There is always talk about broadening the tax base, but there is not any exact information at the disposal of this House as to how broad we are going to broaden the tax base. Is it ten million dollars broad, twelve million dollars broad, or fifteen million dollars broad? Every Member of this House should have in his possession at the present time, the Federal figures which would give some idea as to whether the tax base you propose to establish is broad enough to raise only $119 million, or whether it is actually broad enough to raise $140 million or $150 million.

You men who have been here in the House a long time know that it is the established practice of the budget office to under-estimate receipts and over-estimate expenditures. Then there is always somewhere around $20 million, $30 million, $40 million, $50 million, or $70 million to play around with.

Now just how is it proposed to integrate the state income tax with the local situations where they have income or wage taxes? That matter must have been given thought by the supreme command, but should not we know before we enact this bill how we are going to integrate the proposed state system with the local systems which tax wages, income.

That is a very, very grave question; a very very grave problem. If there is a solution that has been prepared, that solution should not be carried around as a secret. Before we go ahead with this bill, we should know what the solution of that problem is. We should have the opportunity to inform the public. Before we finally enact our tax program, I would like to know from the Appropriation Committee of this House rather than from the budget office, how much money we need to finance the operations of this Commonwealth during the next biennium. I would like to know whether the Appropriations Committee swallows or does not swallow the budget figures. You know and I know that in Committee this program received less than one hour's consideration. If we fix the out-side limit of our income by enacting a tax program we necessarily sentence the Appropriations Committee to operate within that circle. The Appropriations Committee if given opportunity to deliberate, might say that the budget office was $15 million too high as far as the necessary expenses during the next biennium are concerned. It might say that the budget office figures were too low. But if I have to choose between the judgment of the Appropriations Committee and the judgment of a faulty budget office, then I ride with the Appropriations Committee, but we have created a situation where the wisdom, the experience, the judgment, the knowledge of state affairs which the Appropriation Committee possesses is not available and will not be available for the use of this House. They can manipulate the funds that the budget office hands them, but they cannot of their own wisdom, the way we are now operating, tell us how much money they think we need in the next biennium.

As to whether or not there is any demand for a public hearing, I have a copy of a letter received by the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee from Harold Boyer, President of the Pennsylvania CIO. The Pennsylvania CIO Council urgently requests a public hearing. I shall not read the letter but they all name their reasons why they believe there should be a public hearing; the measure is admittedly controversial; there is substantial opposition to it; it should not be rushed through without deliberation.

I know that in the last election the CIO may not have been working energetically in the interests of the majority party, and that may be the reason for kicking 650,000 members of that organization around—if you are not with us kick them around. But 650,000 men earn a lot of wages in the course of two years. It may be that although you heard them and although they spoke with the wisdom of an angel itself, you would not concede them a point. But why kick them around? If you are going to turn them down, why not do it nicely? Hear them and then pursue your course.

The Smaller Pennsylvania Manufacturer's Council has sent a telegram to Governor Fine outlining the reasons why it believes there should be a public hearing.

There is a very interesting editorial in this morning's Post Gazette, which dares the brave opinion that this budget is not sacred. It calls attention to the fact that there has been a lot of deception about financial affairs in the past.

"Take, for instance, 1946 when then Governor Edward Martin was running for the Senate with a boast that he would leave the State with a surplus of $170,596,000. That vaunted nest egg vanished when Jim Duff took office and asked for $133,000,000 in new taxes, and the surplus that Governor Duff was expected to leave has not prevented Governor Fine from asking for $163,000,000 in additional taxes."

And so the story runs. There is a substantial demand for a public hearing. This bill is admittedly controversial. This House is not now in possession of the facts necessary to enable it to arrive at an intelligent decision as to whether this bill is wise or not wise. Every possible reason of moment to a Legislator would impel us to accord this measure a public hearing, and I repeat that the only reason for not according this measure a public hearing is a fear that what we heard in the public hearing would not be what the majority party wants to hear.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I first of all rise to oppose this motion. The gentlemen on the other side of the House, at least, the three gentlemen who have spoken have given me quite a bit of ground to cover and I do not know just where to start.

Since I was rude enough to interrupt the gentleman from Westmoreland, I would like to begin with the statement that we will tax the armed services. That is quite true. But I think that if he refers to the Federal Government's Income Tax Act, he will find that they also tax the armed services, except in combat zones. Our bill is written on that same basis.

I would also like to clarify something else he said. He stated that Public Assistance, or Social Security was taxable. If he will refer to Bill 840 he will find that Social Security is not taxable under this bill.

Most of the questions the Minority Leader has asked me are answered, I am sure, in the budget. As I said yesterday there is always a difference in forecasting. Again I must remind the House that this is not in actuality bookkeeping. It is distinctly forecasting the future.

I wonder if the gentleman on the other side were in our position, whose opinion he would accept in making a budget. I wonder! Would he accept a budget director's opinion with proven past experience, or would he agree with the opinion of almost anyone who wishes to make a forecast of what will happen? I am sure he would find out that there are a lot of groups that like to predict what will happen in the future. I, on this side, still must agree with our own Budget Director. He has proven by past performances as I said yesterday, that a one percent or a two percent average on a billion dollar budget is still a "doggone" good batting average.

As I reminded the gentleman yesterday, I have trouble in my own household every Thursday night with deficiency appropriations. Let me assure him of that, and my budget is far, far from a million dollar budget and it is also only predicted one week in advance.

The gentleman on the other side of the House has asked about Governor Duff's budget, when there would be a difference. Governor Duff did recommend approximately $695 million for his Departments. This was increased by the House Appropriations Committee and approved by the House. The Governor reduced this amount to $725 million, this accounts for $30 million of the difference.

When you take and add to this a deficiency appropriation of $16 million, as set forth in the budget and the $25 million during this biennium, that brings us to $766 million.

Governor Fine recommends $854 million. This I would like to remind him includes $20 million for civil defense, and makes up for operations of our Departments. Now if you take our $30 million plus, the $16 million and the $25 million you have a differential there of approximately $71 million, which is the difference between the figure of $695 and $854.

With regard to recommitting this bill to Committee, I would like to remind the gentleman that this budget has been before the House for a period of at least three weeks and the need for the money, additional money, has been well known.

The principle of the bill is not a new principle. This principle of an income tax has been known for weeks. We have all discussed it among ourselves. We have discussed it as individuals. We have discussed it with the minority party. This bill sets forth the principles of an income tax. The administration of it is mechanical.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, before the gentleman leaves the microphone will he tell us just exactly the reason why he does not want a public hearing? I am not now interested in the merits of the bill. I am interested in the reason why the gentleman does not want a public hearing.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I think that the reasons I am giving will probably be sufficient by the time I have finished.

As I said there has been study of the principles of the bill for weeks. As we all know, it has been talked of in the papers—the newspapers have talked about an income tax. They have compared it with other taxes. As I said the bill only states the principle, and the administration methods are mechanical.

They are technical, but they are similar to the federal act which we all know.

These bills have been introduced into this House and have been on our calendar for over a week. I think we as Members have had sufficient time to study them. I would also like to remind the gentleman that because of the broad base of taxation which everyone has recommended there are only two methods we have to broaden the base. That is an income tax which we had talked about which the papers have talked about, and a sales tax.

I would also like to remind the gentleman that we are not breaking precedent in our tax procedure, because I am sure, if his memory serves him right, the cold facts will come to light. In 1937 when we were in the minority and the gentleman's party was in power they passed many tax bills in the House in five days. I do not believe we are breaking any records when we pass ours when they have been on the House calendar for over a week.

The gentleman has asked some other questions which I hope I can answer correctly although cannot make them definite.

Mr. ANDREWS. Is the gentleman willing to accept all of the other precedents set by the Earle administration?

If he is so very much convinced by one, does he go the distance?

Mr. SMITH. I do not believe Mr. Speaker, that that was a precedent. I think the Earle administration probably followed a precedent.

I was going to try to answer some of the questions the gentleman asked me on administration. I can only answer them approximately.

I understand that New York State which has an income tax although it is not similar to ours, and probably is a little bit more complicated, uses about two thousand people in administration. California under similar circumstances, although their tax is not exactly as ours and is more complicated, has about twenty-five hundred. We estimate in Pennsylvania—approximately fifteen hundred to two thousand.

Our tax is not a complicated income tax, it is a very simple procedure. I understand it would cost probably about two to three percent for collections.

I hope that answers the gentleman's questions.

In fact it is all I can answer at this stage as far as collection and as far as the number of people that would be involved in the collection are concerned.

I am sure, Mr. Speaker, we do not need a public hearing. I myself have had very few requests for a public hearing. We have considered the bill; we have had sufficient time, and I suggest that we vote down this motion to recommit these bills.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

NOT VOTING—6

Barkdoll,	Moore, C. E.,	Shoemaker,	Whalley,
Miller, J. C.,	Murray,

So the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the Article?
It was agreed to.

The second to sixth articles inclusive and title were separately read and agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, in the start I would like to ask the Members of the House "Let's be fair."

You have refused the opportunity of a public hearing on this bill. We have no other alternative but to discuss the merits of this bill on second reading, third reading and of course especially on second reading, and to hope that the newspapers will at least, give to the people of Pennsylvania the facts and the mistakes that we may make in discussing the bill.

In the first place I say it is unfair to consider this piece of legislation of a flat income tax and compare it in any way with the Federal government's graduated income tax. I say to you that this House of Representatives and the Committees have recommended that we change the Constitution of the state of Pennsylvania so that we can have a graduated income tax in this state that will compare with the Federal government's.

The gentleman on the other side states that the Federal government taxes the veteran. But he did not state that under the Federal government income tax there is an exemption, in the first place, of $600. If we had a graduated income tax in Pennsylvania we could have done likewise.

In the second place a married man is given other exemptions. Personally I am not clear on this particular piece of legislation when you say that you can exempt this particular person, or that particular income. That is a question of constitution.

Under the laws of the state of Pennsylvania, taxation must be equal. You do not exempt any particular group. You talk about social security and you say you exempt social security under this act. Do you say that the man that receives a small pension from a corporation is exempted? Under the constitution, how do you exempt? That is what I want to know. That is the reason I want a public hearing on this bill.

I do not say that we are all wizards because we are Members of the Legislature. Men debate the Constitutionality of legislation. I hope that you can exempt under our Constitution, under this flat income tax, certain groups. But I am not positive in my mind, if you are in yours, that you can exempt.

I want to say that I think it is a disgrace in the state of Pennsylvania, in a state as wealthy as the State of Pennsylvania, that our Governor or our Members of the Legislature say to the people of Pennsylvania, "We cannot find any other way of taxation, only taking it from the poor people of Pennsylvania."

You may say the amount is small. A man with a wife and family, fifty cents out of his pay envelope deprives his family of something that they could have been given.

It may sound small to you and it may sound small to me, but it does not sound small to the man that has to stretch every penny in order to give to his family. I know you will say, "well the cost of living." Sure, we walk into the stores today and where we paid fifteen cents yesterday, we pay twenty cents today. Where we stayed in our hotel room for $4, it is $4.50. Who kicks about that? That is the reason why I wish the Members on this side of the House and those of you on the other side that know and I know some of you feel that it is not the right thing to do to pass this legislation without a public hearing and give the people the opportunity to be heard, because I know some of you men feel that way about it.

We finally come in the state of Pennsylvania to where we say we will put this tax along with the other taxes in the municipalities under Act 481. Some of the people do not know today yet that they are going to pay both taxes, because we passed 481 with the distinct understanding that you could tax under 481 anything that the state government did not tax. The people do not realize today that you are going to amend 481 and the other acts in order to allow double taxation, out of the envelopes of the men who go to work, do not forget that.

I hope everyone will get up and have his say on this bill on second reading, because you have closed the door. I offer no apologies for taking the time of the House, because you had the opportunity. We are not going to save the time of this House and give it a public hearing. It is not that important that we could not be heard in a public hearing and save the time of the House of Representatives. I hope since you refused to give us a public hearing that every man gets up and has his say if we stay here until kingdom come.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I hate to take such a different position from that of the gentleman from Westmoreland. Generally he is a pretty easy fellow to get along with. But I certainly think that he is not being fair when he stands on the floor of this House and makes the statement that the income tax hits only the poor. I am sure if he would read the bill, he would find that the income tax hits all kinds of incomes, the doctor, the lawyer and the small business man, it not only affects the poor—I see the gentleman is shaking his head. I might have misunderstood him, but I thought he said this income tax hits only the poor.

I would also like to disagree with the gentleman when he says that we in this House should worry about the constitutionality of the bill. I can agree with him on a part of it; but after all this bill was drawn up by our Justice Department and by our Legislative Reference Bureau and I have faith when those men say we are not breaking any constitutional provision in voting on this tax.

Again the gentleman seems to think that the Federal government is the only one that has the right to tax us. I would like to report to him that we in Pennsylvania, I think I am right on these figures, are probably about forty-third in the nation on a per capita tax basis. God knows we cannot say that for the Federal government.

I would also like to say again to the gentleman that the Democratic party has put this country under the greatest tax burden that we have ever had in our existence and this income tax in the state of Pennsylvania is not doing that.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I do not wish to prolong this debate. However, it seems to me that the public, not only here in Pennsylvania, but throughout the nation has been looking forward to economies in government. I think the gentlemen on the other side who have been in the forefront on the question of economies on the federal basis, should be those most anxious at this time to see that economies are effected here in our own state governmental setup.

It is altogether possible that if we were to eliminate the fat from the budget, as the gentleman from Cambria has been pointing out now for weeks, if we were to cut to the bone it would not be necessary to impose this tax. Before we proceed with such haste in passing legislation of this nature, we in the Legislature at least should be in the lead to eliminate unnecessary expenditures which are undoubtedly being made by many of the Departments of the Commonwealth.

I ask the Members of this House to vote against this measure until such steps are taken.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, has the Majority Leader finished?

Mr. SMITH. I would like to answer that after the gentleman makes his statement, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. I have no statement to make.

Mr. SMITH. I thank the gentleman.

I would like to remind the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Speaker, that if he had checked our budget, he would find that we have effected economies; that our budget today is approximately the same as it was during the last biennium. We have effected economies ourselves.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, has the discussion ceased?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is of that opinion.

Mr. ANDREWS. Then, Mr. Speaker, since everybody is in such a hurry I will ask for a roll call on the question whether the bill passes on second reading.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Andrews and Mr. Rose.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. Lovett, Rose and Maxell.

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes to the House a group of seventy-five students of Reading High School, members of the class on Problems of American Democracy. They are here under the supervision of Mr. Norman C. Brillhart of the High School staff, assisted by Mr. Bernhart. They are the guests of the gentlemen from Berks, Messrs. Readinger and Kubacki.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 841, entitled:

An Act to reenact and further amend the title and the act, approved the sixteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 208), entitled, as amended, "An act to provide revenue for State purposes by imposing an excise tax, for a limited period of time, on the net incomes of certain corporations, joint-stock associations, and limited partnerships; providing for the assessment, collection, settlement and re-settlement of taxes, and reviews and appeal therefrom; conferring powers, and imposing duties on certain persons, corporations, joint-stock associations, limited partnerships, State, and county officers, boards, and departments; making an appropriation; and providing penalties," by increasing the rate of tax, and extending the provisions of the act for a further limited period of time.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 842, entitled:

An Act to further amend section twenty-one of the act, approved the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred eighty-nine (P. L. 520), entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation,' approved the seventh day of June, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine," postponing the manufacturing exemption with regard to capitol stock tax and the franchise tax on domestic and foreign corporations, joint-stock associations, limited partnerships and companies, for a further limited period of time.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 843, entitled:

An Act to further amend section twenty-three of the act, approved the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred eighty-nine (P. L. 420), entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine," by increasing for a further limited period of time the rate of tax imposed upon the gross receipts of certain companies, limited partnerships, associations, joint-stock associations, copartnerships and persons.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 844, entitled:

An Act to reenact and further amend the title and the act, approved the fourteenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 341), entitled, as amended, "An act to provide revenue by imposing a State tax upon sales or gifts of cigarettes by dealers as herein defined: requiring persons engaged in the sale of cigarettes at wholesale and retail to secure permits; prescribing the method and manner of collecting such tax; conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Revenue, and persons, as herein defined, engaged in the sale of cigarettes at retail or wholesale; and providing penalties," by providing that the provisions of said act shall continue in effect until repealed.

The first and second sections and title were separately read and agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill, or whoever speaks for him, why it has been decided to freeze the cigarette tax into the permanent tax structure of this Commonwealth. Why the other emergency taxes ride as emergency taxes and why this particular tax becomes in effect a permanent tax?

Mr. YEAKEL. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, this may seem like a very peculiar reason, but I am telling the gentleman the truth. The cigarette people themselves asked to have this tax made permanent.

Mr. ANDREWS. Is that any good reason why cigarette smokers should be perpetually sentenced to this particular tax?

Mr. SMITH. Cigarette smokers, if they have will power, can always stop smoking, or they can repeal it. I do not think the gentleman has any personal issue in this bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Philadelphia.

I thank him for the thought of having suggested a greater stress upon what can be termed discretionary taxes. I notice there is no tax on tobacco. I use a lot of tobacco, but a lot of people get along without tobacco and if there were a tobacco tax, it would be discretionary as to whether I paid the tax. As the gentleman from Philadelphia has pointed out, it is discretionary whether the taxpayer pays the cigarette tax. Now there is a booze tax, for instance. That is a discretionary tax. It is my discretion not to pay that tax. So I am just wondering why the gentleman has brought us a tax program that stressed discretionary taxes that can be paid at the discretion of the taxpayer rather than the mandated taxes that everybody has to pay. I would like to have his view as to that. Why they have not brought in that kind of a tax program that stresses discretionary taxes a little harder.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, the only answer I can give the gentleman is this: if we keep on increasing discretionary taxes, I am sure that the gentleman has heard of the law of diminishing returns, we can tax out of existence.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, what a glorious day it would be if we taxed tobacco out of existence, if we taxed cigarettes out of existence and if we taxed booze out of existence. Would not that be just wonderful in this State of Pennsylvania.

Now, Mr. Speaker, the cigarette tax has long been riding as an emergency tax, as part of a crazy quilt tax structure. Nothing is done to remedy the crazy quilt aspect of the tax structure by making this particular tax perpetual. By freezing into a non-descript tax structure, a tax to be wiped out as, if and when we had a sane sensible tax structure, we would have no reason to question that attitude. Out of all the taxes that have been riding as emergency taxes, you freeze the cigarette tax into the tax structure. You simply delay the day when we will get a sensible tax system.

And so, I shall urge, I do not know with what success, the members of the minority group to oppose this bill unless it is amended to take out the permanent feature of this particular tax.

It would save the time of the House, it would save considerable debate. You get to the same place, there is not any reason why you should go to particular lengths: to please the cigarette people. They have got to pay the tax either way. You will have a lot smoother sailing with this particular program, if you will just amend this bill and continue it as an emergency tax. It is concession that you ought to grant to the cigarette smokers.

We want to make all of them our friends. We are trying to do all we can for them and we think they will be useful in a future election if we go out and struggle to take part of the burden from them.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman surprises me. I am surprised that an ardent pipe-smoker would go out after cigarette smokers' votes.

I would like to remind the gentleman that he does not need to worry too much about this tax. This tax can be wiped out as any other tax can be wiped out. We in this state can do that at any time the Legislature is so disposed. Making it permanent means that two years from now, if we in this Legislature feel like wiping it out, that is our prerogative and it can be wiped out just as easily whether it be permanent or whether it be on a temporary basis.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, a very brief rejoinder. The gentleman has expressed astonishment that we should be interested in votes. We are not compelled in this session to struggle hard for them, since the majority group is handing us so many.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 845, entitled:

An Act to reenact and amend the title and the act, approved the ninth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (Special Session of one thousand nine hundred thirty-six, P. L. 13), entitled "An act imposing an emergency State tax for a limited period of time on liquor, as herein defined, sold by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board; providing for the collection and payment of such tax; and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue and the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board," as previously reenacted and amended, by extending the provisions thereof, for a further limited period of time

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 846, entitled:

An Act to further amend section three of the act, approved the fifth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 285), entitled, as amended "An act imposing a State tax, payable by those herein defined as manufacturers and by others, on malt or brewed beverages used, sold, transported, or delivered within the Commonwealth; prescribing the method and manner of evidencing the payment and collection of such tax; conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Revenue, and those using or engaged in the sale, at retail or wholesale, or in the transportation of malt or brewed beverages taxable hereunder; and providing penalties," increasing the rates of certain taxes for further limited period of time.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

HOUSE BILLS 840, 841, 842, 843, 844, 845, and 846 MADE SPECIAL ORDER

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bills 840, 841, 842, 843, 844, 845 and 846 be made a special order of business in their order on third reading and final passage on Wednesday, April 4, 1951 at 1:30 p. m.

The motion was agreed to.

PUPILS OF NORTHUMBERLAND JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes to the House pupils of the Northumberland Junior High School, under the supervision of their Principal, Harold Bollinger and their teacher, Terry Musser. They are the guests of the gentleman from Northumberland, Mr. Bower.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 215, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 30 of the act, approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 448), entitled "An act relating to fish; and amending, revising, consolidating, and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth," by increasing the legal size of pickerel that may be taken from inland waters.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 217, entitled:

An Act assenting to the provisions of the Act of Congress, entitled "An act to provide that the United States shall aid the States in fish restoration and management projects, and for other purposes," approved August ninth, one thousand nine hundred and fifty, and conferring certain powers and duties on the Pennsylvania Fish Commission.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar, by Mr. WOOD.

The House resumed the consideration on second reading of House Bill No. 24, entitled:

An Act to amend Section 304 of the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, or Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers, and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers; fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers; providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments, boards, and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," by increasing the membership of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission.

The first section was read.

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. WOOD offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 304), page 3, line 18, by striking out the word "two" and inserting in lieu thereof: "four".

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 304), page 3, line 19, by striking out the word "one" where it appears the first time in said line and inserting in lieu thereof: "two".

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 304), page 3, line 19, by striking out the word "one" where it appears the second time in said line and inserting in lieu thereof: "two".

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 304), page 5, lines 5 and 6, by striking out all of line 5 and the words "of Representatives respectively" in line 6 and inserting in lieu thereof: "Governor".

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The second section and title were separately read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 696, as follows:

Section 4 Section 11 of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-second day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 844) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 11 This act shall not apply to fraternal organizations incorporated under the laws of the Commonwealth religious organizations raising funds for religious purposes colleges schools universities or associations of alumni or alumnae thereof raising funds for fellowships or scholarships federated women's clubs labor unions municipalities or subdivisions thereof nor to charitable institutions or agencies required by the provisions of existing law to file reports with the Department of [Welfare] Revenue or with any other department or office of the Commonwealth nor to any war veterans' organization or any subordinate units thereof whenever the purpose for which it is soliciting funds has been approved by the Department of Military Affairs

Section 5 The provisions of this act shall become effective the first day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-one Provided That all certificates of registration heretofore issued to any individual shall continue to be effective for the balance of the period for which issued and the provisions of the act hereby amended shall remain in force as to such certificates until they expire The amendments made by this act shall not apply in the case of any violation committed prior to the effective date hereof

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am not opposed to this bill but I am curious as to the reasons why they would want to transfer enforcement and administration and facts relating to solicitation, monies and properties for charitable organizations from the Department of Welfare which would seem to me to be informed as to the needs to the Department of Revenue which would not have the information or the experience that the Department of Welfare has. I am just curious as to the reasons.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 201 is a departmental measure. It provides for transferring to the Department of Revenue the administration and the enforcement of all the provisions of the Solicitations Act. The Department of Welfare says that they are not set up to either enforce or carry out the provisions of the Solicitations Act and they feel that the Department of Revenue is and does have the equipment to carry out the Act.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 202, as follows:

An Act to further amend Section 2445 of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1206) entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by authorizing the issuance of non-debt revenue bonds for the alteration addition to or enlargement of existing sewers sewer systems and sewage treatment works and the pledging of revenue derived from the existing system in payment of such bonds and authorizing the issue and sale of non-debt revenue bonds at one time The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 2445 of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1206) entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" as reenacted and amended by the act approved the twenty-seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1955) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 2445 Sewer Bonds For the purpose of financing the cost or expense or its share of the cost or expense of constructing or acquiring a sewer sewer system or sewage treatment works or for the purpose of financing the cost or expense or its share of the cost or expense of altering making additions to or enlarging an existing sewer sewer system or sewage treatment works either singly or jointly with other municipalities or townships or both any township may issue non-debt revenue bonds secured solely by a pledge in whole or in part of the annual rentals or charges for the use of such sewer sewer system or sewage treatment works including in the case of alterations or additions to or enlargement of existing sewers sewer systems or sewage treatment works annual rentals or charges derived from the use of the then existing sewers sewer systems or sewage treatment works Said bonds shall not pledge the credit nor create any debt nor be a charge against the general revenues nor be a lien against any property of the township but shall be a lien upon and payable solely from the annual rentals or charges for the use of said sewer system or sewage treatment works

Whenever any township has enacted an ordinance or resolution imposing a sewer rental or charge upon properties to be served by such sewer system or sewage treatment works when the same is completed or in the case of alterations or additions to or enlargement of an existing sewer system or sewage treatment works when the same is completed and has pledged sufficient of the revenues being derived or to be derived therefrom for the payment of the interest and sinking fund charges on such non-debt revenue bonds it shall have power to authorize the issue and sale of such non-debt bonds at one time or from time to time as the work of construction proceeds and sufficient additional non-debt revenue bonds as may be necessary may be issued and sold to provide for the interest and sinking fund charges accruing thereon until said sewer system or sewage treatment works or the alteration or addition to or enlargement thereof has been completed and has been in operation for not exceeding one year in order to provide sufficient revenues until such time as sewer rentals or charges may be collected from the owners of properties being served

Nothing in this section shall be construed to abridge or restrict or in any way impair the right of any township to create indebtedness in accordance with existing laws

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

NOT VOTING—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence,

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 539, entitled:

An Act requiring approval of the interested electorate to initiate housing projects

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

MOTION TO MAKE HOUSE BILL 539 SPECIAL ORDER

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill 539 be made a special order of business on third reading and final passage on Monday, April 9, at 5:30 p. m.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, some days ago I called the attention of the Chair to the fact that next Monday evening the Philadelphia Delegation was going to participate in the Jefferson Day Dinner and that we hoped that there would be no special business.

The SPEAKER. The Chair regrets that he did not remember at the time this motion was made, the conference he had with the Minority Leader, although there is a note on the Chair's desk to that effect.

The Chair would therefore request the gentleman from Mercer, Mr. Young, to withdraw his motion. The Chair understands the request did come from the minority but the gentleman from Mercer, Mr. Young, was not acquainted with the conference had between the Minority Leader and the Chair.

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, I will withdraw the motion but I would like to find out something from the other side of the House. They are the ones that suggested this to me. After all, they should know when they want it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Make it Tuesday.

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman sure they do not have a party Tuesday?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, we are awaiting invitations.

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, do not wait on one from me.

HOUSE BILL 539 MADE SPECIAL ORDER

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill 539, Printer's No. 127 be made a special order of business on third reading and final passage on Tuesday, April 10th at 2:00 p. m.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, several weeks ago when the Republicans had a party we saw fit to invite all of the minority. I am wondering why they cannot be as gracious and invite us, because if Mr. Jefferson is going to speak I would like to hear some of his philosophies.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, if we had an angel for our party, with unlimited funds, we would be glad to invite all of the Members on the other side of the House to attend the party. But since it is necessary for all those who attend the function in Philadelphia to come across with our own bucks, rather than bucks from any other quarter, we really do not have the funds with which to comply with the gentleman's request.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 716, as follows:

A Supplement to the act approved the twenty-seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (Appropriation Acts page 62) entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I am not arising at this particular time to oppose this bill. I think it is what is needed because of the fact we must pay the employees of the Department of Justice for the work that is now being carried on.

Being from a rural county and not knowing much about the manipulations in these larger centers, I would like to have some information before we take the vote. Therefore I would like to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader, Mr. Smith.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that I am now working as whip, I yield to Mr. Johnson.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask of Mr. Johnson what the purpose of the $200 thousand is?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of the $200 thousand deficiency appropriation is for various things. First of all, as the gentleman has stated, to pay the pay raises of the employees of the Department of Justice which were put on during the last year by our former Governor.

The balance of the deficiency is as a result of probes which have been conducted by the Justice Department. One of which is in the City of Philadelphia where to date we have spent $47,455.16 on that particular probe. The other probe is the one in the City of Pittsburgh where the sum of $61,206 has been spent to date. It is estimated that it will cost about $74 thousand more to finish those two particular probes which will roughly make up the $200 thousand deficiency.

Mr. WILLIAMS. How much of this balance do you except to spend in the City of Pittsburgh, and when do you expect to complete investigations?

Mr. JOHNSON. I would say roughly that the greater part of the $74 thousand will be spent in the Pittsburgh investigation. I believe approximately $10 thousand more will be spent in the City of Philadelphia probe.

Mr. WILLIAMS. When did the probe in Pittsburgh start?

Mr. JOHNSON. I would say generally speaking in the year 1950.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Would you say about June?

Mr. JOHNSON. I do not have the exact date. It started at a time when a certain death occurred in the City which brought about great suspicions of public fraud in that particular city.

Mr. WILLIAMS. When did the probe start in the City of Philadelphia?

Mr. JOHNSON. I believe the probe in the City of Philadelphia has, roughly, been going on for a period of approximately two years.

Mr. WILLIAMS. The appropriation for the 1949-1951 biennium for the Department of Justice was what amount?

Mr. JOHNSON. I believe the original appropriation was $1,200,000 is that correct? I do not have the budget in front of me.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Then the $200 thousand deficiency appropriation will raise that to $1,400,000.

Mr. JOHNSON. That would be correct.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask at least one more question.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. WILLIAMS. The appropriation for 1951-1953 for the Department of Justice is in what amount?

Mr. JOHNSON. I believe it is $1,300,000.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Well I need one more question, then I will be through. Do you know whether or not the Department of Justice contemplates any further investigation as to other counties in the Commonwealth and if so why did they not appropriate more money?

Mr. JOHNSON. I cannot answer that question. I am sure that our new Attorney General, if he feels that the need arises, will conduct probes at places when necessary.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I did not contemplate taking too much time in the House, but I can see from the figures that I have at my disposal here that in Pittsburgh during the eight or nine months the probe is going on you will spend something like $135 thousand for a period of nine months. In the City of Philadelphia for a period of two years you are spending something like $57 thousand.

Now in the probe in Pittsburgh, I do not believe that the Department of Justice has uncovered anything that the District Attorney in Allegheny County did not have at the time the probe started. He told them what he had for them but they wanted to come in because of the fact that the then Attorney General, Charles Margiotti, arch enemy of the Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh, wanted to make it look like there was a great deal of graft going on in the City of Pittsburgh.

I do not know whether there is a whitewash job going on in Philadelphia or not but it looks to me, just being a small pupil, that there might be something wrong somewhere.

I am possibly going to have to call the gentleman back because I wanted to ask a few other questions.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman tell me how many indictments have been obtained in the investigation in the City of Pittsburgh?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman's question, to date the free work phase of the investigation in Pittsburgh has been completed. In this phase, the special grand jury recommended thirteen indictments and the regular grand jury returned true bills in these indictments.

In the McKees Rocks phase, which is the gambling and rackets investigation, the special grand jury recommended thirty-six indictments and the regular grand jury returned true bills in all these cases. In the electrical permit phase which had to do with certain frauds in the building inspectors division as I understand it, the special grand jury recommended three indictments and the regular grand jury returned true bills in these.

They are presently engaged in the Homestead phase of the investigation which is rackets and gambling as I understand it, so I do not believe that any indictments have yet been handed down in that particular phase. The special grand jury has been in session since October 16, 1950.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Do you know how many indictments have been obtained in the investigation or probe in Philadelphia and from what departments?

Mr. JOHNSON. There have been twenty-eight indictments in the City of Philadelphia investigation. Of the twenty-eight people indicted there have been eight pleas of guilty and eight sentences to date. There have been three trials by Mr. O'Neil's office and three convictions. They have eleven cases yet to try. There were to have been twelve additional cases but one of the defendants committed suicide. I might say further that it is contemplated that there will be additional indictments within the next ten days.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Did you say suicide or suicides? How many have committed suicide in Philadelphia since the probe started?

Mr. JOHNSON. I am sorry I do not have the figures. Of the twelve defendants that remained to be tried, one of those particular ones did commit suicide.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Do you know of any others down there that are contemplating suicide?

Mr. JOHNSON. I am wondering could the gentleman inform me as to that?

Mr. WILLIAMS. That is all, thank you.

Mr. Speaker, I do not know, but I believe we do not have enough money in the budget for the Department of Justice to carry on its work in the next biennium. I believe the Governor made a mistake and I think Mr. Andrews was right when he said that in many particulars we do not have enough money and in others we may have too much. I think there should have been at least $2 million to complete these probes.

We on this side have nothing to hide. We are not ashamed of a thing, so we are willing to extend these probes if anybody so desires, to many more counties of the Commonwealth.

We know there have been many discrepancies in the City of Philadelphia and it looks to me as if there might be a whitewash job taking place down there, because of the fact that just by the number of clippings I have here from the newspapers, and the remarks that were made by the Republican candidates at the primary election in 1950 where they accuse one another of graft, white slavery, and what not, there must have been some boodle somewhere. They were fighting over the spoils.

I have any number of clippings here that I could read into the record, where one person voted sixty times. I think perhaps the election board was jailed for a year in that particular case and others have been brought to trial. They have a grand jury probe as they were asking for down there to investigate the water bureau. I think there was some graft connected with that particular department. I think they admitted that the rackets and the cheating had been going on there for years and years.

We have another particular case there where the contractors had to pay for contracts and whatnot, in order to have them expedited and gotten through in a hurry, to employees of the department of housing and sanitation. I think we also had a case down there where we had one asphalt company that seemed to be a big noise down there, that has not been assessed since 1927.

I wonder how deep they have done into that investigation to find out why they were not on the books for that period of time. I think they owe something like $50 thousand in back taxes. I wonder if they have paved anybody's driveways down in Philadelphia for that concession.

I wonder what they have been doing down there during that period of time, there sure has been a lapse somewhere when they were not on the assessment books for twenty-three years.

I might say for myself, we have the Ministerial Association down in southwestern Pennsylvania that have been petitioning for investigations down there and want to bring in the Kefauver Committee. We welcome that investigation in southwestern Pennsylvania.

I talked to our District Attorney last week and I talked to our Sheriff last week in Washington County and they have written letters—in fact the District Attorney has, I know—asking them if they have any specific charges to make down there, and if they do have, to come over and present them and he will go out and make the case.

I talked to Mr. Wycoff in Greene County last Thursday evening, I have talked to Sheriff Emil Fox in Greene County last Thursday evening. They likewise petition investigation of their own counties. We have nothing to hide.

But I wonder if that is so all over this Commonwealth. I wonder if that is so in the heavily populated districts such as Delaware, Chester, Montgomery, Bucks, Luzerne and Dauphin Counties. We know there has been rampant cheating in all of these counties and we say they should get down and investigate them. Rackets in Luzerne, you cannot tell Sunday from Wednesday in Luzerne County.

I know that down in Philadelphia since our fellows took over and it is the same way in Washington County, in Washington County before the Democratic party took over Washington County—if you so desire will name names, you had in the District Attorney's office a Republican down there, you had in the Sheriff's office a Republican and you had the slot machines sitting out on grocery counters. I can tell you who held office during that period. The Democrats went in and cleaned them up.

You come down to our County and investigate any time you want to and the same goes for Greene. I am not talking about the other counties because I cannot defend them at all and have no associations in there. But I know that in Pittsburgh Charles Margiotti came down there of course to try to make votes. He wanted to embarrass Mayor Lawrence, the result is that they are in there and they have not found a thing that they did not have before.

Now since our fellows took over in Philadelphia they have not been able to get an audit of the books. I should have asked one more question, I should have asked what the audit, the independent audit was going to amount to in Pittsburgh, would you care to answer that question, or could you?

Mr. JOHNSON. I will have to say to the gentleman that we do not have that audit here. I cannot give you any figures.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Have you made an independent audit in the City of Philadelphia?

Mr. JOHNSON. I cannot answer that question.

Mr. WILLIAMS. I wonder if Mr. Smith could? He lives there.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SMITH. I will, Mr. Speaker. I can answer that question by saying I do not believe they have. That is my belief. I may be wrong.

Mr. WILLIAM. Mr. Speaker, we have had reports that there are discrepancies in the accounts in Philadelphia which vary anywhere from $6 to $12 million.

Now I do not know anything about that because as I said when I started I am just from one of the rural counties. All we know is what we read in the newspapers and we do not get much about the Philadelphia story down in the western part of the state. But I thought if there was that much of a shortage surely the city government itself or the Department of Justice or somebody here in Harrisburg would ask for the independent audit, the same as they did in Allegheny County, to find out whether those discrepancies really did exist and whether those shortages really were there. Since they have not asked for an audit and have not gotten one I do not know who to blame for it because the Republicans are in power in the City of Philadelphia and they are in power here in Harrisburg so it looks to me as if somebody is trying to protect somebody.

Sometime ago we read in the newspaper down home that there was a great fued going on in the city of Philadelphia between Assistant Superintendent of Police, George M. Richardson, and one Samuel H. Rosenberg of the Department of Public Safety, Director of the Department of Public Safety. I do not know exactly what happened in this particular case, but found that Mr. Richardson was called to Washington to testify before the Kefauver Committee. I do not remember exactly what the testimony was or anything like that, but it seems that this Mr. Rosenberg had accused him of being unfit for his job or they thought that things were not being split right, and he demanded that he be removed from office. I understand that is not the point, but in this newspaper here, dated March 31, 1951, I see where they gave him another chance; they could not fire him. He had too much on them.

It says "George M. Richardson yesterday took up his new duties as commander of the Police pawnbrokers' division on the seventh floor of City Hall after receiving Director of Public Safety, Samuel H. Rosenberg's official transfer order at 10:40 a. m.

The order was delivered by a clerk to Richardson on his first floor office where he had been reporting for duty daily since Rosenberg released him on March 7th as Commander of City Hall Detectives and those working out of seven divisional sections.

Although Richardson remarked: 'Whether it is a proper order, I do not know at this time.' He accepted the directive, said goodbye to the group of assembled detectives and went up to the seventh floor. There he talked over his duties with Martin J. Cusak, senior clerk of the half dozen men who will work with him in sending pawnshops descriptions of stolen articles.

"An unfounded rumor had it that Richardson who was seeking his restoration as Detective Commander through court action was to occupy new first floor offices near his old office." It looks as if they could not get rid of Mr. Richardson. But I brought it for the records.

Let us read into the record "The Philadelphia Story."
"I have been asked to tell you the Philadelphia story.

"The Philadelphia Story is simply the history of a city political machine so long without any effective opposition that it has become corrupt, incompetent and inefficient to a point where it is threatening the very existence of a great city. Nowhere can you find a better example of the old maxim that 'Power leads to corruption and absolute power means absolute corruption.'

"In the mayoralty campaign last fall, the Democratic Party spelled out the situation and spread it from every street corner in the city five nights a week for two months. We know that the people of Philadelphia are not corrupt and are not content with their government. We know that Philadelphia has every advantage of location, of tradition, that a fine population can bring to a great city. But its corrupt municipal government, as exemplified by the Republican Machine in Philadelphia, was keeping Philadelphia from surging forward as it should.

"The people of Philadelphia responded. What's more, they did not lose interest after the election. On the contrary their interest increased. The result was that when the Republican Mayor and City Council attempted to put through an increase in the wage tax, in spite of their definite campaign promise not to increase taxes, the people rebelled and the city administration was forced to appoint a City Investigating Committee known as the 'Committee of 15.' This Committee has only been able to scratch the surface, yet even its preliminary work has revealed that every charge we made last year was true, in fact, we greatly under estimated the situation.

"It has been brought out that every single division of the Office of the Receiver of Taxes has been stealing and pocketing tax money for the past ten years as a regular thing. The Republican Committeemen who were put into the jobs in this department alone, were so money-hungry they even stole receipts from high school football games and children's 'Pop Concerts.'

"An examination given by the 'Committee of 15' to the Auditors in the Office of the Receiver of Taxes, to see their qualifications for their jobs, revealed that out of 32 so-called Auditors, none had had any previous auditing experience and only 4 could accurately multiply and divide. There were only a few who could even add and subtract" That's fine. "These revelations so aroused the Philadelphians that a poll taken by the Evening Bulletin as of the first of July of this year revealed that if we were electing a Mayor in Philadelphia, 70% of the people would vote for the Democratic candidate." That's why they moved those jobs up here.

"The Democratic Party in Philadelphia is a live, fighting Party. Young people are joining us every day, not just in name, but to do hard political work in their divisions and their wards. Over 500 young men and young women who had never before taken part in politics have become Democratic Committeemen and Committeewomen since the election last fall. These young people have increased Democratic registration in their divisions to the highest point it has been since 1936, and by their house to house check-ups have managed to force the Republican Registration Commission to strike off 30,000 'dead-heads' from the voting lists. What is more, we have promised the people of Philadelphia we will not let the present investigation die until there is a real clean-up in the conditions of the city." And that is what we are asking for now.

"We have also promised to see that the persons really responsible for these conditions will be made to assume that responsibility. We are not going to let the 'big shots' off by passing the 'buck' to a lot of 'small fry.' We have served notice on Mr. Morrow, the new Republican City Chairman, that he is not going to get away with starting impeachment proceedings against the Receiver of Taxes, who happens to be his political enemy."

So, Mr. Speaker, I think that we have enough grounds here to ask for a continuation of the investigation in the city of Philadelphia. I see where the Ministerial Association wants to invite the Kefauver Committee on to Southwestern Pennsylvania. I for one right on this floor am willing to invite them to investigate the entire political and physical structure of Pennsylvania. As to gambling rackets or anything that you want and, let the chips fly where they will because I know we Members from the rural county have nothing to fear. I know that in some of the other districts they do have. So that is the reason that I am for this appropriation. There should be 207 votes for it because we want clean government in Pennsylvania and the only way we are going to get it is to have through investigations; not whitewash jobs, and I think that we will come out of it all right.

I have no remarks to make concerning our present Attorney General. I think he is one of the most upright men that we have in this Commonwealth. I served with him in the 1939 and 1941 sessions and always found him to be just and right and I think he will be likewise on this job; but I think his predecessor is nothing more or nothing less than a political henchman and everything that he did was with that intention and not with the intent of cleaning up the state.

Mr. MAZZA. Mr. Speaker, I am certainly happy and proud to concur with my colleague from Washington County on a $2,000,000 appropriation. I am also happy to know that our County has been so lily white in the past sixteen years.

I would also like to ask whether or not in the past sixteen years a Democratic District Attorney has been indicted in Washington County? And also whether the Ministerial Association in our district of Washington has been urging the Governor to clean up the refuse in Washington County.

I also want to assure the Members that I met with the Governor on this problem this morning and he assured me that we will have the clean up in Washington County.

Mr. GEER. Mr. Speaker, I just want to point out for the record that the gentleman has made a statement that in Allegheny County the state probe found nothing that the County did not have already. I hope he had authority for that statement because, in effect, he is making a statement that the County had the records and had not prosecuted, which is the best argument for a state probe that I can think of.

Mr. MIKULA. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Washington.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Williams, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILLIAMS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MIKULA. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Washington remarked that the people of Luzerne did not know Sunday from Wednesday, and I would like to have him tell us how he arrived at that conclusion.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I did not say that the people in Luzerne County did not know Wednesday from Sunday. I said that if you went up to Luzerne County—I made that statement on the spur of the moment, but I will back it up. I will back up that statement, don't you worry. Investigations will back it up too.

Mr. MIKULA. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the gentleman tell how he arrived at that conclusion.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Well, I tell you how I arrived at it. When I was up in Luzerne County visiting a certain family,—down home as a rule if you want to get a drink on Sunday, you have to go to a Club. But up in Luzerne County you can walk into practically any tavern that there is on Sunday and get a drink.

Mr. MIKULA. And that is the basis for that remark?

Mr. WILLIAMS. That is right.

Mr. MIKULA. I would like to ask the gentleman another question. Would you care to read the back of your notes in printed form.

Mr. WILLIAMS. What is that?

Mr. MIKULA. Read from the back of your notes.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Well, I gave some to the newspaperman and some are in the desk. What do you want to ask me about?

Mr. MIKULA. I wondered if you cared to read the printed matter on the back of your notes.

Mr. WILLIAMS. I read everything that I wanted to read. Did you hear what I read?

Mr. MIKULA. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. WILLIAMS. That is right.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, our objection to this bill is that it does not carry a sufficient amount of money to do the job that the Justice Department has undertaken to do.

There has been a great deal of talk about racketeering here, racketeering there and racketeering some other place. I submit to you that probes that are confined to particular counties, particular areas are without moral value.

During the recent campaign a man by the name of Cook, who I presume is an honorable man, and a man by the name Kunkle, who I presume is an honorable man, made sweeping charges that various sections of the hard coal districts in this state were the scenes of corruption; were the scenes of racketeering. The charges made by Cook and Kunkle were such charges that no reputable man had the right to make against another man unless he had some evidence and stay out of jail. If what Cook and Kunkle said was not true, they ought to be in jail; and if what they said in the recent campaign was true, then some other people ought to be in jail.

The time has come when we ought to either take hold of this job of attacking racketeering and local corruption on a state wide basis, or admit we are simply probing here and there for political advantage.

And so I would like to see a bill brought in increasing the appropriations to the Justice Department to the point where it can investigate in every county in this Commonwealth, if there is any reason that there should be an investigation.

The standard of sincerity is whether you are willing to operate on a statewide basis or just want to pick on some particular communities. I endorse what the gentleman from Washington said. We welcome the advent of the Kefauver Committee as we welcome the probing of any legitimate investigation on a statewide basis that may be made by the Justice Department, and the very bill which you brought in for the Justice Department is in itself evident that you do not intend to make a statewide investigation of the evils concerning which you complain.

As a stamp of sincerity, I want to urge that the appropriation for the Justice Department be increased to the point where it can do its job, rather than accept the figure that the budget office has given which circumscribes the efforts of the Justice Department.

Mr. VERONA. Mr. Speaker, can I have these lights turned out. I forgot my dark glasses today.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Williams.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Williams permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILLIAMS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman if he has been in Delaware County.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, yes.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, and may I ask if that is the basis for his charge as given here on the floor.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, what do you mean? The only thing that I said they should, if they are going to investigate, investigate all the heavily populated districts.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, and that is only just a surmise on your part?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, that is right.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, that is all I have.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, the revelations made here today have been very interesting to me and as a consequence I would like to interrogate the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman stated that ten thousand dollars in additional funds are going to be spent in Philadelphia. Am I to understand that ten thousand dollars out of the deficiency appropriation being sought by this measure will be spent to further the investigation now going on in Philadelphia.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would answer the gentleman by saying that it is my information that the Philadelphia probe, that is this phase of the probe, will be completed in about two weeks. They figure that it will take approximately ten thousand dollars with which to complete the probe as contemplated.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, are any of the funds now being sought to be appropriated by this measure to be used in aiding the newly created grand jury probe which has arisen in Philadelphia to ascertain the tie-up between corrupt police officials, racketeers and politicians who are allied with them?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, that sounds like what you call a chewy question. I wish you would break it down.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, may I make myself clear.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, there are a lot of innuendos in the question.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman may not be aware of the fact that a newly created special grand jury has sought to investigate the tie-up between the few corrupt police officials, politicians and racketeers in Philadelphia, and what I would like to ascertain from the gentleman is whether any funds would be given to the grand jury in conducting this investigation.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, we are now speaking on this deficiency appropriation. I would say that it is my information that approximately ten thousand dollars will only be used for cleaning up this phase of the probe. It has nothing to do with the particular probe that you are speaking about. I believe that that will be a County proposition. I could be wrong, however.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I want to ask one more question—no, that is all. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I have listened to the debate here with a great deal of interest. I think most of us in the House who have heard the revelations made throughout the nation by the Kefauver committee have exhibited righteous indignation at what is going on in this country of ours.

I think that most sincere men in the House are interested in wiping out the tentacles that have been wrapped around some of our governmental officials by the group of racketeers who have unfortunately eased themselves into a position where they are able to actually control the selection of public candidates.

We in Philadelphia are about to start a great probe. I think it arises as a result of revelations made by the Kefauver Committee which came into Philadelphia, interrogated a group of individuals, and made certain findings which have caused the people of Philadelphia to rise in wrath and demand that we eliminate conditions which have been exposed by the Kefauver Committee. What we intend to do in Philadelphia of course, is to have a thorough probe.

Judge Lewis has asked the aid of the state. Unfortunately there have not been sufficient funds appropriated to aid Judge Lewis and the special District Attorney who has been assigned to this investigation to make a thorough and proper probe.

As a matter of fact, I read in one of the newspapers, just a few days ago, that Judge Lewis was going to have a conference with His Excellency the Governor, with a view of getting some state police aid.

Obviously this measure does not appropriate any money for that particular purpose. The Minority Leader has indicated that there is a demand for additional funds and if no one on the other side is going to do so, I am going to introduce a measure providing for an appropriation of at least $200,000 to aid in carrying out this grand jury probe of racketeering in Philadelphia.

Most of the people in Philadelphia are aroused by what has been divulged in the last few weeks. Most of us realize that the great majority of the police in Philadelphia are honest, sincere individuals who are trying to do a job. But the few rotten apples in the barrel, with their tie-ups with the criminal element have certainly caused the people of Philadelphia to hang their heads in shame.

If we cannot get any additional funds to carry it on through this appropriation, I am going to introduce in the next few days a measure providing for the appropriation of additional funds to aid our grand jury in ferreting out the racketeers and those dishonest public officials who have been in cahoots with them.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Washington County, Mr. Williams.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington County, Mr. Williams permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he is familiar with a certain trial that is being conducted at the present time, concerning a particular magistrate in Philadelphia.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, no I am not. If I were I would have mentioned it.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, you are not familiar with that?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, no.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Rose?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Rose permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to reiterate that question to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Rose. Whether he is familiar with the fact that at the present time in Philadelphia there is a magistrate who is on trial in our city.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I certainly am. As a matter of fact I spent a few moments the other day, listening to some of the testimony being presented in that proceeding.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman tell me the party that that gentleman is affiliated with at the present time in Philadelphia?

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, the magistrate being tried for certain violations of the Act happens to be a member of the Democratic party.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, will you tell me when he was elected to his present office?

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman happens to have been elected I believe, in 1949. He took office the first part of 1950.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, is not that the election that Mr. Williams referred to that was supposed to clean up the city of Philadelphia?

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, unfortunately, that election did not afford the officials elected an opportunity to thoroughly clean the City of Philadelphia but they are well on the way to doing so.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask Mr. Rose if he will tell me the number of months that the magistrate in question was in office before his office was probed and before they found that there were certain irregularities in office?

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I do not know when the probe actually started, but I assume that he had been in office probably for a period of eight or nine months.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I believe approximately five or six months would be more accurate and when we are speaking in terms of months I think it is better to keep it as accurate as we possibly can.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman may be correct.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, thank you Mr. Rose.

Mr. Speaker, I was very much disappointed when the gentleman from Washington County, mentioned in a facetious manner, and quite a number of Members of the Legislature seemed to accept it as a humorous statement when he referred to a suicide taking place in our city. I am quite certain that he was not familiar with the gentleman in question.

He was an employee of the City of Philadelphia for approximately 30 years. He was a veteran and hero in World War I. He was the Commander of the Henry H. Houston Post of Germantown.

The Justice Department of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, after months of investigation, were able to say that he accepted gratuities in the sum of $377. If that is true, I do not know only God alone knows whether it is or not, because the man destroyed his life on one of the high bridges in our city.

His wife is an invalid. She has been very ill for many, many years. If that finding is true, it amounts to $12.70 per year, approximately, in tips. His trial never took place. Being the type of man that he was in the community, he was unable to stand the charges against him. And that is true with a great many innocent men who have charges thrown at them that amount to peanuts, to use a colloquial expression.

He could not walk down the street, because the newspapers and the radios and other organs in Philadelphia play up something like that to the sky. And he had to destroy his life. Those Members who did not see anything humorous in that statement, I commend you. That is the gentleman who committed suicide.

I am not condoning the actions of anyone, but I think we should be familiar with the facts when someone decides to destroy his life. In addition to that, Mr. Speaker, the magistrate who is on trial at the present time, might be acquitted. I do not know. That is for the court and the jury to decide. I am not going to try him and I have not mentioned the gentleman's name, and I will not, but I would like to say this: that it is not only the Republican party in Philadelphia that has committed mistakes as far as the personnel or the Republican employees of the various offices is concerned.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, perhaps it will be possible to arrive at a very happy agreement. We will help the Republican catch the Republican crooks if the Republicans will help us catch the Democratic crooks. In that way we will be able to clean house and we will be able to clean house on an honest basis instead of cleaning house on a partisan basis.

I find no joy when they convict any man. I would rather personally forgive him and forget. But because of the moral responsibilities and the public we serve, we have to mete out justice to the erring with an even hand. We will get much further if instead of bickering on party lines about this alleged corruption, we follow the formula that I outlined, we will help the Republicans catch the Republican crooks and the Republicans will help us catch the Democratic crooks and we will clean house.

Mr. VARNER. Mr. Speaker, perhaps if we keep this up until dinner time we may turn up a mink coat.

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Williams.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILLIAMS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BOLTON. Has the gentleman ever been in Montgomery County?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Montgomery County? No I have not.

Mr. BOLTON. As a representative of the party of Alger Hiss, William Remington and the $7840 royal pastel mink coat would you tell me then on what basis you included Montgomery in your list of racket infested territories?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I did not say anything about Montgomery being racket infested at all. I would not say anything here to embarrass any Member of this House. I said that if there is going to be an investigation, it should be general, and it should be in the more heavily populated counties, because I do not think the rural counties have it.

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman can come down to Montgomery County any time. We would be glad to see him there. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. WILLIAMS. I do not know a thing about your County, brother.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, there has flared out on the floor today something that was the basis for which I introduced a resolution in this House earlier in this session to create a "little Kefauver Committee," not to investigate Philadelphia, not to investigate just the Republican counties in the state of Pennsylvania, not to investigate just the Democratic counties in the state of Pennsylvania, but to give to the people of Pennsylvania an opportunity to have cleared up for them the things which were exposed by the Kefauver Committee, and which in my opinion now fall back into the hands of our local governments.

The Kefauver Committee has taken that position. They feel that they have opened the door, that it now remains for the local setup and local governments to go inside that door and clean out the rooms that exist in there so far as graft, corruption, gambling, vice and racketeering are concerned. I have heard these things talked about and discussed from time to time. I have had my experiences in that respect as a Legislator in the last three sessions. I know what the people are thinking along these lines because I have received many communications to that effect. We are now not here to make political capital for the Democrats nor political capital for the Republicans. We are here if anything of this kind is going on in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to stamp it out. There is no place for it and there is no room for it in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

We have been arguing on a deficiency appropriation for the Department of Justice which I think has no relation to a lot of the arguments that have taken place on the floor of this House this afternoon on this measure.

However, inasmuch as this question has come up, I want to call your attention to the stand that I have taken on this side of the House in that respect, and I feel that the administration will go along to the extent that where these matters are pointed out to it, they will be taken care of even to the extent of setting up the necessary investigating committees if that is found necessary.

I propose to follow that up and I have in my hands here now the information in connection with the crime committee which has been setup in the State of New York. I propose to follow with a bill in this Legislature asking that a similar crime commission be setup in this state for the purposes of following through in connection with the various charges and counter charges referred to on all of these issues.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Such licenses shall be known as public service liquor licenses. The board may issue a master license to railroad or pullman companies to cover the maximum number of cars which the company shall estimate that it will operate within the Commonwealth on any one day. Such licensees shall file monthly reports with the board showing the maximum number of cars operated in any one day during the preceding month and if it appears that more cars have been operated than covered by its license it shall forthwith remit to the boards the sum of twenty dollars for each extra car so operated.

(b) For the purpose of considering an application by a steamship company for a public service liquor license the board may cause an inspection of the steamship or vessel for which a license is desired. The board may in its discretion grant or refuse the license applied for and there shall be no appeal from its decision except that an action of mandamus may be brought against the board in the manner provided by law.

(c) Every applicant for a public service liquor license shall before receiving such license file with the board a surety bond as hereinafter prescribed payable to the board for each of the maximum number of dining club or buffet cars which the applicant estimates it will have in operation on any one day an annual fee of twenty dollars ($20.00) and for each steamship or vessel for which a license is desired an annual fee of one hundred dollars ($100.00).

(d) Unless previously revoked every license issued by the board under this section shall expire and terminate on the thirty-first day of December in the year for which the license is issued. Licenses issued under the provisions of this section shall be renewed annually as herein provided upon the filing of applications in such form as the board shall prescribe but no license shall be renewed until the applicant shall file with the board a new surety bond and shall pay the requisite license fee specified in this section.

(e) Sales of liquor and malt or brewed beverages by the aforesaid public service company licensees shall be made in accordance with and shall be subject to the provisions of this act relating to the sale of liquors by restaurant licensees.

Section 409 Sacramental Wine Licenses Fees Privileges Restrictions (a) Subject to the provisions of this act in general and more particularly to the following provisions of this section the board shall issue sacramental wine licenses to qualified applicants.

(b) Every applicant for a sacramental wine license shall file a written application with the board in such form as the board shall from time to time prescribe which shall be accompanied by a filing fee of ten dollars a license fee of one hundred dollars and a bond as hereinafter prescribed. Every such application shall contain a description of the premises for which the applicant desires a license and shall set forth such other material information as may be required by the board.

(c) If the applicant is a natural person his application must show that he is a citizen of the United States and a resident of this Commonwealth. If the applicant is an association or partnership each and every member of the association or partnership must be a citizen of the United States and a resident of this Commonwealth. If the applicant is a corporation the application must show that the corporation was created under the laws of Pennsylvania or holds a certificate of authority to transact business in Pennsylvania and that all officers directors and stockholders are citizens of the United States.

(d) Holders of such licenses may purchase from manufacturers or bring or import into this Commonwealth wine to be used for sacramental or religious purposes only and bottle and sell the same to priests clergymen and rabbis for use in the cathedral church synagogue or temple or for sustaining members of the congregation or members of the faith who attend religious services duly certified by such priest clergymen or rabbis. The sale and use of wine for sacramental or religious purposes shall be subject to and in accordance with the regulations of the board.

(e) Any wine purchased under the authority of this section shall not be used for any other than sacramental or religious purposes. Sacramental wine may not be sold by any person except the holder of a sacramental wine license. All original containers from which sacramental wine is dispensed shall bear the official seal of the board.

(f) Every sacramental wine licensee shall maintain on the licensed premises such records as the board may prescribe. No deliveries of sacramental wine shall be made unless and until an order therefor is on file at the principal place of business in Pennsylvania. All shipments into Pennsylvania of wine to be used for sacramental or religious purposes shall be consigned to the principal place of business maintained by the licensee.

(g) Any such license may be suspended or revoked by the board upon proof satisfactory to it that the licensee has violated any law of this Commonwealth or any regulation of the board relating to liquor and alcohol. The procedure in such cases shall be the same as for the revocation and suspension of hotel restaurant and club licenses.

Section 410 Liquor Importers' Licenses Fees Privileges Restrictions (a) Subject to the provisions of this act in general and more particularly to the following provisions of this section the board shall issue liquor importers' licenses to qualified applicants.

(b) Every applicant for an importer's license shall file a written application with the board in such form as the board shall from time to time prescribe which shall be accompanied by a filing fee of ten dollars a license fee of one hundred dollars and a bond as hereinafter required. Every such application shall contain a description of the principal place of business for which the applicant desires a license and shall set forth such other material information as may be required by the board.

(c) The holder of an importer's license may have included in such license one warehouse wherein only his liquor may be kept and stored located in the same municipality in which his licensed premises is situate and not elsewhere unless such licensee secures from the board a license for each additional storage warehouse desired. The board is authorized and empowered to issue to a holder of an importer's license a license for an additional storage warehouse or warehouses located in this Commonwealth provided such licensed importer files with the board a separate application for each warehouse in such form and containing such information as the board may from time to time require accompanied by a filing fee of ten dollars a license fee of twenty-five dollars and a bond of an approved surety company in the amount of ten thousand dollars. Such bond shall contain the same provisions and conditions as are required in the other license bonds under this article.

(d) If the applicant is a natural person his application must show that he is a citizen of the United States and a resident of this Commonwealth. If the applicant is an association or partnership each and every member of the association or partnership must be a citizen of the United States and a resident of this Commonwealth. If the applicant is a corporation the application must show that the corporation was created under the laws of Pennsylvania or holds a certificate of authority to transact business in Pennsylvania and that all officers directors and stockholders are citizens of the United States.

(e) Importers' licenses shall permit the holders thereof to bring or import liquor from other states foreign countries or insular possessions of the United States and purchase liquor from manufacturers located within this Commonwealth to be sold outside of this Commonwealth or to Pennsylvania Liquor Stores within this Commonwealth or when in original containers of ten gallons or greater capacity to licensed manufacturers within this Commonwealth.

All importations of liquor into Pennsylvania by the licensed importer shall be consigned to the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board or the principal place of business or authorized place of storage maintained by the licensee.

(f) Every importer shall maintain on the licensed premises such records as the board may prescribe. Any such license may be suspended or revoked by the board upon proof satisfactory to it that the licensee has violated any law of this Commonwealth or any regulation of the board relating to liquor and alcohol. The procedure in such cases shall be the same as for the revocation and suspension of hotel restaurant and club licenses.

Section 411 Interlocking Business Prohibited (a) No manufacturer and no officer or director of any manufacturer shall at the same time be a holder of a hotel restaurant or club liquor license nor be the owner proprietor or lessor of any place covered by any hotel restaurant or club liquor license.

(b) No manufacturer importer or sacramental wine licensee and no officer or director of a manufacturer importer or sacramental wine licensee shall own any stock or have any financial interest in any hotel or restaurant license under this act.

(c) Excepting as herein provided no manufacturer or officer director stockholder agent or employee of a manufacturer shall in any wise be interested either directly or indirectly in the ownership or leasehold of any property or the equipment of any property or any mortgage lien against the same for which a hotel restaurant or club license is granted nor shall a manufacturer importer or sacramental wine licensee or officer director stockholder agent or employee of a manufacturer importer or sacramental wine licensee either directly or indirectly lend any moneys credit or give anything of value or the equivalent thereof to or guarantee the payment of any bond mortgage note or other obligation of any hotel restaurant or club licensee his servant agent or employee for equipping fitting out or maintaining and conducting either in whole or in part a hotel restaurant or club licensed for the selling of liquor for use and consumption upon the premises.

(d) Excepting as herein provided no hotel licensee restaurant licensee or club licensee and no officer director stockholder agent or employee of any such licensee shall in any wise be interested either directly or indirectly in the ownership or leasehold of any property or the equipment of any property or any mortgage lien against the same used by a manufacturer in manufacturing liquor or malt or brewed beverages nor shall any hotel restaurant or club licensee or any officer director stockholder agent or employee of any such licensee either directly or indirectly lend any moneys credit or give anything of value or the equivalent thereof to any manufacturer for equipping fitting out or maintaining and conducting either in whole or in part an establishment used for the manufacture of liquor or malt or brewed beverages.

(e) Except as herein provided no hotel restaurant or club licensee and no officer director or stockholder agent or employee of any such licensee shall in any wise be interested directly or indirectly in the ownership or leasehold of any property or the equipment of any property or any mortgage lien against the same used by a distributor importing distributor retail dispenser or by an importer or sacramental wine licensee in the conduct of his business nor shall any hotel restaurant or club licensee or any officer director stockholder agent or employee of any such licensee either directly or indirectly lend any moneys credit or give anything of value or the equivalent thereof to any distributor importing distributor retail dispenser importer or sacramental wine licensee for equipping fitting out or maintaining and conducting either in whole or in part an establishment used in the conduct of his business.

The purpose of this section is to require a separation of the financial and business interests between manufacturers and holders of hotel or restaurant liquor licenses and as herein provided of club licenses issued under this article and no person shall by any device whatsoever directly or indirectly evade the provisions of the section. But in view of existing economic conditions nothing contained in this section shall be construed to prohibit the ownership of property or conflicting interest by a manufacturer of any place occupied by a licensee under this article after the manufacturer has continuously owned and had a conflicting interest in such place for a period of at least five years prior to July eighteenth one thousand nine hundred thirty-five. Provided however That this clause shall not prohibit any hotel restaurant or club liquor licensee from owning land which is leased to and the buildings thereon owned by a holder of a retail dispenser's license and nothing in this clause shall prevent the issuance of a retail dispenser's license to a lessee of such lands who owns the buildings thereon.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to call up on page 3 of today's calendar, bills on second reading, House Bill No. 277, Printer's No. 159.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 277, entitled:

An Act to amend section six hundred eighty of the act, approved the tenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30), entitled "An act relating to the public school system, including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto," by requiring new residents and residents becoming of age to notify assessors of such facts; and prescribing penalties.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. McMILLEN offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 680), page 3, by inserting after line 12, the following "The board of school directors shall, at the same time as they give public notice of a proposed budget, include a notice of the requirements of this subsection, together with the name and address of the assessor to be notified."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. EDWIN F. THOMPSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a privileged resolution to be introduced by him.

RESOLUTION

Messrs. EDWIN F. THOMPSON, MINTESS, SAX, CELLA, RUBEN, TAHL, LOFTUS, McCORMACK, WILBUR H. HAMILTON, SMITH and COSTA offered a resolution which was read, considered, and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 3, 1951.

Birthday anniversaries, after a certain age has been attained, become an occasion for a retrospect of the triumphs, the achievements and the happy events of life. In some mysterious and unaccountable way a backward glance passes lightly over our disappointments and failures and tends to linger on the more pleasant aspects of past experience.

Harry Pichney, a Legislator from the 13th District in Philadelphia, can review with pride and satisfaction the many facets of his fifty-one years of an action-packed, a vibrant, and an interesting sojourn on earth. With his children and grandchildren, he and Mrs. Pichney constitute a family group that has been widely acclaimed as a prototype of social compatibility and civic responsibility. His successful career as an insurance counselor, his unusual activity in many fraternal and civic groups, his outstanding legislative ability, and his unstinted willingness to assist his "freshman" colleagues through the maze of procedure and routine that bewilder the novice have widened immeasurably his circle of friends and admirers; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives express its congratulations to the Honorable Harry Pichney on the celebration of his fifty-first birthday anniversary, and its special wishes that abundant health, good fortune, and greater distinction shall come to him in increasing measure through the many years ahead.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Pichney.

Mr. PICHNEY. Mr. Speaker, I deeply appreciate the honor bestowed upon me this afternoon. I wish to thank Almighty God for giving me fifty-one years of good health and prosperity and I further pray that Almighty God will give me additional years so I may enjoy the privileges that our country offers us with regards to taxation in Pennsylvania and the cities and government.

Last evening, Mr. Speaker, the Members of the Republican Philadelphia delegation invited me to a dinner, and believe me, when I say their appetites went to extremes. They dined, and they ate the finest, including wine and champagne—from steaks to lobsters. After the dinner was over Mr. Costa and Mr. Sax, with the assistance of my colleague Dr. Thompson, picked up the bill. They examined it thoroughly and after due examination presented it to me for payment. Now I have two admirers—

The SPEAKER. The Chair accepts the gentleman's kind invitation.

Mr. PICHNEY. I am sorry, Mr. Speaker, I have two admirers in this House and one is our Majority Leader, Mr. Smith, and the other is our talented Minority Leader, Mr. Andrews. I would like to get their opinion whether this was a fair party.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, April 4, 1951

The House met at 12:00 noon.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend Harry Zechman, guest Chaplain, pastor of the Derry Street Evangelical United Brethren Church Harrisburg, and pastor and guest of the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Zeigler, offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father, we would bow in reverent silence and listen for Thy voice above the noise and confusion of our daily toil, for now, as always, we need Thy all wise council and blessing. Keep us from vain thoughts of self sufficiency and give us courage to choose the right be it ever so hard and avoid the wrong though ever so strong.

Give us keen vision as we perform our duties, for we need to see more accurately the results of what we do here, that Thy eternal purpose may not be hindered through any wilful negligence or ignorance due to carelessness on our part. As we see Thy will make us more ready to bend our efforts in that direction so that divine approval and blessing can be upon our honest efforts.

Teach us the way of brotherhood and peace and grant that we may put principle before party, personality and personal pride to the end that right and truth may prevail for the good of all in our Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in America, and in the vast world in which Thy creative powers are at work.

Keep alive in our souls that faith in human freedom and equal opportunity that in our founding fathers gave birth to our beloved nation, and guide us in the preservation of this noble ideal. Forbid that we should lose our heritage through vain attempts to save it by wordly methods. Teach us rather the secret of inner purity and unity that come through faith in God as revealed by Jesus Christ our divine pattern. So may it be. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journal of Tuesday, April 3, 1951? If not, and without objection, the Journal is approved.

United States in any war in which the United States has been engaged and compensation received by any person for active service as a member of the armed forces of the United States for any month during any part of which such person served in a "combat zone" as designated from time to time by the President of the United States by Executive Order

(9) Amounts received by any person as unemployment compensation under the provisions of the Unemployment Compensation Law of this Commonwealth as assistance under the provisions of the Public Assistance Law of this Commonwealth or as social security benefits under the Federal Social Security Act

Section 302 Manner of Computing Taxable Income A The taxable income shall be computed upon the basis of the taxpayer's annual accounting period (fiscal year or calendar year as the case may be) but if the taxpayer's annual accounting period is other than a fiscal year as defined in this act or if the taxpayer has no annual accounting period or does not keep books the taxable income shall be computed on the basis of the calendar year. Such taxable income shall be computed in accordance with the method of accounting regularly employed in keeping the books of such taxpayer but if no such method of accounting has been so employed or if the method employed does not clearly reflect the taxable income the computation shall be made upon such basis and in such manner as in the opinion of the department does clearly reflect such income

B In the case of the death of a taxpayer there shall be included in computing taxable income for the tax year in which falls the date of his death only amounts received up to the date of his death

C If the taxpayer changes his accounting period from fiscal year to calendar year from calendar year to fiscal year or from one fiscal year to another taxable income shall with the approval of the department be computed on the basis of such new accounting period subject to the provisions of section four hundred five of this act

Section 303 Installment Basis A A taxpayer who regularly sells or otherwise disposes of personal property on the installment plan may return as taxable income in any tax year that proportion of the installment payments actually received in that year which the total profit realized or to be realized when the payment is completed bears to the total contract price

B If an installment obligation is satisfied at other than its face value or distributed transmitted sold or otherwise disposed of profit or loss shall result to the extent of the difference between the basis of the obligation and (1) in the case of satisfaction at other than face value or a sale or exchange the amount realized or (2) in case of a distribution transmission or disposition otherwise than by sale or exchange the fair market value of the obligation at the time of such distribution transmission or disposition. Any profit or loss so resulting shall be considered as resulting from the sale or exchange of the property in respect of which the installment obligation was received. The basis of the obligation shall be the excess of the face value of the obligation over an amount equal to the taxable income which would be returnable were the obligation satisfied in full

Section 304 Inventories Whenever in the opinion of the department the use of inventories is necessary in order clearly to determine the income of any taxpayer inventories shall be taken by such taxpayer upon such basis as the department may prescribe conforming as nearly as may be to the best accounting practice in trade or business of such taxpayer and most clearly reflecting the taxable income

Section 305 Ascertainment of Gain and Loss A Gain or profit derived from the sale or exchange of property including capital assets shall be the excess of the gross amount realized from such sale or exchange over the basis of the property plus the expenses incurred in the sale or exchange. Loss sustained upon the sale or exchange of property including capital assets shall be the excess of the basis plus expenses of the sale or exchange over the gross amount realized

B The basis of property shall be in case of property acquired on or after the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-one the cost thereof or the inventory value if the inventory is made in accordance with this act

C In case of property acquired prior to the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and disposed of thereafter

(1) No profit shall be deemed to have been derived if either the cost or the fair market price or value on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-one exceeds the amount realized

(2) No loss shall be deemed to have been sustained if either the cost or the fair market price or value on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-one is less than the amount realized

(3) Where both the cost and the fair market price or value on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-one are less than the amount realized the basis for computing profit shall be the cost or the fair market price or value on the first day of January one higher

(4) Where both the cost and the fair market price or value on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-one are in excess of the amount realized the basis for computing loss shall be the cost or the fair market price or value on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-one whichever is lower

D In the case of property acquired by gift after the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred fifty the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the donor or the last preceding owner by whom it was not acquired by gift except that for the purpose of determining loss the basis shall be the basis so determined or the fair market value of the property at the time of the gift whichever is lower If the facts necessary to determine the basis in the hands of the donor or the last preceding owner are unknown to the donee the department shall if possible obtain such facts from such donor or last preceding owner or any other person cognizant thereof If the department finds it impossible to obtain such facts the basis in the hands of such donor or last preceding owner shall be the fair market value of such property as found by the department as of the date or approximate date at which according to the best information that the tax commission is able to obtain such property was acquired by such donor or last preceding owner

E In the case of property acquired by transfer in trust (other than by a transfer in trust by a bequest or devise) after the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred fifty the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the grantor increased in the amount of gain or decreased in the amount of loss recognized to the grantor upon such transfer under the law applicable to the year in which the transfer was made

F In the case of property acquired by gift or transfer in trust before the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-one the basis for gain or loss shall be determined as provided in subsection C(1) or C(2) of this section except that the word "cost" as used in said subsections shall be deemed to mean the fair market price or value of such property at the time of such acquisition

G If the property was acquired by bequest devise or inheritance or by the decedent's estate from the decedent the basis for gain or loss shall be determined as provided in subsection B or C of this section except that the word "cost" as used in said subsections shall mean the fair market value of such property at the time of such acquisition In the case of property transferred in trust to pay the income for life to or upon the order or direction of the grantor with the right reserved to the grantor at all times prior to his death to revoke the trust the basis in the hands of the persons entitled under the terms of the trust instrument to the property after the grantor's death shall after such death be the same as if the trust instrument had been a will executed on the day of the grantor's death For the purpose of this subsection property passing without full and adequate consideration under a general power of appointment exercised by will shall be deemed to be property passing from the individual exercising such power by bequest or devise In case such property has been appraised (a) for the purpose of Pennsylvania transfer inheritance tax or (b) for death tax purposes by the state of domicile of the transferor or (c) for the purpose of the United States estate tax the appraised value shall be presumed to be the fair market value at the date as of which the appraisal was made but if appraised as of the same date for more than one of such purposes the appraisal for the purpose first specified shall be presumed to be the fair market value

H In the case of property acquired by a partnership if the basis is not otherwise determined under any of the subsections B to G inclusive of this section the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the transferor If property so acquired by a partnership was distributed in kind to any partner the basis in the hands of such partner shall be such part of the basis in his hands of his partnership interest as is properly allocable to such property

I In the case of depreciable property used in a trade or business or held for the production of income a gain otherwise computed under this section shall be increased and a loss otherwise computed shall be decreased by the depreciation previously allowed to the taxpayer in determining his taxable income under this act

Section 306 Exchange of Property Upon the sale or exchange of property the entire amount of the gain or loss determined under section three hundred five of this act shall be recognized except as hereinafter provided in this section

A No gain or loss shall be recognized if properly held for productive use in trade or business or for investment (not including stock in trade or other property held primarily for sale nor stocks bonds notes choses in action certificates of trust or beneficial interest or other securities or evidences of indebtedness or interest) is exchanged solely for property of a like kind to be held either for productive use in trade or business or for investment or if common stock in a corporation is exchanged solely for common stock in the same corporation or if preferred stock in a corporation is exchanged solely for preferred stock in the same corporation

B No gain or loss shall be recognized if stock or securities in a corporation a party to reorganization are in pursuance of the plan of reorganization exchanged solely for stock or securities in such corporation or in another corporation a party to the reorganization

C No gain or loss shall be recognized if property is transferred to a corporation by one or more persons solely in exchange for stock or securities in such corporation and immediately after the exchange such person or persons are in control of the corporation but if the property thus transferred (other than stock in trade) is sold or otherwise disposed of by the corporation within the six months subsequent to such transfer gain or loss to such person or persons shall be recognized as of the date of the exchange the stock or securities received by such person or persons from the corporation being presumed in the absence of proof to the contrary in such case to be of the same value as the amount of the consideration received by the corporation on the subsequent sale or other disposition of such property and it is further provided that in the case of an exchange by two or more persons this subsection shall apply only if the amount of the stock of the stock or securities received by each is substantially in proportion to his interest in the property prior to the exchange

D If property (as a result of its destruction in whole or in part theft or seizure or an exercise of the power or requisition or condemnation or the threat or imminence thereof) is compulsory or involuntarily converted into property similar or related in service or use to the property so converted or into money which is forthwith in good faith under regulations prescribed by the department expended in the acquisition of other property similar or related in service or use to the property so converted or in the acquisition of control of a corporation owning such other property or in the establishment of a replacement fund no gain or loss shall be recognized. If any part of the money is not so expended the gain if any shall be recognized but in an amount not in excess of the money which is not so expended.

E If an exchange would be within the provisions of subsections A B or C of this section if it were not for the fact that the property received in exchange consists not only of property permitted by such subsection to be received without the recognition of gain but also of other property or money then the gain if any to the recipient shall be recognized but in an amount not in excess of the sum of such money and the fair market value of such other property.

F If an exchange would be within the provisions of subsections A B or C of this section if it were not for the fact that the property received in exchange consists not only of property permitted by such subsection to be received without the recognition of gain or loss but also of other property or money then no loss from the exchange shall be recognized.

G As used in this section the term "reorganization" means (1) a statutory merger or consolidation or (2) the acquisition by one corporation in exchange solely for all or a part of its voting stock of at least eighty per centum of the voting stock and at least eighty per centum of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock of another corporation or of substantially all the properties of another corporation or (3) a transfer by a corporation of all or a part of its assets to another corporation if immediately after the transfer the transferor or its stockholders or both are in control of the corporation to which the assets are transferred or (4) a recapitalization or (5) a mere change in identity form or place of organization however effected.

The term "a party to a reorganization" includes a corporation resulting from a reorganization and includes both corporations in the case of a reorganization resulting from the acquisition by one corporation of stock or properties of another corporation.

As used in this section "control" means the ownership of stock possessing at least eighty per centum of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote and at least eighty per centum of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock of the corporation.

H When property is exchanged for other property and no gain or loss is realized under the provisions of this section the property received shall be treated as taking the place of the property exchanged therefor.

Returns and Payments of Tax

Section 401 Collection at Source For each calendar year every employer shall deduct and withhold from all taxable income of which he shall have control disposal or payment the tax imposed by this act on residents and nonresidents and shall on or before the thirtieth day of January April July and October of each year beginning with October one thousand nine hundred fifty-one make a return and pay to the department the amount of the tax so deducted for the three-month period ending on the last day of the month preceding. The tax shall be withheld on the basis of each payroll period i e weekly bi-weekly semi-monthly or monthly but if there is no specified payroll period such tax shall be withheld on a per diem basis provided however the first deductions under this act shall be made thirty days after this act becomes effective and shall be accounted for and paid to the department in the return due the thirtieth day of October one thousand nine hundred fifty-one.

Section 402 Returns of Taxpayers A Every taxpayer who has received taxable income during the tax year shall make a return on forms to be prescribed and furnished by the department. If the taxpayer is unable to make his own return the return shall be made by a duly authorized agent or by the fiduciary charged with the care of the person or property of such taxpayer. The fact that a taxpayer's name is signed to a filed return shall be prima facie evidence for all purposes that the return was actually signed by him.

B If the taxable income for any year of any taxpayer as returned to the United States Treasury Department is changed or corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or other officer of the United States or other competent authority or where a renegotiation of a contract or subsequent with the United States results in a change in such income such taxpayer shall report such change or corrected income or the results of such renegotiation within thirty days after the final determination of such change or correction or renegotiation and shall concede the accuracy of such determination or state wherein it is erroneous. Any taxpayer filing an amended Federal income tax return shall also file within thirty days thereafter an amended return with the department which shall contain such information as it shall require.

C If a taxpayer during the tax year changes his status from that of resident to that of nonresident or from that of nonresident to that of resident he shall file two returns one as a resident covering the fraction of the year during which he was a resident and one as a person other than a resident covering the fraction of the year during which he was a nonresident.

Section 403 Partnership Returns Every partnership shall make a return for each tax year stating specifically the items of its gross income capital gains capital losses and expenses and shall include in the return the names and addresses of the individuals who would be entitled to share in the taxable income if distributed and the amount of the distributive share of each individual. The return shall be executed by any one of the partners.

Section 404 Fiduciary Returns Every fiduciary (except receivers appointed by authority of law in possession of part only of the property of a taxpayer) shall make a return for the individual or estate or trust for which he acts as follows:

A If he acts for an individual whose entire income from whatever source derived in his charge.

B If he acts (1) for an estate of a deceased person during the period of administration or settlement whether or not the income of such estate during such period of administration or settlement is properly paid or credited to any legatee heir or other beneficiary (2) or an estate or trust the income of which is accumulated in trust for the benefit of unborn or unascertained persons or persons with contingent interests or (3) for an estate or trust the income of which is held for future distribution or is distributable in the discretion of the fiduciary under the terms of the will or trust.

C If he acts (1) for an estate or trust the income of which is to be distributed to the beneficiaries periodically or (2) as the guardian of an infant whose income is to be held or distributed as the court may direct. The return made by a fiduciary shall state specifically the items of the gross income capital gains capital losses and expenses. Under such regulations as the department may prescribe a return made by one or two or more joint beneficiaries shall be sufficient compliance with the above requirement. The fiduciary shall certify that he has sufficient knowledge of the affairs of the individual estate or trust for whom or which he acts to enable him to make the return and that the same is to the best of his knowledge and belief true and correct. Fiduciaries required to make returns under this article shall be subject to all the provisions of this article which apply to taxpayers.

Section 405 Returns When Accounting Period Changes If a taxpayer with the approval of the department changes the basis of computing taxable income from fiscal year to calendar year a separate return shall be made for the period between the close of the last fiscal year for which return was made and the following thirty-first day of December. If the change is made from calendar year to fiscal year a separate return shall be made for the period between the close of the last calendar year for which return was made and the date designated as the close of the fiscal year. If the change is made for the period between the close of the former fiscal year and the date designated as the close of the new fiscal year If a taxpayer making his first return for income tax keeps his accounts on the basis of a fiscal year he shall make a separate return for the period between the beginning of a calendar year in which such fiscal year ends and the end of such fiscal year

Section 406 Time and Place of Filing Returns A Returns shall be made to the department on or before the fifteenth day of April in each year in the case of taxpayers reporting on the basis of a calendar year and in the case of taxpayers reporting on the basis of a fiscal year returns shall be made on or before the fifteenth day of the fourth month following the close of such fiscal years or the fifteenth day of the fourth month following the month in which his act becomes effective whichever is later Returns shall be in such form shall contain the taxpayer's name residence address items of taxable income received and such other information as the department may from time to time prescribe and shall be filed with the department at its main office or at any branch office which it may establish Each return shall contain the certificate of the person making the return to the effect that the statements contained therein are true Blank forms of return shall be furnished by the department upon application but failure to secure the form shall not relieve any taxpayer from the obligation of making any return herein required

B The department may upon application made to it in such form as it shall prescribe or prior to the last day for filing any return and upon proper cause shown grant to the taxpayer required to file return an extension of not more than sixty days within which such return may be filed and in case the Commissioner of Internal Revenue at any time grants a taxpayer a longer extension of time for filing his Federal income tax return the department may grant an additional extension of time for filing the return under this act of not more than thirty days after the termination of the Federal extension

C Notwithstanding any other provisions of this act taxpayers on active duty with the armed forces of the United States who are serving outside the continental limits of the United States at the time a return would otherwise be due under his act shall not be required to file such return until the fifteenth day of the fourth month following the month in which such taxpayer returns to the United States

Section 407 Assessment and Payment of Tax Each taxpayer shall or in cases where an agent or fiduciary makes then the agent or fiduciary shall at the time of filing a return for the taxpayer on whose behalf he is acting the return compute and pay to the department the amount of tax shown by such return to be payable In making such computation the taxpayer shall take credit for any tax withheld on his behalf by any employer

A Whenever the tax imposed by this act is not paid upon the due date of the return provided for in subsection A of section four hundred six interest shall be charged thereon at the rate of six per centum per annum until paid whether or not the time for filing the return shall have been extended except that no interest shall accrue during the period of extension granted under subsection C of section four hundred six of this act to taxpayers on active duty with the armed forces of the United States

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, it is my hope that the Majority and Minority Leaders be permitted to close the discussion. It is also desirable that there be opportunity for a wide range of debate, and therefore, if there is any Member of the Majority group that desires to discuss this bill pro or con, I yield.

The SPEAKER. Is it the understanding of the Chair that the Minority Leader requests also that, in the order of debate, the Minority and Majority Leaders be last recognized?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, that is the suggestion.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I regret that in my original attempt to speak on the floor of this House it should be to enter into such a controversial issue. I arise here today as a Republican still. But first of all, I arise as an American and a Pennsylvanian. I do not have any prepared speech and I do not have anything to tell you except what I feel in my own heart, and that has been the pattern I have followed in asking the people of the second Dauphin district to send me here. I made them certain promises as to what I would do, and I intend to uphold the promises I made to them. Now speaking of being a good Republican. I first of all would like to say that our family has been loyal to the Republican party not only for a couple of years or a couple of months, but for generation after generation. We have stuck to the Republican party at times possibly, even when we did not think we were right by doing so.

I have had the pleasure of having a great-uncle who served a term in the Congress of these United States. I have the pleasure today of having an uncle who is at the present time the Treasurer of Dauphin County. My brother, since the time he became of age, has been loyal to the Republican party and worked hard for the advancement of the party. I can cite many other cases whereby our family on both sides, my mother's and father's, have been loyal Republicans; but there comes a time in a man's life that he has to decide whether by first of all being a member of a party, he is a better American or a better Pennsylvania. At this grave time in the history of the state of Pennsylvania, when we stand on the verge of making a great decision that will affect millions and millions of people, I have come to the point where I must say "No" to the leadership of the Republican party. Now maybe I will be wrong.

I know that possibly from the Governor's Office on down I will be made to look the fool and ridiculed in the eyes of certain groups which I intend to bring out a little bit later. But I have to live, first of all, with my conscience, and that is what I intend to do.

If you will recall there is a saying that says:

"It ain't so very far from right to wrong, and the way ain't hard to lose;

I'd give most anything myself to know which way to choose.

There is no signs or guideposts up to keep you on the track.

Wrong sometimes looks awful white and white looks awful black."

So I am making my decision today. I don't know whether I have made it correctly or not. That is for the people of Dauphin County, the people of Pennsylvania to decide, as I set forth my reasons for standing before you here today. Now personally, while our family has been loyal to the Republican party, I never bothered with politics, except to criticise the administration in Washington and criticise the administration in Harrisburg, when I thought it was proper to do so. I finally did tire of going to the polls and putting an X back of a group of names of hand picked candidates, and finally it devolved upon me several years ago to say: "This has gone far enough." And I supported a group of independent Republicans. I was lambasted, I was told that my small business would go on the rocks; I was told many things, but I had a conviction in my heart that I was not going to give up.

Last Spring when the group was reorganized and they came to me and asked me if I would be a candidate, I said: "No, I do not want in politics. My heart dictates to me too finely and too closely to get into politics." I do not know why in the goodness of the Lord I ever allowed my name to go on the ticket. But I did and the people in the second Dauphin County district who do not know me, a lot of them sent me here to talk on what I believed was right.

As a new Member, I certainly was hoping and praying that the leadership of our party would come forward with a program that was a little bit different. As the Honorable Mr. Andrews has said many times,—several times—I correct myself on the—that he went along against his own convictions with the Democratic caucus in the same manner did I go along, time after time here since I have been a Member, with the will of the Republican Caucus. But I felt that there was something that should be done; that the people of Pennsylvania should be heard; that we should not have a railroad program that affected the lives of millions of people. The Republican party knows how I felt on this matter, and in spite of what His Excellency the Governor said in the closing portion of his speech here to us sometime ago, our party did not heed my small voice in any way. They continued to push and push and push and in three days' time they got a tax bill through this House that is going to put a raw hide noose around the necks of millions of Pennsylvanians. Time, like the sun, is going to shrivel that noose, and the noose is going to grow tighter and tighter and tighter as it always does with any tax. And the people are going to get that in the time of three days.

Now I say the Republican party did not heed my small voice and I am not here to scuttle any of the advancements which I will mention in a little bit. Here is what the Governor said:

"I have recommended the measures which I consider best for all of our taxpayers, consonant with good fiscal practices. However, if you should arrive at a better solution of this problem with sufficient additional revenue, you would have my cooperation."

Those are the words of Governor Fine, a man whom I have come to have admiration and respect for, even though I was not in agreement with him at the Primary, but for whom I have come to have a little bit of opposite feeling as time passes. We are coming to the point in the history of this nation, when we have to make a decision. It is coming to the point where a lot of our workers, and they are the people that make this nation tick, the people who draw pay checks; we are coming to the point in the life of this nation when a man is going to go for his pay check and he is going to find attached to it six sheets or more of ordinary tablet paper to list all the deductions before he ever sees his pay. He is going to look over them. Maybe he earned $150 and he is going to see that his check calls for, say $100 and he goes out and tries to buy something with $100 and it will buy $10 worth of goods and services. That is the point to which we have come and that is where you are putting the people of Pennsylvania who draw pay checks.

I will at this point say to the leadership of the Republican party, as far as they are concerned, I do not want to stand up here and fight against the principle of half of one percent income tax; it is more than that.

If the leadership is big enough and broad enough to give more time and proper consideration, there will be no more debates unless they fail to grant proper procedure in going over a billion dollars and some odd millions,—the millions they do not count much they say—for the tax program here in three days. Now I have not heard much in the way of other tax sources. We have not heard about corporate net income. Possibly the addition of a couple percent on the corporate net income would bankrupt the industry of Pennsylvania. I have no comment to make either way on any tax at this time.

Then we come to the sales tax and that is politically unpopular. So, for the expediency of the moment, we want to jam down the income tax, saying, "Here, little fellow, draw your pay check. This is the best that we have to offer; this is the best we can do for you, we are not going to take much. Why half of one percent of today's prices, you cannot even figure it, unless you get Einstein to know how much it is worth. So it will not hurt you much." I say to the people of Pennsylvania who draw pay checks, and this can be said of any other tax, of course, that you are putting a little of the big toe in the door right now; but you are going to have the whole foot in there in the next couple of years—ten years or so. If I were to advise the people of Pennsylvania who draw pay checks, I would say, swamp this capitol with letters and telegrams and smash off the toe before it gets the door open. But as I have said, I may be wrong, I am merely setting forth my own opinion.

So far as my playing for headlines or politics is concerned, I did not want to come here and I do not care if I ever come back; but while I am here I am going to say what I think from my own heart and then I am going back to the people in my county and tell them that is what I did, that is what I felt was right. And that is what I am going to stand for.

I tell my people and I can show you if I have the opportunity to get my little articles that I write for our home paper; that for years before I ever got into the halls of this magnificent building, Do not be fools. Do not be fooled by any tax. If it is income tax, you pay the tax directly off your check, most of you; but there is a class that can chisel and cheat and lie and steal and more crooks have been made by the Federal Income Tax law than any other thing, with the possible exception of one amendment to the Constitution of these United States. But now the little fellow with the pay check, you are going to get his before he has a chance to say how he wants to spend it. So I tell them when you have an income tax to pay, you pay it but they grab it.

Now we come next to a sales tax. Naturally I would say you have to pay it. You go and you buy an article and you pay it. But in my mind it is fairer to the average person than an income tax because the fellow who can spend more money, and has it to spend than the little fellow, he is going to pay the tax; he cannot chisel on his returns so easily.

There are other arguments that I could go into, but I shall not. He pays his income tax and he pays his sales tax and then we come to the corporate net income tax and he pays that tax, too. I tell them that they pay that tax, too, by increasing the prices of the articles they buy. You pay the tax, it does not matter from what source the tax collector takes it, the people pay it. I do not have any hesitancy about telling my people that. But right there is a fine line of demarcation that we must draw. In a sales tax a man goes out and he buys an article and he pays his tax and he goes home and he says: "I am done with my government. I have paid my liability to my government for services that I want." If it is a corporate net income tax, practically the same can apply to that. But in an income tax the withholding feature is doing something that I consider to be un-American, and that is you have no right to take part of man's pay that he earns. The only reason they want to take it on a withholding basis is because they feel they could not collect the money.

You are putting a rope around the man's neck in an un-American manner, and that is not Americanism and I do not care how much you shout or holler, when you grab a man's pay, that is not Americanism. Let us be frank with the people and quit this darn lying. If you could have sat in my seat in the last two and a half days I think you would have been more jittery than I am. My nerves get in that state from the pressure of contemptible charges. I went home the other night and walked in the window, did not even know the door was there. Well maybe it is good if I can laugh a little bit, I might be getting too serious.

I do not want to go through many roll calls like those yesterday—there were two of them. I got a long distance call, and I went back and I called the operator and told her to get the number. And I waited, and I waited, and she said,

"Well, the gentleman who wants to talk to you is on another line."

I said, "I did not put in this call. He wants to talk to me, and I have to get back to the House of Representatives. If he wants to talk, tell him to get on this line. I have business to attend to."

Well he came over on the line, I will not mention his name, but if I did some of you would faint; I darn near did myself. I never knew I could talk to such high authority from my humble beginnings. He stated the views of the group that he represented and I acknowledged that.

I said "my mind is open. I am willing to sit down and discuss all tax programs and proposals if I know what the budget is about, whether it can be cut, or whether it cannot. My mind is open from your side of the fence but I will oppose to the last ditch the passage of the income tax bill."

Well, you know, he talked a little bit around the bush, and he said, "Well, I took the opportunity of calling Florida to talk to John C. Kunkel."

Now that made me smile a little bit because I knew what John C. Kunkel would tell that gentleman as big as he was; because John C. Kunkel is one of the outstanding men of Central Pennsylvania and the State of Pennsylvania. So I said to this man, "And tell me please, what did John C. Kunkel tell you?"

He said, "That Ed Swartz is an independent Republican; he has a mind of his own and he does his own thinking."

When I go to our crowd to ask for advice they will not give me any advice. I tried to get some moral support from them yesterday. I was getting pretty jittery here as the roll-calls came, you know, and I was told you go in there and fight for what you think is right and we are right back of you one hundred per cent.

I came a long way around to get to the point of how I think I am going to be lambasted by those who want this income tax. They are going to say that I am the one who by fighting against it, am the enemy of the teachers, of the health program, and all other welfare services which we need so much. I want to say to the teachers and the people in the health institutions and the senior citizens that if I had any voice or any authority in the Republican party we would have a far more liberal program on health, education and senior citizens than we now have.

By my vote here I am not against the teachers, the health service, and so forth. I want to know, and want these men on the other side to know, even though I am a young fellow here, I am not in a matter of years, but in experience in the Halls of this House. I do not mean to be facetious when I say this, I have a lot of notes and when you may try to get me in a corner you had better be sure you know what you are doing. You are not going to get me in a corner that way. I am not opposed in any way, and as I said, I want to see this party of mine when there is a crying need for leadership in this nation such as we never have had before, I want to see the leadership go out and show the public the figures, the facts, what they are going to do and say, that is it, that is what we have for you, this is what we are going to do. Instead of this dog-gone back in the rooms, yes, yes, yes.

If the Republican party would do that they would not have to ask for votes, but like they have been doing for the last twenty years, they are going to let the Democrats take the ball away from them. If those from the Governor's office on down think they might have me in a corner about opposing the teachers and all of that, you had better have your thinking caps on before you start.

We now get to the budget. I told you about walking home the other night and did not know which way to go in. I will confess I do not know much about this budget. From my small experience, when I get to a thousand dollars I think I have a big balance in the bank. When I count up to five hundred thousand that is getting me up there in a pretty tight squeeze, when you get up to a million, of course I am in a dither, and when you get up to the billion mark I am lost, I do not know where I am at. I do not think anybody in this House knows anything about the budget. I do not think you have taken the time to study it. Well, by Golly! I do not care how many years you have been here, if you know what is in all these bills we put through, you must be a magician. I do not know, and frankly, I am going to warn you here too, that if any member of my party wants to go into this budget further and interrogate me on it, I am going to insist that I be allowed to interrogate every member of the Republican party. If you can answer the questions I ask about this budget, put it on the record, that is okeh with me. I do not know much about the budget, but that is what I want to find out.

It seems to me there are things in there that maybe we could trim, and say to teachers, now we have enough money here in non-recurring items and so forth; we have enough money to take care of that portion in the program without increasing the taxes, without going back and saying that Swartz gambles with the bill because the teachers certainly have been hot on my collar this morning, and I do not know where they got their orders to do it.

If we want to be sensible about this whole thing we will say to the people of Pennsylvania that for this biennium we are going to need certain taxes. We say we want to try to get through this biennium with as little taxation as possible, but without passing any broad tax or tax on a broad base. We could set up a commission of non-political members, if it is possible for that to be done, we could make a study for the next two years of every Department of the Commonwealth to find out whether they can save money, whether their people are overpaid or underpaid—I do not think that any of them are overpaid unless the big shots are I would go into every angle and then I would go to every surrounding State and study the surrounding States' tax structure. Then I would come back here with recommendations to this General Assembly in two years,—have that commission come back here, and report. Not for a day or two days but set aside thirty to sixty days to study the reports. Publish everything in the newspapers in the state of Pennsylvania so the people themselves know what is going on. I am not trying to hide some of former Governor Duff's mistakes. Then I would present a program to the people of Pennsylvania and say now in order to modernize our way of taxation and advance our welfare or education and social and health services, this is what we must do. This is what we want to do. This is what both parties agree upon, it is there for the people of Pennsylvania. Instead of being Democrats on that side, Republicans on this side, let us get together on the tax issues, through fiscal policies, and work for the benefit of the people of Pennsylvania.

And when that commission completes its report before this august body and lets the people know the facts, go out and tell your people here is what we have, and that is the way we want it, and that is what we are going to do for you.

I have made a few campaign promises but I told the people when I talked to them, and my good friend sitting down there, John Bear, bounced me what I took my oath of office.

He said, "Ed what about dictation from the top—this is the first day."

I said "John, you can quote me as saying, I don't take dictation from any group, not even the Fighting Five."

I am about finished, I am about worn out, so I better quit. Now there is a sensible way we can go about these things and there is a nonsensible way. I criticised the actions of this House and of the former Governor, for the steamrolling of things through this House two years ago and I have not changed my opinion. I will not be a part of any steamrolling of any bill through this House that deals with the lives of millions of Pennsylvanians. I am going to fight for what I believe is right and I will be willing at any time to go out with any of my colleagues who vote for this bill in their own districts and debate it before their own people, and I will pay my own expenses if they want me to go there. And their people do not know me. I will guarantee them that we will come back with a fairly good record. Because I think I know what the people want; they want the same things that I want. The people of Pennsylvania are intelligent people, they are getting sick and tired of politicians and you can find that in the bills of the Fish and Game Commission, where they did not want politicians. I called Sportmen's Clubs and said, "What do you want?"

They said, "We do not want politicians on the Fish and Game Commissions."

That is the lowest state of politicians—we must not have many statesmen left.

In closing I want to say this, you men on either side are standing at the bar of public opinion. It is not a matter of the tax not being made, or the amount of it. To me it is a fine line of whether you are going to put another noose around the necks of the people without them saying, their pay checks can be confiscated by a third or maybe a second level of government. Some of them have so many they forget to count them. That is the fine dividing line we have to decide today. You are going to have to face the voters on that issue.

Again, as I close, I appeal as a Republican still for this side of the House to get awake. To make a motion to put this off on another reading, or take it off the calendar, or whatever. That is for them to decide.

I have said my say, I thank all of you folks for the wonderful attention you gave me here, and if I am wrong in the future, and I hope to God that I am not wrong, I will come and tell you, honestly, that I have been wrong. I will not be ashamed to do it. Nor will I be ashamed to say that I fought for what I thought was right. Now, it is for the Members of this House to decide, in the matter of one roll call, you are going to have to decide with your own conscience each one of you, whether you are going to say "NO." You had better let that conscience talk to you a little bit. You had better let your conscience do that. Thanks a whole lot for being so good.

THE SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) IN THE CHAIR

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, as far as I am personally concerned I would be willing to go to a vote right now. I made an initial mistake. I should have stipulated that instead of reserving the right to close the discussion—trying to, I should have stipulated that the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Swartz be permitted to close the discussion. But if there is any member on the Majority group that desires to discuss this bill, pro or con, I again yield.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll desire to be recognized?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I do.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I will yield to Mr. Toll in the event that no member of the majority group desires at this time to discuss this bill.

Mr. JOHN C. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to ask whether the Republican made a motion to postpone this bill for a vote next Monday? That was my impression. Is that correct?

The SPEAKER. The Chair does not have that understanding. There is no motion before the House at this time.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman desires to discuss the bill, I will yield to him.

Mr. JOHN C. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to make a few brief remarks.

Being a new man, the new fellows are supposed to sit down and listen to the older ones. There is a lot of wise judgment in that. By doing so you can learn quite a bit.

The Republican that spoke mentioned that for the last few days he has been wrestling with his soul. Unfortunately I have had the same situation.

I thought today that I would vote for this tax measure. In the last few days I have received many requests from our friends at home and I have given this matter, what I have believed to be very careful consideration.

Last night I was in the Capitol here rather late. I was trying to do some work for our constituents at home. However, I could not keep my mind on what I was doing. I went out and took a walk. I walked until 2:00 o'clock this morning. I went back to the hotel. I thought I would get a little sleep for this ordeal today and I had a little trouble sleeping.

This morning, after speaking with different leaders here, I thought I would vote for this bill. But, at the last minute, I regret to say to the party leaders I will not be able to vote for the bill. I apologize to them as a member of their party for not being able to go along. I know they would like the additional support. I am afraid my conscience will not permit it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, if there is any member of the majority group, other than the Majority Leader who desires to discuss this bill, pro or con, I yield.

Mr. GLEASON. Mr. Speaker, I am also one of the new members of the majority group here. I happen to be a little handicapped today because I was chewing over this bill and bit my cigar too hard and took one of the uppers out of my denture so you will have to excuse any lisping.

I have been very dubious about this tax bill. I have never been in politics before in my life. I came out in Lycoming county and ran on an independent—well more or less on an independent ticket. I did not promise a soul one single thing and I won the primary election with my colleague, Mr. Riley and I also happened to be the highest man in Lycoming county outside of Bill Livengood. He was the only man to top me in the vote.

I do not have anybody back home to worry about. I am not going to worry down here about it. I am going to vote to the best of my ability. I do not lose any sleep at night, only through this doggone traffic down here. I have a back bedroom on a farm and I do not hear anything but a couple cows mooing once in awhile. That is the only reason I do not sleep.

I do not let anything bother me because when you are in politics, you have people after you on one side, saying you did this wrong and on the other side you did it right, so you have got to let your conscience be your guide.

I have, as I said, thought this over. I have heard a lot of comments in this House and especially one by our Minority Leader, Mr. Andrews who one day made the statement here that he had estimated the cost of this State Government would be $160 million.

Now our people who have figured out this tax, figure we need $163 million. Well, he missed it by $3 million. So, after the discussions I have heard in this House, with due respect for the people of my county who have written to me, and I have not had too many write me—it is not as great an issue as Gun Bill 306—we were certainly flooded on that from our county and other counties—I have only had a few letters against this income tax—I have had more against the sales tax, yet I think this will cost the people more in this Commonwealth than any other tax.

There has not been anybody to offer me any other solution to raise this money. On my farm if I was spending more than I should right at the time I would need money, maybe that is what has happened in the past here. As a new member, I for one cannot help what happened in the past. I do not know a whole lot about what did happen down here in the past, but I am going to know what happens in the future. I am going to try to help economize in this state which I think we need to do, and certainly in the federal government too. Any future legislation for spending money, I am going to be here to vote on. But what has happened in the past, the people themselves back home had a chance to vote and they put up some of this tax. So I do not see any other way and I have not had any other offer for a better solution to this. It is like the fellow said day in the barber shop. "Fellow," he said, "what do you think of Prohibition?"

"Why," he says, "it is better than no liquor at all." That is the truth. We have not had any other program. I am a new man and there are plenty of men down here that have been here before me; Senators and Representatives, and they have not come up with a better solution so I am going to vote for this bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, five minutes.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, one feature of the income tax bill, it seems to me, received only casual mention in yesterday's remarks on the motion to recommit the bill to the Committee for public hearing.

This feature concerns the position of the taxpayer in those communities where income taxes, or wage taxes were imposed pursuant to the authority granted by the laws passed in the General Assembly in prior years.

The City of Philadelphia was granted permission under the Sterling Act passed in 1932 without limitations. About 200 communities acted under the authority of the "Tax Anything Law" which is Act 481 of 1947. This includes first class townships, boroughs, and the smaller school districts, but does not include counties, second class townships, or county institution districts.

The action taken under the 1947 law was subsequently limited by the 1949 act as to the rate of any income tax or wage tax. In Philadelphia the income tax receipts are a very material factor in the city income. Its citizens have grown to accept the burden of the local income tax and the federal income tax. Section 601 of House Bill 840 is a saving clause which reads as follows:

"The tax imposed by this act shall be in addition to any local tax imposed or authorized by any law of this Commonwealth, or by any ordinance or resolution of any political subdivision in force and effect on the effective date of this act and relating to the imposition levy or collection of any taxes on the same persons or subjects covered by this act it being the intention of the General Assembly that any such law ordinance or resolution shall not be vacated effected or impaired by anything contained in this act notwithstanding any law to the contrary."

This is the solution offered for Philadelphia and the 200 communities which now receive income from income and wage taxes. Permission to continue such taxes—this means that those communities which did not tax their citizens under prior statutory authority will have only two income taxes to pay, while those 200 communities and the City of Philadelphia which did act pursuant to the statutory authority, will have three income taxes to pay.

I wish to present this thought, in addition to the argument, that House Bill No. 840 places an additional burden on the man who must toil with his hands and a burden on those veterans whose income tax is not deferred as permitted under the federal income tax law, but also creates an intolerable and unbearable situation for a citizen and a taxpayer to be subject to three income taxes which will be the case in those 200 communities and in the City of Philadelphia.

Mr. BEECH. Mr. Speaker, I heard a lot about not being able to sleep on account of your conscience and so forth. I am not too far ahead of these other fellows. I am down here for the second time. I am a fellow that was not supposed to come back. I had about 21,000 against me in registration, but I am back here.

I did learn one thing in the 1947 session of the Legislature. As I voted on various bills here—incidentally my district is probably the heaviest industrial district in the state—so-called Labor laws, and what they do for the working man. The fact is that the Hall was lined with these so-called labor leaders, saying if you do this, if you do that, you will never come back. Now I lose a lot of sleep down here, and it is not all from my conscience, I will tell you. It is probably more the company I keep.

I want to tell these fellows who are down here for their first term, there is nothing the matter with this tax bill. You fellows have been here a few weeks, you do not know the answers, I do not know the answers. But I do know this: That I served on the Welfare Committee in the 1947 session of Legislature and it was the duty of that Committee to go to these various institutions. The Governor at that time appropriated some $82 million for the betterment of the people in the mental institutions. I said at that time, and I was not the only one on that Committee, that if they taxed everybody in the state of Pennsylvania five dollars a day, these people needed it. That can happen to anybody.

Sometimes I question as I sit here if it has not happened to some of us. But nevertheless, this is a good tax bill. It is the easiest tax program that could be gotten up. You break it down, a fellow who makes $5,000 a year, he pays $25 income tax, less than fifty cents a week. The school teachers and the mental hospitals are getting most of it—the educational program. I can see nothing the matter with it. If you are afraid to go home and face the people, ask them what they would have done. There is nothing the matter with this program. Do not be afraid of pressure groups.

Incidentally, I employ some 35 to 40 people. During the time that I should have been here and somebody else was here in my place, I had a little labor trouble. A few bums got in and they wanted to organize my people. I fought them. I took it to the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board and fought them. Today the leader of that group is being indicted by the Federal Government for using the mails to defraud.

But the labor people at that time says: "Ah, when that Beech runs agains, blah, blah, blah." Well, I went through that before. If it is a matter of a few cents a week, if you are afraid of what the people back home are going to say for a few cents a week, when it is going to do so much good, those people are wrong and you fellows will be right by voting for this measure.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Moran, for five minutes.

Mr. MORAN. Mr Speaker, I going to be very brief in my statements. I believe I should call your attention to the fact, if you do not already know it, that this bill, if passed, no exceptions can be granted to anybody. Nobody can be exempted on this tax setup under this bill as drawn.

Under the Constitution of Pennsylvania, they cannot be exempted on any income tax at the present time since the Constitution plainly states that all taxes shall be equal on the same class of subjects.

This bill will actually tax the GI's who are in the hospitals. This bill will tax the blind people who are on pension in Pennsylvania. This bill will also tax the pensioners who are drawing a very small income at the present time. In fact, this bill taxes everybody regardless of the size of their income.

They are trying to make the excuse that it does not hurt anybody; it is going to hurt the people who are least able to pay. The people who are able to pay—up in the $5,000 class has been mentioned on the floor—I am not worried about anybody earning 4, 5, 10, 15, 20, or $30,000; I am worried about the woman who has to go out to scrub floors. I am worried about that GI who is lying on his back in the hospital. I am worried about these orphans whose incomes are very small. I am worried about the forgotten man, who is drawing a small pension, in some cases even less than $75 a month. Those are the people I am concerned about, and I believe that this bill should have been sent back to Committee. I think we should have had a public hearing. I believe we are making a mistake by yielding to pressure groups, and I do believe that one of the pressure groups behind this bill is the NAM, which we know as the Manufacturers Association. I believe they had a lot to do with this bill being put through.

I believe this bill, if we had had a public hearing, that quite a few Members in this House who are favorable to this bill at the present time, would vote against it. And I know, too, if this bill passes, that quite a few people who are in this House today will be taken to the wood shed in the next election.

I am only allowed five minutes. I have a lot more to say, but I guess I better stop so somebody else may have a little time on it.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to make a very brief statement to Mr. Moran, if the Minority Leader would not mind, if he would yield to me. I will only take a minute.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I want to make a statement first. The Gentleman from Allegheny is slightly in error concerning the exceptions under the bill. Exceptions are possible if everybody in that classification is exempted, and so, under the bill provisions are made for exempting certain pension groups, public assistance groups, and other groups.

I am entirely in agreement with the spirit of what the Gentleman from Allegheny says, but his interpretation of the bill is not exactly in line with the bill as it has been drawn.

And now I yield to the Majority Leader.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman, Mr. Andrews, for correcting that point. It is the point I wanted to bring to Mr. Moran's attention.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, we have no desire to monopolize this discussion. And I will again yield to anyone except the Majority Leader on the other side who desires to discuss this bill at this time, either pro or con.

I yield to the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Perosky, for five minutes; and then if there are no other Members, other than the Majority Leader who desire to speak, I would pray for the privilege of closing the discussion as far as the Members on this side are concerned.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I regret very much that I must rise on the floor at this particular time to tax the patience of the House for an additional few minutes. But I would feel derelict in my duty if I were not to register my protest against the measure that is before us at this time.

I feel that when we vote upon House Bill 840, and the fact that we are voting for it, we are putting our hands into the pockets of every wage earner in this Commonwealth. With due respect to the Majority Leader, in his discussion yesterday he stated this was not a wage tax, but by whatever name you may call it, it is, without question, a deliberate tax on the wage earners, taxing the pay envelopes of the wage earners in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

There are several questions, in event he would want to answer them during his discussion of the bill, to which I would appreciate answers.

I would like to know how much tax can be derived from this measure on all wages, all annual wages of the wage earners, earning $4,000 annually and downward.

By the same token, I would like to know how much cash will be derived from this measure on all wages of $4,000 and upwards.

I believe that that answer will show that we are, in passing this measure, placing the burden upon the one that is least able to pay it. I realize that it is impossible to give to the people under this tax bill a deduction for dependents. We are placing a burden of taxation upon the persons who are least able to pay it.

At this particular time, I would like to state that I believe the budget can be pruned sufficiently so that it will not necessitate any additional new taxes for this biennium. Further, I would like to say that this particular measure is broadening the basic taxation of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, not only to the extent that they are taxing one-half of one percent of the person's wages, but it is opening the door to the possibility of one percent, five percent, or even as much as ten percent in future sessions of the Legislature.

Ever since the 1941 session, which was my first service in this legislative body, I have noted that there has been a tendency by the majority party of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to force upon the mass of small wage earners the heaviest share of the burden of taxation. This, I believe, could be shown without question in a public hearing, and since the majority body has not seen fit to grant a public hearing—and may I interject at this time if they did not want to hear the labor organizations in the state who opposed them in the past election—certainly they should have heeded the cry of the editorial writers in the various papers throughout the Commonwealth asking for such a public hearing, because there are other peoples besides us on the minority side who feel there is no necessity for new taxes, that we do not need the wage tax and certainly that feeling is prevalent. It is not too late, and certainly it should be up to the majority party to make the move right now. It is not too late to recommit this bill for a public hearing. The people want that in the state of Pennsylvania and I feel the majority party should give it to them.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, who desires to propound three questions for the consideration of the Majority Leader.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I desire to have answered by any individual on the other side of the House in a position to do so, about three questions.

First, I would like to know if there is any provision in this bill anywhere, whereby an employee, because of perhaps the distance he lives from his work, or perhaps because of the tools that he needs in the carrying on of his trade, can deduct those expenses before the tax is collected.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I will. Would the gentleman like to repeat that question, please.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, the question is as follows: In the event an employee has unusual expenses in connection with his work, it may be possible he would have to drive forty or fifty miles to get to his work each day. It may be possible again that he is required to buy, we will say, dynamite caps or special tools in connection with his work. Is there any provision in here at all where he can file an expense account and have that expense deducted from his pay before the tax is deducted?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would answer the gentleman by saying no. That is not possible, any more than it is possible to deduct the riding fare back and forth to a man's work under the Federal income tax.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, the second question: Under this bill, is it possible for a self-employed business man to deduct all of his expense before paying the tax?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, a self employed business man has the same prerogatives under this bill that he does under the Federal act. He may deduct the deductible expenses charged to his business.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, is not it a fact that he may deduct all of the expenses in connection with his business.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he has ever had a Federal man come in and check his books as far as traveling is concerned and what limitations they allowed?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, no I have never had anybody come in and examine my books. Of course, I always am ready and willing to allow them to do that.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, there are certain limitations allowable in the Federal act but it is not set up on a basis so that all of it can be deducted. There are limitations in the amount of earnings on that.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, but you will agree, will you not, that any expense incurred in his business is deductible?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I agree with that when I say it is similar to the Federal act.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, however an employee is not permitted to deduct expenses in connection with the employment where he works.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, not as far as traveling is concerned, and that is exactly the same as the Federal act.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, well now we will eliminate the traveling. Is he permitted to deduct the cost of his tools, the cost perhaps of dynamite caps and of dynamites and special uniforms that may be required.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, as far as his tools, no, he is not if he is not self employed.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, and the uniforms?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, if he is not self-employed, no.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, in other words he is not entitled to receive deductions from those particular items which are necessary and essential to his employment.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, no. I may answer the gentleman, by saying that it is similar to the Federal act; neither is he under the Federal act unless he is self employed.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, now under the Federal act, however, the man is entitled to file a claim, file a form and ask for deductions in connection with his employment if he can show that they are justified, is that right.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, not as far as travel is concerned.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I am not speaking of travel. I have left that out.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman was speaking of travel a minute ago.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, suppose we leave out travel. Under the Federal income tax a man can file a form and claim deductions for expenses incurred in connection with his occupation, can he not.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman will let me confer for one minute, I will give him an answer on that. I understand, Mr. Speaker, that is a technical question and under the Federal act he does have the privilege of deducting his tools, but he does not in this act.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, so that this act does differ from the Federal act in that respect, at least.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, there is a difference, yes, sir.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, now then the third question resolves itself around the question which Mr. Toll raised a few minutes ago. It is a matter of interpretation. I am not sure myself. From the interpretation of the act is it the opinion of the Majority leader that districts, who have not yet or will not have on the effective date of this act an income tax, will they be permitted to pass such a tax after this tax becomes effective.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would say that under the 481 Act that is now in effect, they can, yes. That might be doubtful as the gentleman says, but in my opinion, yes.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, and under this particular bill you leave the door open do you not?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I believe it leaves the door open, yes.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the real criminal in this proceeding is not whoever it was that formulated the program. The real criminal in the proceeding is whoever it was that decreed that this program should not be submitted to public scrutiny by means of a public hearing.

I am not at this time personally arguing whether this bill or some other bill should be written on the statute books as the means of our financial salvation. I am protesting, as the gentleman from Dauphin protested, against the means used to prevent the public and also the Members of this House from surveying first, the essential needs of the Commonwealth, and then surveying the means that should be employed in order to finance those essential needs.

The place for this bill at the present time is not on the floor for final passage. The place for this bill is on the postponed calendar until arrangements have been made to hold a public hearing.

Now as far as my talk today is concerned, I have been particularly fortunate. Part of it is authored by Tom Kennedy who can speak, I believe, for those who are popularly termed members of the Labor group. The other part of my talk is authorized by the Pittsburgh Press, which should be in a position to speak for that other part of our constituency, the general public.

Here is what Tom Kennedy has to say:

"The International Union of the United Mine Workers of America with 7 districts in Pennsylvania representing approximately 200,000 members emphatically protest the enactment of the income tax bill, which we consider detrimental to the interest of mine workers and other wage earners—salary workers in Pennsylvania and to their families. We consider this income tax bill a major piece of legislation and a vote for it is a vote against the laboring people of our Commonwealth. We believe there are some untaxed resources in Pennsylvania that can very easily bear the burden necessary to secure sufficient revenue to meet budgetary requirements without punishing those who work for a living. The amount mentioned in the bill appears to be small. But it is only an indication of the tremendous tax load that will be placed upon the workers of Pennsylvania if the precedent is once established. It really means placing continuously increasing taxes on the shoulders of the individual citizen of Pennsylvania so that others in a corporate and industrial sense can escape their proper tax obligations. We reiterate our strong protest and hope that other means can be found to raise needed revenue."

Now the organization that Mr. Kennedy represents, and Mr. Kennedy himself, should have been given the opportunity to present an alternate tax program, if such a program he had. He was entitled to speak and other members of his organization were entitled to speak. There was no reason why the AFL and the CIO which are organizations that employ financial advisers that are just as reliable in their figures as the budget office should not be heard.

The other part authored by the Pittsburgh Press runs after this fashion:

"Pennsylvania taxpayers are entitled to a public explanation of Governor Fine's $1,200,000,000 budget and the new State income tax he recommends to help finance it."

All the explanation at the present time is that it is a good tax and it is a good bill and it is going to be used for good purposes and that the orders are out to roll it and pass it.

I agree with the Pittsburgh Press. For a while, it looked as though we would get such an explanation; through public hearings in the Legislature, with state officials called upon to justify their budget estimates. Have the state officials as yet been called upon to justify their budget estimates before either the House Appropriations Committee or the Senate Appropriations Committee? They have not.

We are proposing to enact a tax program today without having a scintilla of evidence as to how much money the Commonwealth actually needs.

I have said before, I am not certain on the evidence so far produced, that the Governor is giving the teachers enough. I have received some twenty telegrams from teachers in Cambria county to vote for this income tax bill. If I were to summon the whole twenty, there would not be a single one that had read the tax program or that had studied the budget. I am mighty sure that if they knew that under the terms of the Governor's budget he is sabotaging the program on which the state of Pennsylvania Education Association nailed its standard, they might not be so enthusiastic.

Sure, there is to be an increase, if this General Assembly so decrees, in appropriations for schools but it is not the amount asked for.

I do not know and you do not know whether the Governor in reducing the program of the state association is right or whether the state association is right. We have a right to find out.

I continue this very excellent editorial—good thinker this fellow, whoever wrote it, I do not know whether it is a member of the present Press Gallery or not, but it is good thinking.

"Governor Fine objected to that procedure on the ground that the budget he proposed was okay, as is, and that no public hearings or special scrutiny were needed."

Gentlemen, if that is not regimentation and compulsion I do not know it. The Governor says the budget is okay. Swallow it.

You know Bill Jones was a bit of a toper. He was going down the street one day and they said,

"Bill, where are you going?"

He said, "I am going down to get drunk and my God how I hate it."

As I survey many an anxious face in this group, I can say, "why are you here?"

"I am here to vote for that gosh darned tax bill and my God how I hate it."

"Now, according to Harrisburg reports, Republican legislative leaders have agreed with the Governor, that 'no good purpose could be served' by public hearings."

If no good purpose can be served by a public hearing concerning this bill, where would it be possible to serve a good public purpose by any other public hearing? It is perfectly ridiculous to schedule public hearings on matters of minor moment, except the principle that the public has arrived to express its opinion and then on the very key, the very heart, the very soul of the program that we are about to enact here in this General Assembly to say that in this very important thing we do not want the public to speak.

"The Legislative leaders plan to rush through the income tax without public hearings."

"This reported agreement reflects no credit on either Governor Fine or the Republican leaders in the Legislature. It sounds like a pretty complete job of 'rail-roading' a bill that should be studied from all angles.

"On the part of the legislators, it is a craven abandonment of their duty."

I am glad he said that. I might not have had the courage to use the words.

"They should study the budget and the income tax, they should hold public hearings and they should assert and exercise the Legislature's independence of the Governor."

If you did not have the push from the Executive Office, if you did not have the rod of patronage, you could not get any votes for this bill in its present form for this tax program.

We are surrendering completely at the beginning of the session our legislative independence and once we get the Governor his money, and once we get the Departments their money, they can say "Go home boys, we are through, you are through. We do not need you around anymore."

You are giving away the only weapon you have to deal on equal terms with the Governor. That is evidenced by the fact that he will resort to political compulsion in order to secure the enactment of legislation that he desires.

The distinguished editor in Pittsburgh continues:

"The Legislature should have been doing this for many years past."

And heavens knows many a Member on the other side, in terms of social conversation, has assured me that that is so. We have for years been surrendering our responsibilities to the executive.

"There always should be public hearings on the State's budget, for the protection of the taxpayers."

Public hearings are the only protection the taxpayer has. The groups entrenched here on Capitol Hill with all the means of disseminating information that they may have, cannot carry their story to the public except by means of a public hearing. And it is only as the newspapers hand out news stories can they tell the people what is going on.

There are some ten million people in Pennsylvania and at the present time I do not suppose that five hundred thousand of them really know the sort of murder that we are planning here in Harrisburg.

"But a fine-combing of the budget is especially urgent at a time when the Governor proposes to invade a whole new field of taxation—personal income taxes—already burdened with any Federal taxes plus many local taxes.

"The rate of the tax is only one-half of one percent. But do not let that fool you."

So says the editor. I am not interpolating that, it is right here in print. Don't let that fool you.

"Let the camel of taxation get his nose under this tent, and what's to stop him from coming all the way in? If Governor Fine can establish the income tax at one-half of one per cent, what's to prevent some future Governor (by using the same means) from taking five, ten or fifteen percent."

Now I have been informed, and I have not checked it, that the New York income tax started out very modestly. It was one-half of one percent. I am told that it is up somewhere around five or six percent at the present time. It is a good easy source to tax.

The editor continues:

"Maybe, as Governor Fine contends, it isn't possible to cut out of the budget that $119 million it would take to avoid a personal income tax—though we doubt that."

I will doubt it, but I could not defend the doubt of any figures that any sensible man terms reliable.

"Maybe we ought to pay such a tax."

Perhaps if we held public hearings there would be such a complete case made out for the income tax that we could all shout, "Glory, Glory, Hallelujah, at last we have found the means of financial salivation." That is what might happen.

"But if that State income tax is absolutely necessary, we've got a right to be assured of it, before it's taken out of our paychecks.

"The legislators are there for our representation in matters like these. Let them do their job and dig into this budget-and-tax issue."

You know the power to tax is likewise the power to reconsider. This bill ought to be defeated today and mature thought given to the idea of trying to reconsider it perhaps for public hearing. We would not be making this battle here if there had been a disposition to acquaint the public with the fact or a disposition to acquaint the Members of this House with the facts.

Personally I am opposed to the principle of broadening the tax base simply by attacking the average guy that our former Governor talks so much about. You know there are an awful lot of the average guys and when you begin to soak him progressively, a little at a time, it does not hurt so much, a little the next time it does not hurt so much, and a little next time and it does not hurt so much. You are getting an awful lot of money from the average guy.

I agree with Tom Kennedy. I agree with the editor of the Pittsburgh Press. I agree with the editor of the Philadelphia Inquirer. I agree with the editorial correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer. I agree with the papers throughout the state that this matter is one that should have been referred to a public hearing but in view of the situation that has developed we are left no choice. Good conscience suggests a protest not only against the terms of a tax program that we do not understand, but a protest against executive usurpation of legislative powers.

I say if we surrender today we might as well send a committee of three over to his Excellency the Governor and say, "Governor what do you want? Write it out. We will do it. We will do it in six days and go home."

We might as well pass the Governor's entire program in six days as pass his tax program in six days. I say to you in all seriousness that this is the day and the hour of decision as far as the prestige, the dignity and the standing of this legislative body is concerned.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman seems to be dwelling on the fact that when we pass an income tax that tax is the only tax that is being susceptible of being increased. I am sure he knows and I know and everyone in this House knows that any tax that we impose, no matter what it may be, can certainly be increased, decreased, taken off the books, added to, doubled or anything else done to it by future Legislatures. So that is no argument.

He reads a paper clipping that a tax can be increased from one half of one percent to ten percent, we know that. We also know that if there is no need for the tax it can be taken off the books as has been done in the past.

Everyone seems to think today, from the arguments, that an income tax is a new tax. Well that is not the truth. An income tax is not a new tax. We have had a Federal income tax in this country since 1915, and at the present time, as of today, there are thirty-three states using this type of tax for general revenue purposes and they are paying their bills by this type of tax.

I would like to say that there are only seven states left in this great Union of ours that does not have an income tax or a sales tax. So Pennsylvania should be different I suppose, and grap our money out of the air. We have debts; we have promises and we have to keep those promises by getting money to pay them.

Everyone knows that a broad base tax has been recommended by all tax experts. The gentleman himself, the Minority Leader recognizes that, he has just stated that. Every tax study group has recommended broad base taxation. So we in Pennsylvania come down to two choices. Either a sales tax or an income tax, and there is no man in this House today that will agree that a sales tax is a fairer tax than an income tax.

We all know that an income tax is fair. It hits all types of income. It hits the doctor, it hits the lawyer, it hits every professional man, it hits the small business man and it is fair. It is fair because the larger the income the larger the tax. The smaller the income the smaller the tax. God knows we cannot say that about a sales tax.

We also cannot say that about hidden taxes that some people would like us to keep on increasing. They do not have the courage to stand here and tell the people what they are going to do. They would like to do it by deception to pay our debts.

A man making $25,000 a year is taxed directly on that amount. And another man who makes $2,500 a year is taxed on that amount. Certainly no one can say that about a sales tax, and no one can possibly say that that is unfair. That is fair taxation. That is the type of taxation that I want, and I think it is the type of taxation that every Member of this House should want.

There is no doubt but that of all the broad base taxes, an income tax is the fairest and the most just to the working man. Of all the broad base taxes that we know of, it is the easiest to collect. The cost of collection is the lowest because of the withholding features. Certainly that is to be considered in any tax basis, the actual cost of collecting the taxation.

I also think this should be brought out: Every cent of taxation that you pay right to the very penny, is deductible from the Federal Income Tax, penny for penny. You do not lose a cent of it.

As Republicans, Mr. Speaker, and the majority party, we must have courage. We as Republicans are going to pay our bills. We intend to keep our past promises. We promised to the teachers that we would take care of them, that we would make them one of the best paid groups of teachers in our country. We are going to keep that promise.

We are going to keep our promise when we said our mental, health, and welfare institutions would be the best in this country. We are going to keep that promise.

We are going to keep our promise to the citizens of our state. We have already given them a civil defense act and we have asked an appropriation of $20 million to protect our citizens. That is another promise we are going to keep it.

None of us is foolish enough to think that the people do not want better government. They do want better government and they are going to get better government; but you do not pull money out of the air. Keep that in mind. We need money. We have to get money by taxation. I do not want to tax anybody, and neither does anyone else in this House, but we all want to vote for appropriation bills to give the people everything they want. When there are appropriation bills on the floor of this House, it is easy to give the money, but it is not always easy to get it. There is only one way to get it, and that is the fair way. I have a conscience and so does every man in this House. My conscience says one thing—I am going to be honest, I am going to give the citizens of this State good government. If they want good government, if they want the Veterans' bonus, if they want better teachers, if they want better health institutions, they are going to get them. But I also have the courage to say we are going to have to pay for them.

I say to every man in this House that this is an honest tax; it is a fair tax, and it deserves the consideration of every man in this House. It is fair to every individual, whether he be rich or whether he be poor.

I want to come back to the point that we intend to give good government. We are going to keep our promises and we have to have money to do it, and we do not get money out of the air.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. Andrews, Rose and Wheeler.

NOT VOTING—1

Lovett,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

REASON FOR VOTE

Mr. READINGER filed the following reason for his vote: I am voting "no" on House Bill 840 for the reason that the majority party has been unwilling to afford the public a hearing on this most important tax measure, or ample opportunity for the Members of this House to become sufficiently informed concerning the financial requirements of the Commonwealth for the next biennium.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 841, as follows:

An Act to reenact and further amend the title and the act, approved the sixteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 208), entitled, as amended, "An act to provide revenue for State purposes by imposing an excise tax, for a limited period of time, on the net incomes of certain corporations, joint-stock associations, and limited partnerships; providing for the assessment, collection, settlement and resettlement of taxes, and reviews and appeal therefrom; conferring powers, and imposing duties on certain persons, corporations, joint-stock associations, limited partnerships, State and county officers, boards, and departments; making an appropriation; and providing penalties," by increasing the rate of tax, and extending the provisions of the act for a further limited period of time.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would suggest and more, although I will not ask a record vote, we could take a voice vote, that until the financial situation is clarified somewhat that House Bill 841 be placed upon the postponed calendar, instead of acting on it today.

The situation is a bit obscure at the present time. House Bill 840 may or may not reappear upon the Calendar, and it would seem to me to be the part of wisdom to put 841 on the postponed calendar. As I say I will not require a record vote. I am willing to take a voice vote on it.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, as long as House Bill 840 and 841 are complimentary bills, I would agree to the gentleman's suggestion.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. FILO. According to the House Calendar, the title above the bills reads "Special Order on Third Reading and Final Passage—Wednesday, April 4, 1:30 p. m." Now would that not be contrary to the motion made the previous day? I think the motion should be reconsidered. The Special Order of the day is the bills.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman, House Bill 841, Printer's No. 145, is now before the House under the special order. A motion to postpone is in order.

A motion to postpone takes priority over the main questions, under Rule 15 of the House.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to object to the motion to postpone, on the same premise that I stated a little earlier this afternoon on the floor of the House. I believe that no additional taxes are necessary at the present time other than the ones that appear before us for consideration on the calendar, namely, House Bills 841 to House Bill 846 inclusive.

I might say that the defeat of House Bill 840 has not obscured the financial situation that is before the House and I register my protest to this motion to postpone. I believe we should continue to pass on the tax measures that are on the calendar at the present time, for I firmly and honestly believe that they give to the Commonwealth a sufficient amount of revenue to carry out the needs of the Commonwealth.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am, of course, duly impressed by what the gentleman from Westmoreland believes; but what he believes and what may be the facts might be two different things.

I do not know whether or not new taxes are needed; but I want to find out, and again I say that I think it the part of wisdom until we do find out, to put this particular bill on the postponed calendar. I hope that the House agrees, although it is no particular skin off of my nose if they proceed today. I simply think it is the wiser policy.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I find myself in complete agreement with the Minority Leader, and I ask that the House vote for this motion of postponement.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 842, as follows:

An Act to further amend section twenty-one of the act approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred eighty-nine (P. L. 420) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" by postponing the manufacturing exemption with regard to capital stock tax and the franchise tax on domestic and foreign corporations joint-stock associations limited partnership and companies for a further limited period of time

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section twenty-one of the act approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred eighty-nine (P. L. 420) entitled "An act to provide revenue by taxation" approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" as last amended by the act approved the twenty-fourth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 358) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 21 (a) That every domestic corporation other than corporations of the first class nonprofit [corporation] corporations and cooperative agricultural associations not having capital stock and not conducted for profit and every joint-stock association limited partnership and company whatsoever from which a report is required under the twentieth section hereof shall be subject to and pay into the treasury of the Commonwealth annually through the Department of Revenue a tax at the rate of five mills upon each dollar of the actual value of its whole capital stock of a kinds including common special and preferred as ascertained in the manner prescribed in said twentieth section Provided That the tax of five mills imposed by this subsection on reports filed for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-nine [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and one thousand nine hundred fifty-two or for the fiscal years beginning in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and one thousand nine hundred fifty-two shall apply to the taxation of capital stock of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes excepting companies engaged in the distilling of liquors Provided further That after said [four] six year period the provisions of this section shall not apply to the taxation of the capital stock of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes which is invested in and actually and exclusively employed in carrying on manufacturing within the State excepting companies engaged in the distilling of liquors and such as enjoy and exercise the right of eminent domain but every corporation limited partnership or joint-stock association organized for the purpose of manufacturing shall pay the State tax of five mills herein provided upon such proportion of its capital stock if any as may be invested in any property or business not strictly incident or appurtenant to the manufacturing business in addition to the local taxes assessed upon its property in the district where located it being the object of this proviso to relieve from State taxation only so much of the capital stock as is invested purely in the manufacturing plant and business

(b) Every foreign corporation joint-stock association limited partnership and company whatsoever from which a report is required under the twentieth section hereof shall be subject to and pay into the treasury of the Commonwealth annually through the Department of Revenue a franchise tax at the rate of five mills upon a taxable value to be determined in the following manner The actual value of its whole capital stock of all kinds including common special and preferred shall be ascertained in the manner prescribed in the twentieth section of this act and shall then be divided into three equal parts

(1) Of one third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the value of the taxpayer's tangible property not actually and exclusively used in manufacturing situated within the Commonwealth and whose denominator is the value of all the taxpayer's tangible property wherever situated

(2) Of another third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the expenditures of the taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to its employees not exclusively engaged in manufacturing in this Commonwealth and assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the total expenditures of the taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to all its employees

(3) Of the remaining third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from business not strictly incident or appurtenant to manufacturing in this Commonwealth assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from all its business

The sum of the amounts determined in accordance with the foregoing three rules shall be the taxable value In a case where only two of the foregoing three rules are applicable the remaining third equal part of the value of the entire capital stock shall be divided into two equal parts each of which shall be apportioned in accordance with one of the remaining two rules If only one of the three rules is applicable that part of the entire capital monwealth shall be determined solely by that rule

The amount assignable to this Commonwealth of ex-stock attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth of the taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to its employees shall be such expenditures for the taxable year as represent the wages salaries commissions or other compensation of employees not chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth

The amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth shall be (1) the amount of its gross receipts for the taxable year except those negotiated or effected in behalf of the taxpayer by agents or agencies chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth and except rents and royalties and interest and dividends (2) rentals or royalties from property situated or from the use of patents within this Commonwealth and (3) dividends and interest except such dividends and interest attributable to the business conducted on premises maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth If a taxpayer maintains an office warehouse or other place of business in a state other than this Commonwealth for the purpose of reducing its tax under this subsection the Department of Revenue shall in determining the amount of its gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth include therein the gross receipts attributed by the taxpayer to the business conducted at such place of business in another state

In the case of construction contracts negotiated or effected at an office in the State of Pennsylvania but performed outside the State the gross receipts under such contracts shall be assignable outside the State except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the State and partly outside the State such proportion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in Pennsylvania under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total costs incurred thereunder for the taxable year In the case construction contracts negotiated or effected at an office outside the State but performed in State the gross receipts under such contract shall be assignable to the State except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the State and partly outside the State such proportion of the gross receipts under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total cost incurred thereunder for the taxable year

A rule shall not be deemed to be inapplicable merely because all the tangible property or the expenditures of a taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation or the gross receipts of the taxpayer are found to be situated incurred or received without the Commonwealth

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this subsection (b) the franchise tax of five mills imposed by subsection (b) on reports filed for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-seven, one thousand nine hundred forty-eight, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty, one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and one thousand nine hundred fifty-two and for fiscal years beginning in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-seven, one thousand nine hundred forty-eight, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty, one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and one thousand nine hundred fifty-two shall apply to the taxation of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes excepting companies engaged in the distilling of liquors without excluding from the numerators of the applicable fractions manufacturing compensation of employees exclusively engaged in manufacturing and gross receipts from business strictly incident or appurtenant to manufacturing

After said [four] six year period the provisions of this subsection shall apply to the taxation of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes

(c) It shall be the duty of the treasurer or other officers having charge of any such corporation joint-stock association or limited partnership upon which a tax is imposed by this section to transmit the amount of said tax to the Treasury of the Commonwealth within the time prescribed by law. Provided That for the purposes of this act interest in limited partnerships or joint-stock associations shall be deemed to be capital stock and taxable accordingly. Provided further That corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations liable to a tax under this section shall not be required to pay any further tax on the mortgages bonds and other securities owned by them and in which the whole body of stockholders or members as such have the entire equitable interest in remainder but corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations owning or holding such securities as trustees executors administrators guardians or in any other manner than for the whole body of stockholders or members thereof as sole equitable owners in remainder shall return and pay the tax imposed by this act upon all securities so owned or held by them as in the case of individuals. Provided further That the tax of five mills imposed by this section on reports filed for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and for each calendar year thereafter or for the fiscal year beginning in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and for each fiscal year thereafter shall apply to the taxation of the capital stock of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for laundering and for the processing and curing of meats their products and by products excepting companies engaged in the distilling of liquors. Provided further That in case of fire and marine insurance companies the tax imposed by this section shall be at the rate of five mills upon each dollar of the actual value of the whole capital stock. Provided That nothing in this act shall be so construed as to apply to building and loan associations chartered by the State of Pennsylvania

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall be retroactive to the first day of January one thousand nine hundred forty-nine so that domestic and foreign corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes shall pay the tax imposed for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-nine, one thousand nine hundred fifty, one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and one thousand nine hundred fifty-two or for the fiscal years beginning in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-nine, one thousand nine hundred fifty, one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and one thousand nine hundred fifty-two two as other domestic and foreign corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeding to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 844 as follows:

An act to reenact the title and to reenact and further amend the act approved the fourteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 341) entitled as amended "An act to provide revenue by imposing a State tax upon sales or gifts of cigarettes by dealers as herein defined requiring persons engaged in the sale of cigarettes at wholesale and retail to secure permits prescribing the method and manner of collecting such tax making it unlawful to possess cigarettes upon which the tax has not been paid conferring and imposing duties on the Department of Revenue and persons as herein defined engaged in the sale of cigarettes at retail or wholesale and providing penalties" by providing that the provisions of said act shall continue in effect until repealed

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The title and all the sections of the act approved the fourteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-five P. L. 341) entitled as amended "An act to provide revenue by imposing a State tax upon sales or gifts of cigarettes by dealers as herein defined requiring persons engaged in the sale of cigarettes at retail or wholesale and providing penalties" as last reenacted and amended by the act approved the twenty-fourth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 336) are hereby reenacted and further amended to read as follows

An Act

To provide revenue by imposing a State tax upon sales or gifts of cigarettes by dealers as herein defined requiring persons engaged in the sale of cigarettes at wholesale and retail to secure permits prescribing the method and manner of collecting such tax making it unlawful to possess cigarettes upon which the tax has not been paid conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Revenue and persons as herein defined engaged in the sale of cigarettes at retail or wholesale and providing penalties

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That this act shall be known and may be cited as the "Cigarette Tax Act"

Section 2 The following words terms and phrases when used in this act shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this section except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning

"Association" Any partnership limited partnership or other form of unincorporated enterprise owned by two or more persons

"Dealer" Any wholesale dealers and in the cases hereinafter prescribed retail dealers The term "wholesale dealer" shall include any person who or which sell within Pennsylvania cigarettes to retail dealers or for purposes of resale or who or which purchases cigarettes directly from any manufacturer for purposes of resale The term "retail dealer" shall include every person other than a wholesale dealer who or which receives from any source whatsoever cigarettes for the purpose of sale to consumer in Pennsylvania or for any other purpose than that of resale whenever the packages of cigarettes so received do not have affixed to them the stamps evidencing the payment of the tax imposed by this act

"Department" The Department of Revenue of this Commonwealth

"Package" The individual package box or other container in or from which retail sales of cigarettes are normally made or intended to be made

"Person" Every natural person association or corporation Whenever used in any clause prescribing and imposing a fine or imprisonment or both the term "person" as applied to associations shall mean the partners or members thereof and as applied to corporations the officers thereof

"Sale" And transfer for a consideration exchange barter gift offer for sale and distribution in any manner or by any means whatsoever

The singular shall include the plural and the masculine shall include the feminine and the neuter

Section 3 (a) On and after the effective date of this act it shall be unlawful for any person to continue to engage in or thereafter to begin to engage in the sale of cigarettes at wholesale within this Commonwealth or for any person excepting commissaries ships' stores and voluntary unincorporated organizations of military forces personnel operating under regulations promulgated by the Secretary of Defense or departments under his jurisdiction and excepting retail dealers located in veterans' administration hospitals as to sales of cigarettes to patients in said hospitals to continue to engage in or thereafter to begin to engage in the sale of cigarettes at retail within this Commonwealth unless a cigarette permit or permits shall have been issued to him as hereinafter prescribed

(b) Every person desiring to continue to engage in or hereafter to begin to engage in the sale of cigarettes at wholesale or retail within this Commonwealth except those persons exempt under section 3 (a) hereof shall file an application for a cigarette permit or permits with the department. Every application for a cigarette permit shall be made upon a form prescribed prepared and furnished by the department and shall set forth the name under which the applicant transacts or intends to transact business, the location of his place of business within this Commonwealth and such other information as the department may require. If the applicant has or intends to have more than one place of business within the Commonwealth the application shall state the location of each place of business. If the applicant is an association the application shall set forth the names and addresses of the persons constituting the association and if a corporation the names and addresses of the principal officers thereof and any other information prescribed by the department for purposes of identification. The application shall be signed by the owner if a natural person and in the case of an association by a member or partner thereof and in the case of a corporation by an executive officer thereof or some person specifically authorized by the corporation to sign the application to which shall be attached the written evidence of his authority.

At the time of making such application the applicant shall pay to the department a permit fee of one dollar ($1.00) for each permit.

Upon approval of the application and the payment of the permit fee or fees herein required the department shall grant and issue to each applicant a cigarette permit for each place of business within the Commonwealth set forth in his application. Cigarette permits shall not be assignable and shall be valid only for the persons in whose names issued and for the transaction of business at the places designated therein and shall at all times be conspicuously displayed at the places for which issued.

All permits shall expire on the thirty-first day of December next succeeding the date upon which they are issued unless sooner surrendered or revoked for cause by the department.

(c) Permits issued under the provisions of this act may be renewed annually before the first day of January upon application made to the department and the payment of a renewal fee of one dollar ($1.00).

Whenever any permit issued under the provisions of this act is defaced, destroyed or lost the department may issue a duplicate permit to the holder of the defaced, destroyed or lost permit upon the payment of a fee of fifty cents ($.50).

(d) The department may suspend or after hearing revoke a cigarette permit whenever it finds that the holder thereof has failed to comply with any of the provisions of this act or any rules or regulations of the department prescribed, adopted and promulgated under this act. Upon suspending or revoking any cigarette permit the department shall request the holder thereof to surrender to it immediately all permits or duplicates thereof issued to him and the holder shall surrender promptly all such permits to the department as requested. Whenever the department suspends a cigarette permit it shall notify the holder immediately and afford him a hearing if desired and if a hearing has not already been afforded. After such hearing the department shall either rescind its order of suspension or good cause appearing therefor shall continue the suspension or revoke the permit.

Section 4 A State excise tax is hereby imposed and assessed upon sale of cigarettes by dealers at the rate of two cents per ten cigarettes or fraction thereof except such sales of cigarettes as are not within the taxing power of this Commonwealth under the commerce clause of the Constitution of the United States and except such sales as are made to authorized purchasers by those persons exempt under section 3 (a) hereof. Provided That only one sale of the same package of cigarettes shall be used in computing the amount of tax due hereunder.

Except as hereinafter provided dealers shall be liable to the Commonwealth as taxpayers for the payment of the tax imposed by this act and shall pay the tax into the State Treasury through the department by purchasing from the department adhesive stamps of such design and denominations as may be prescribed by the department.

Manufacturers of cigarettes located within or outside of this Commonwealth and wholesale dealers in cigarettes located outside of this Commonwealth may purchase stamps from the department and affix such stamps in the manner hereinafter prescribed to packages of cigarettes to be sold within this Commonwealth in which case the dealer within this Commonwealth receiving such stamped packages of cigarettes will not be required to purchase and affix stamps on such packages of cigarettes.

Section 5 Each dealer shall affix within the time hereinafter prescribed to each package of cigarettes stamps furnished by and purchased from the department evidencing the payment of the tax imposed by this act and shall cancel such stamps before such cigarettes are offered for sale or before they are otherwise disposed of unless stamps have been affixed to such packages of cigarettes before such dealer received them. Each wholesale dealer in this Commonwealth shall affix such stamps to each package of cigarettes unless such stamps shall have been previously affixed thereto and shall cancel the same in the manner prescribed by the department prior to the delivery of such packages to any retail dealer in this Commonwealth.

Each retail dealer in this Commonwealth those persons exempt under section 3 (a) hereof shall immediately upon the receipt of any cigarettes at his place of business so affix such stamps to each package of cigarettes unless such stamps shall have been previously affixed thereto and shall cancel the same in the manner prescribed by the department or shall immediately mark in ink on each unopened box, carton or other container of such cigarettes the word "received" and the month, day and year of such receipt and shall affix his signature thereto. The retail dealer shall in any event open such box, carton or other container and immediately affix such stamps to each package therein and cancel the same in the manner prescribed by the department within twenty-four hours after such receipt and prior to the sale of such cigarettes.

Whenever any cigarettes are found in the place of business of such retail dealer without the stamps affixed and cancelled or not marked as having been received within the preceding twenty-four hours as required by this section the prima facie presumption shall arise that such cigarettes are kept therein in violation of the provisions of this act.

Stamps shall be affixed to each package of cigarettes of an aggregate denomination not less than the amount of the tax upon the contents therein and shall be affixed in such manner that they will be visible to the purchaser. Upon affixing stamps to a package of cigarettes the person affixing them shall cancel them by such method or in such manner as may be prescribed by the department.

Section 6 The department shall prescribe, prepare and furnish adhesive stamps of such denominations and quantities as may be necessary for the payment of the tax imposed and assessed by this act. The department shall make provisions for the sale of such stamps in such places and at such times as it may deem necessary.

The department shall appoint wholesale dealers in cigarettes within this Commonwealth and may appoint any other persons within or without the Commonwealth as agents to affix the stamps to be used in paying the tax herein imposed upon sales of cigarettes but a wholesale dealer shall at all times have the right to appoint the person who is to affix the stamps to any cigarettes under his control and whenever the department shall sell consign or deliver to any such agent any such stamps such agent shall be entitled to receive as compensation for his services and expenses as such agent in affixing such stamps and to retain out of the moneys to be paid by him for such stamps a commission of four per centum on the par value thereof if and when such agent has purchased the stamps affixed by him directly from the department. The department is hereby authorized and required to allow such commission or compensation in the settlement of the accounts of such agent upon payment by him into the State Treasury through the department of any moneys which may be or become due to the Commonwealth by reason of the sale delivery or consignment to such agent of such stamps.

Section 7 Every person engaged in the sale of cigarettes at wholesale within this Commonwealth and every person engaged in the sale of cigarettes at retail within this Commonwealth except those persons exempt under section 3 (a) hereof shall maintain and keep for a period of two years such record or records of cigarettes received sold and delivered within this Commonwealth by him together with invoices bills of lading and other pertinent papers as may be required by the department.

The department or any agent appointed in writing by it is hereby authorized to examine the books papers invoices and other records the stock of cigarettes in and upon any premises where the same are placed stored and sold and equipment of any such wholesale or retail dealer pertaining to the sale and delivery of cigarettes taxable under this act to verify the accuracy of the payment of the tax imposed and assessed by this act. Every such person is hereby directed and required to give to the Secretary of Revenue or his duly authorized representative the means facilities and opportunity for such examinations as are hereby provided and required.

Section 8 The department is hereby charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act and is hereby authorized and empowered to prescribe adopt promulgate and enforce rules and regulations relating to

(a) The method and the means to be used in the cancellation of stamps

(b) The denominations and sale of stamps

(c) Any other matter or thing pertaining to the administration and enforcement of the provisions of this act

Section 9 Whenever any cigarettes upon which stamps have been placed by a dealer have been sold and shipped by him into another state for sale or use therein or have been sold to those persons exempt under section 3 (a) hereof for resale to authorized purchasers or have become unfit for use and consumption or unsalable or have been destroyed such dealer shall be entitled to a refund of the actual amount of tax paid by him with respect to such cigarettes. If the department is satisfied that any dealer is entitled to a refund it shall certify the proposed amount of such refund to the Board of Finance and Revenue for approval and thereafter shall issue to such dealer stamps of sufficient value to cover the refund as approved by the board. The department is hereby authorized to adopt prescribe and promulgate such rules and regulations with regard to the presentation and proof of claim for refunds as it may deem advisable.

The department may promulgate rules and regulations to relieve manufacturers and dealers from affixing the stamps on such cigarettes as are sold and shipped to points outside the Commonwealth for use outside the Commonwealth or on such cigarettes as are sold to those persons exempt under section 3 (a) hereof for resale to authorized purchasers.

Section 10 Every person other than a common carrier or the employee thereof who shall possess or transport any cigarettes upon the public highways roads or streets of this Commonwealth for the purpose of delivery sale or disposition shall be required to have in his actual possession invoices or delivery tickets for such cigarettes. The absence of such invoices or delivery tickets shall be prima facie evidence that such person is a dealer in cigarettes in this Commonwealth and subject to the provisions of this act.

Section 11 (a) Any person who shall sell cigarettes without being the holder of a cigarette permit or permits as required by this act shall upon conviction in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine of twenty-five dollars ($25) and costs of prosecution and in default of payment thereof to undergo imprisonment for not more than ten (10) days.

(b) Any person who shall sell cigarettes without purchasing and affixing stamps to each package thereof as required by this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced for the first offense to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) or more than one thousand dollars ($1000) or to suffer imprisonment for a term not exceeding six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court and in the case of a conviction of a second or subsequent offense hereunder shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than five hundred dollars ($500) or more than one thousand dollars ($1000) and to suffer imprisonment for a term not less than six (6) months or more than three (3) years.

(c) Any person who shall fail neglect or refuse to comply with or shall violate the rules and regulations prescribed adopted and promulgated by the department under the provisions of this act or who shall refuse to permit the department or any agent appointing by it in writing to examine his books papers invoices and other records his stock of cigarettes in and upon any premises where the same are prepared stored and sold and his equipment pertaining to the sale of cigarettes taxable under this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) or more than five hundred dollars ($500) or to suffer imprisonment of not more than six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court.

(e) Any person not being a duly licensed dealer under the provisions of this act or not exempt under section 3 (a) hereof who shall have in his possession two hundred (200) or more cigarettes upon which State cigarette tax has not been paid or to the containers of which Pennsylvania cigarette tax stamps are not affixed in the amount herein required shall upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than twenty-five dollars ($25) and costs of prosecution for each two hundred (200) cigarettes found in his possession the cigarettes shall be forfeited to the Commonwealth and in default of the payment of of the said fine and costs shall be imprisoned in the county jail one (1) day for each dollar of fine and costs unpaid.

Section 12 The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions shall be held to be unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this act. It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included herein.

Section 2 This reenacting and amending set shall become effective on the first day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-one

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I know for a fact that this is the only one of the tax measures that is being made a permanent tax by House Bill 844, Printer's No. 148. None of the other tax measures in the package have a like effect. So I would wish to register my protest on this tax in that order.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

NOT VOTING—1

Lovett,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 845 as follows:

An act to reenact and amend the title and the act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (Special Session of one thousand nine hundred thirty-six P. L. 13) entitled as amended "An act imposing an emergency State tax for a limited period of time on liquor as herein defined sold by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the collection and payment of such tax and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue and the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board" by extending the provisions thereof for a further limited period of time. The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The title and all the sections of the act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (Special Session of one thousand nine hundred thirty-six P. L. 13) entitled as amended "An act imposing an emergency State tax for a limited period of time on liquor as herein defined sold by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the collection and payment of such tax and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue and the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board" as last reenacted and amended by the act approved the twenty-fourth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 366) are hereby reenacted and further amended to read as follows

An Act

Imposing an emergency State tax for a limited period of time on liquor as herein defined sold by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the collection and payment of such tax and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue and the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That the following words terms and phrases used in this act for the purposes hereof defined as follows

"Liquor" Any alcoholic spirituous vinous fermented or other alcoholic beverage or combination of liquors and mixed liquor a part of which is spirituous vinous fermented or otherwise alcoholic and all drinks or drinkable liquids preparations or mixtures intended for beverage purposes which contain more than one-half of one per centum of alcohol by volume except alcohol and malt or brewed beverages

"Department" The Department of Revenue of this Commonwealth

"Board" The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board of this Commonwealth

"Fiscal Month" The monthly period established from time to time by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board for the purpose of conducting its business

Section 2 Until the first day of June one thousand nine hundred [fifty-one] fifty-three an emergency State tax is hereby imposed and assessed at the rate of ten per centum of the net price of all liquors sold by the board. The tax herein imposed shall be collected by the board from the purchasers of the liquor from the board. The amount of such ten per centum so collected by the board under the provisions of this act shall be paid into the State Treasury through the department in the manner and within the times herein specified and shall be credited to the General Fund

Section 3 It shall be the duty of the board to transmit to the department on or before the fifteenth day of each calendar month a statement of its receipts from sales of liquor and taxes collected during the preceding fiscal month and such other information as may be necessary to effectuate the provisions of this act at which time it shall also be the duty of the board to pay to the department the tax imposed upon such liquor by the provisions of this act. Provided however That the board may in its discretion add the tax imposed by this act to the wholesale and retail price at which liquors are sold and eliminate any accounting of such tax separate from sale prices and in such case the amount of the tax for any calendar month shall be ascertained by dividing the entire gross receipts derived from sales at Pennsylvania liquor stores during such month by eleven and the quotient thus obtained shall be deemed the amount of the tax for such month payable over under this section.

Section 4 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment.

Section 3 This reenacting and amending act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NOT VOTING—1

Lovett,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 846 as follows:

An Act to further amend section three of the act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 284) entitled as amended "An act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as manufacturers and by others on malt or brewed beverages used sold transported or delivered within the Commonwealth prescribing the method and manner of evidencing the payment and collection of such tax conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Revenue and those using or engaged in the sale at retail or wholesale or in the transportation of malt or brewed beverages taxable hereunder and providing penalties" by increasing the rates of certain taxes for a further limited period of time.

Section 1 Section three of the act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 284) entitled as amended "An act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as manufacturers and by others on malt or brewed beverages used sold transported or delivered within the Commonwealth prescribing the method and manner of evidencing the payment and collection of such tax conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Revenue and those using or engaged in the sale at retail or wholesale or in the transportation of malt or brewed beverages taxable hereunder and providing penalties" as last amended by the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1459) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 3 (a) Each manufacturer shall be subject to pay to the Commonwealth the taxes imposed by this section upon all malt or brewed beverages manufactured in this Commonwealth when prepared for market and every person who ships or transports malt or brewed beverages into this Commonwealth for sale delivery or storage in this Commonwealth shall pay to the Commonwealth the taxes imposed in this section before such beverages are transported within this Commonwealth. Such taxes shall be at the rate of one-third cent (1/3c) per half pint of eight (8) fluid ounces or fraction thereof and in larger quantities at the rate of one-half cent (1/2c) per pint of sixteen (16) fluid ounces or fraction thereof.

The tax rates per original container or standard fraction thereof are as follows:

Standard Fraction	Malt Beverage Tax Rate	Volume
1 barrel	$1.24	31 gal
1/2 barrel	.62	15 1/2 gal
1/3 barrel	.42	10 1/3 gal
1/4 barrel	.31	7 3/4 gal

1/8 barrel	.32	3 7/8 gal
1 gallon	.08
1/2 gallon	.04
1 quart	.02
1/2 pint	.0066

(b) In the event that any state territory or country shall impose upon malt or brewed beverages which have been manufactured in Pennsylvania a higher tax or fee than is imposed upon malt or brewed beverages manufactured within such state territory or country every person who ships or transports from such state territory or country malt or brewed beverages manufactured therein into this Commonwealth for sale delivery or storage in this Commonwealth shall pay thereon to the Commonwealth before such beverages are transported within this Commonwealth in addition to the tax imposed by this section a tax equal to such excess tax or fee which is imposed in such state territory or county on Pennsylvania-manufactured malt or brewed beverages Such additional tax shall be levied assessed and collected in the same manner as the other taxes imposed by this act

(c) Manufactures and all persons who bring malt or brewed beverages into the Commonwealth shall be liable to the Commonwealth as taxpayers for the payment of the taxes imposed by this act

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 48, entitled:

An Act relating to and defining chiropractic and the right to practice chiropractic, requiring licensure, conferring powers and imposing duties upon the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners, providing for the granting, suspension, and revocation of licenses issued by the board, conferring jurisdiction upon the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County, and prescribing penalties.

The first section was read and agreed to.

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. SARRAF offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 2, page 2, lines 7 and 8 by striking out the words "a philosophy science and art of things natural with the human body."

Amend Section 2, page 2, line 9 by striking out the word "procedure" and inserting in lieu thereof "examination."

Amend Section 2, page 2, lines 10 and 11 by striking out after the word "vertebrae" the words "and other articulations and tissues of the human body."

Amend Section 2, page 2, line 12 by adding after the word "analysis" the words "in practical use at present."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose these amendments, due to the fact that it is on the definition "Chiropractic."

The definition in this bill is the same as it was in the bill that passed this House by a vote of 174 to 21 in the 1949 session. We have taken this bill up with the Department of Justice and they have assured us that there is nothing here that will allow a chiropractor to do anything other than that which he is trained to do, and by starting out and mutilating this, we would only wind up with an unworkable bill.

We have been very careful in going through this bill. There were some amendments made before it came on the floor of the House. We feel that we have a bill, as it is presented here today, that will certainly be to the best interests of the people of the Commonwealth. And therefore, I would ask that these amendments be voted down.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I know when I say the word chiropractic it means debate. But I stand before you this afternoon not to debate anything except what we as Members of this House have already done. The Chiropractic Bill in the last session had a board. That bill went through, signed by the Governor and five members were appointed by Governor Duff. Three of these five men are legalized men who practice in our State. Two are unlicensed men. Now that board has been appointed.

My colleague, and sponsor of the bill, said that we passed this bill last session. That is true. We did not debate about the definition. We felt we may be able to beat the board and the definition and the bill, as did result. What came out of it? You have the board now and over in the Senate they did not pass this bill.

Now, we are back to tell this board what they are to do—not a blank check and permit them to just take anybody in, to just choose any schools they wish, to set up all the regulations as they wish, to choose whom they wish. Under the bill it says limited license, which means they can give them what ever examination they wish. Now, on this particular definition, the definition sent to me by the head of the Drugless Therapeutic Group which is today—

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire whether we are debating the bill or the amendments. We have gone far afield on the board and what we were taking about was the amendments to Section 2, and then you go on from there. These amendments that he offered here, I do not believe have any bearing on what he is talking about now.

However, we did discuss the definition in the 1949 session at quite some length.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Erie, Mr. Waterhouse, is correct. The question before the House is on the amendments to Section 2, offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Sarraf. The Chair has been lenient in allowing considerable latitude. The gentleman will have an opportunity to discuss the bill at a later time, if he wishes.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, may I continue?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is requested to confine himself to the amendments.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, the head of the Drugless Therapeutic Group of this State presented me with a definition of a chiropractor as of today, whether he is licensed. I would like to read the definition.

"Chiropractor means a system of locating misaligned or displaced vertebrae of the human spine and the adjustment by hand of much misaligned or displaced vertebrae."

That is from the president, or one of the heads of this group. Now the Medical Society presented me with this definition:

"Chiropractors should mean the system of locating misaligned or displaced vertebrae of the human spine and the adjustment by hand of such misaligned and displaced vertebrae."

Under this amendment, I would like to read to the Members of this House so they will understand what I am attempting to do. The term Chiropractor under the act amended as I am attempting to amend it will read this way:

"Chiropractic shall mean a system of locating misaligned or displaced vertebrae of the human spine, the examination preparatory to, and the adjustment by hand, of such misaligned or displaced vertebrae together with the use of scientific instruments of analysis in practical use at present."

I ask you, do you wish to give this Board a blank check or do you want to tell them what they are to do? You are the people to do this. I ask you to insert these amendments.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I certainly dislike to prolong this, I know the Members are all tired. But I would like to read, if they do not have the bill before them, page 2, lines 6 to 12 inclusive, and I will try to be fast:

"Chiropractor shall mean a practitioner of Chiropractic. Chiropractic shall mean a philosophy science and art of things natural with the human body—"
Now that is a very clear statement.

"—a system of locating misaligned or displaced vertebrae of the human spine the procedure preparatory to and the adjustment by hand of such misaligned or displaced vertebrae and other articulations and tissues of the human body together with the use of scientific instruments of analysis."

That is a very clearly stated section. It does not give them a blank check. It cannot be construed in any such way, if they are honest. But you can cut out and insert until you could get it to the point that a Chiropractor could not even put his hand on your elbow if it happened to be displaced, so to speak.

This section has been carefully studied by the head of the licensed Chiropractor's Association, by the Pennsylvania Society, and it certainly is not anything that we picked out of the clear air. I certainly hope that the Members of the House will sustain me in my plea, that they turn these amendments down.

Mr. PFAFF. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the offered amendments. I base my opposition on the fact that this bill has received long and considered action in the Committee on Professional Licensure. The Chairman of our Committee has been uniformly fair in allowing the opponents and proponents of this bill to present their facts and—

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I am a member of the same Committee and I think we are talking about the definition of Chiropractor. I do not think the gentleman is speaking on the definition at all, or on the amendments.

Mr. PFAFF. Mr. Speaker, I am objecting to these proposed amendments. This bill has been considered carefully in the Committee. There was plenty of consideration, plenty of discussion, pro and con, and I think when the committee agreed to report this bill out it was the best possible bill that we could report from the Committee.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I very reluctantly take the floor. I do not want to consume any more of the Members' time this afternoon than necessary and I want it understood very plainly very distinctly, that I am not opposed to the Chiropractic profession. I am very much in favor of Chiropractors. I think they have their rightful place in our community and I think they do a lot of good.

I am speaking on the amendments. I do not think that this definition of the art of Chiropractic is clear and I do not think that it definitely defines what they are to do. If the gentleman, Mr. Waterhouse, will please explain to me, and the Members of this House—Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Waterhouse, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, not only for my own information, but I think the Members of this House should have this very clearly in their minds. On line eleven, where it says "and other articulations and tissues of the human body," will you please explain to me what "other articulations and tissues of the human body" will constitute and will allow a Chiropractor to do, please?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, of course, in answer to the gentleman's question, I am not a Chiropractor but I will attempt to give him an intelligent answer.

Articulations, as I understand it, could be restricted circulatory, if you please; it could be pinched nerves; it could be most anything that might happen from a dislocated shoulder, elbow, ankle, wrist or what have you. It might not be only the bone structure that would be out of place but that in itself could very easily restrict other normal functions.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I do not like to take up the Members' time of this House, but I want the Members to clearly understand what they—vote for and I want Mr. Waterhouse to explain this.

Will you answer this question, Mr. Waterhouse? Suppose a man had a smashed hand or arm, fingers are broken, tissues are mutilated and he has a comminuted fracture we will say. Under this bill, the way this reads, articulation and any tissues of the body, could he take care of this injury?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, he could not, and would not attempt it. That would definitely be a job for a surgeon or a medical man. There is not intent on the part of the authors of this bill, including myself, to delegate any such authority to a Chiropractor.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, thank you. I have to disagree with the gentleman. When this reads as of now, when it says "and other articulations and tissues of the human body" if a man's hand is smashed, if it is broken, it is out of alignment, the tissues are out of alignment, he could under this definition replace that in the proper alignment, in normal alignment. I do not say that the Chiropractor would do that but the way this bill is written he could do it. Now, Mr. Speaker, I wish to further interrogate the gentleman.

Section 12, beginning lines eleven, and twelve; "with the use of scientific instruments of analysis," will you please explain what "scientific instruments of analysis mean?"

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I would be very glad to do that. In the school that is recognized by the State, they teach all the modalities including short wave, infra red, ultra violet ray, dehydration, coagulation with tonsils and hemorrhoids and so on and so forth, which are in no way connected with Chiropractic but are allowed under the present setup, and any of these instruments could be termed as scientific instruments of analysis. The usual scientific instrument of analysis is, of course, the pneumatometer, the X-ray and it has been said that electrocardiograph could be used. Some have said: Well if you let them use the X-ray, they could X-ray the stomach. Well, a store will X-ray your foot lots of time for a shoe. So I can see nothing in this definition that would allow them to do anything other than analysis. It certainly would not mean that they could take a knife and cut you open to see if you had gall stones, or something to that effect.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman but I still do not think that the definition that he has given the Members of this House concerning scientific instruments is correct. Scientific instruments take in too broad a field, it is not clearly defined. I have no objection if he will state the types. If they want to use X-ray, let them use X-ray. May I ask the gentleman one more question? Would you consider a hypodermic needle that is injected into the spine, you tap the spine, you draw spinal fluid for analysis, would you consider that instrument a scientific instrument of analysis?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I would not, I would consider that a treatment.

Mr. MAXWELL. Thank you, but I beg to differ with you. That would be a scientific instrument of analysis definitely.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, I would see no reason why you could consider a hypodermic needle an instrument of analysis, in injecting one.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, you do not inject, you draw the fluid for an analysis. That would definitely be a scientific instrument of analysis. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

I do not want to take anymore time of the Members of this House, I think these amendments are good amendments. The amendments that Dr. Sarraf presented will clearly define this bill and keep the Chiropractors within their rights to practice, give them a license, and every body is going to be happy. I would ask the Members to vote for Dr. Sarraf's amendments in order to clear this whole situation up.

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate Dr. Sarraf.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Sarraf, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SARRAF. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Sarraf, are you a duly licensed physician?

Mr. SARRAF. I am.

Mr. TAHL. How long have you been practicing as a physician.

Mr. SARRAF. Twenty-six years.

Mr. TAHL. Now as a physician, will you tell us whether or not in this definition the Chiropractor would have the right to do almost the same thing as any duly licensed physician?

Mr. SARRAF. I would say no, not exactly, Mr. Tahl, that they would be able to do what a Doctor or an MD. does, no. Not the terminology of this definition, no, sir. But if you will allow me to elaborate, it will permit the individuals who are licensed today, and licensed under this board that has been setup and with definition, much more than the Chiropractor as known today, whether licensed or unlicensed, is permitted to do in any state in the Union but two.

Mr. TAHL. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, very briefly, the question was brought up about the tissues. If you were not allowed to have anything to do with the treatment of tissues, you could not even work on the spine because that is covered by muscle and tissue. As far as this being far reaching and being such a broad definition that it would allow practically anything to be done by a chiropractic, that is just—I will not say mis-statements—but misinterpretation by people who possibly object to the idea of chiropractic in the first place. So, I still hope that the Members will not be misled by any of the statements that will defeat the amendments.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I will be very very brief, in an attempt rather to help my colleague on the other side. It is very unfair to ask a layman what articulations are and his description of articulations is a way off the beam and as a Doctor and knowing anatomy, I will have to help him.

Articulation means anywhere where two bones meet. That is what articulation means to us. Now as far as tissues are concerned, that is a different item.

It specifically states in the portion which I attempted to remove "dispaced vetrebra and other articulations." Now that means every other point, as I just described to you, from your fingers to your toes, to your skull. The tissues of the human body are all the other structures of your body, nerves, muscles, tendons, everything.

I say to you this is a very, very broad definition, more that the chiropractor legitimately practicing has license to do. The illegitimate group that we are bringing is given more than they ever had, and more than the definition gives them in this State.

To help you with this, there is no real definition. We are putting into this bill a definition. I ask the House—I know you are tired. I am too. But this is very, very important I am not telling you to vote against the chiropractor. I am not saying that what he does is wrong or right. But you have a board set up and here you are giving them duties to perform. You are outlining a definite definition, if I can phrase it that way, and I think we as legislators should give them at least what they are doing today, the licensed or the unlicensed.

In my amendment I give them, to be truthful, a little more, because I read to you what the Doctor said should be in there. I read you what the Drugless Therapeutists said should be in there. Yet with all this, somebody seems to think there is something wrong.

I want everybody in this House to know that I sat with the Medical Profession this morning and we went over this together and we leaned over backwards to put in this bill more than the man has today in this definition. If you pass this as it is defined here, I want to say to you that you are giving these people much more, and not being a lawyer myself, I do not know how far they will be able to go.

This Board with there three men licensed and two unlicensed, only two need to sit, and two are unlicensed. I want you to understand, if you will, what you are passing through this House. That is why I rise and insert these amendments if you will please go along with me.

MR. WOOD IN THE CHAIR

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, by accepting these amendments, you would spoil what is otherwise a very good bill and I certainly hope that the Members will see fit to vote "No" on the amendments.

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The third and fourth sections were separately read and agreed to.

The fifth section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. REESE offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 5, page 4, line 17, by inserting after the word "equivalent" the following: "and not less than one year of college credits in physics, chemistry and biology."

Amend Sec. 5, page 5, line 10, by inserting after the word "EQUIVALENT" the following: "and not less than one year of college credits in physics, chemistry and biology."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I would oppose these amendments, if for no other reason than that the GI's from World War II, who matriculated the GI Bill of Rights, who have attended legally incorporated schools would, under this amendment, have to go back for further study and it would certainly work a hardship on any of those who have studied within the past few years.

This bill as it is written in Section 5 is very liberal and yet it is very exacting. The requirements are such that a person must have sufficient training, but would not be penalized, as they would be were these amendments to be accepted. For that reason I would ask the Membership to vote the amendments down. I will be willing to take the last roll call if that is agreeable to the gentleman presenting the amendments.

Mr. REESE. Mr. Speaker, under this bill which these amendments are to amend, present practitioners practicing under ten years, would be licensed; preliminary qualifications would be a high school education. Professional qualifications are practically two years of Chiropractics. Those requirements are very lenient, I would say. They are practically no requirements. These amendments simply add one year of college credits to meet professional requirements.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, could I just take the gentleman to page 4, starting with line 6; it says "less than twenty more than ten, the last five" and so on and so forth, and that requires 2150 hours of class room, and then we go on "for at least one year, but less than ten." They must have a general education of not less than four years of high school or its equivalent and not less than 2550 hours of class room instruction in a legally incorporated and reputable school of chiropractic, which is only a few hours less than that required for a medical student, if you delete surgery and medication.

So I cannot quite get this thinking there that it only needs a high school when there are 2550 hours of study in an incorporated school.

Mr. REESE. Mr. Speaker, 2550 hours are equivalent to two college years.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. 2550 hours, Mr. Speaker, are equal to a four year course or an A.B. or a B.S. in time and study.

Mr. REESE. Not at a Chiropractic College.

Mr. SARRAF. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Reese.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Reese, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REESE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Reese are you a recognized licensed chiropractor in this State at present?

Mr. REESE. I am.

Mr. SARRAF. Did you not to obtain your license have to return to Duquesne University or some school to fulfill the requirements?

Mr. REESE. Did.

Mr. SARRAF. That will be all. Thank you very much.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I do not think that had anything to do with these amendments. If we want to go back to requirements, the thing that happened in Philadelphia couldn't have happened under this bill.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is rather peculiar in his answers, in jumping to his feet. I rise to state that the gentleman is not speaking on the amendments at all. The Philadelphia situation, I did not hear a word of Philadelphia mentioned in the amendment.

My interrogation of this gentleman was to only portray one thing. He lived up to the qualifications, the standards remained high and they are high today, and this gentleman wishes to make them remain high for everybody. That was my interrogation.

I ask the Chair to please make his ruling up front if he will. I do not think the gentleman who sponsors the bill has any more privileges than any of us.

NOT VOTING—1

Lovett,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 602, as follows:

An Act to reenact and amend the title and the act approved the twelfth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 259) entitled as amended "An act providing for the payment by the State Treasurer of one-half of the amount of the tax on premiums paid by foreign casualty insurance companies to the treasurers of the several cities boroughs towns and townships and for the payment thereof into police pension funds and in certain cases into the Municipal Employees' Retirement System and for Pension Annuity Contracts and in certain other cases into the State Employees' Retirement Fund for certain purposes" by extending the benefits of the act to certain county police pension funds

Section 1 The title and the act approved the twelfth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 259) entitled as amended "An act providing for the payment by the State Treasurer of one-half of the amount of the tax on premiums paid by foreign casualty insurance companies to the treasurers of the several cities boroughs towns and townships and for the payment thereof into police pension funds and in certain cases into the Municipal Employees' Retirement System and for Pension Annuity Contracts and in certain other cases into the State Employees' Retirement Fund for certain purposes" as last amended in part by the acts approved the sixth day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 160) the fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 433) the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 720) the sixth day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 407) and the twenty-seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1901) are hereby reenacted and further amended to read as follows

An Act

Providing for the payment by the State Treasurer [of one-half] of the amount of the tax on permiums paid by foreign casualty insurance companies to the treasurers of the several cities boroughs towns [and] townships and certain counties and for the payment thereof into police pension funds and in certain cases into the Municipal Employees' Retirement System and for Pension Annuity Contracts and in certain other cases into the State Employees' Retirement Fund for certain purposes

Section 1 As used in this act the term

(1) "Municipality" means a city borough town or township

(2) "County" means any county having a police force separate and distinct from the police forces of the municipalities situate within the county

(3) "Participating Municipality" means a municipality in which provision is made through a Municipal Employees' Retirement Fund a Police Pension or Retirement Fund or a Pension Annuity Contract for the payment of pension retirement or disability benefits to the policemen employed by such municipality or to the dependents of such policemen

(4) "Participating County" means a county in which provision is made through a Municipal Employees' Retirement Fund a Police Pension or Retirement Fund or a Pension Annuity Contract for the payment of pension retirement or disability benefits to the policemen employed by such county or to the dependents of such policemen

(5) "Municipal Employees' Retirement Fund" means any pension or retirement fund established by a municipality or county to provide pension retirement or disability benefits to the policemen employed by such municipality or county or to dependents of such policemen including components of the retirement system provided for by the act approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 886) and amendments thereto

(6) "Police Pension Fund" means any pension or retirement fund established in any municipality or county and duly approved and recognized as such by the council commissioners or supervisors as the case may be of the municipality or county to provide pension retirement or disability benefits to the policemen employed by such municipality or county or to the dependents of such policemen

(7) "Pension Annuity Contract" means any contract made by a municipality or county or any Municipal Employees' Retirement Fund or Police Pension Fund of a municipality or county with an insurance or other authorized company to provide pension retirement or disability benefits to the policemen employed by such municipality or county or to the dependents of such policemen

(8) "Number of policemen" whether of a participating municipality of a participating county or of the Pennsylvania State Police means the average number of policemen employed by any such municipality county or in the Pennsylvania State Police as the case may be during the year preceding the receipt of the tax by the Commonwealth

(9) "Policeman" means a full time paid policeman or policewoman

Section 2 (a) On and after the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and forty-nine and annually thereafter there shall be paid by the State Treasurer to the treasurers of the several municipalities and counties within the Commonwealth and to the State Employees' Retirement Fund for State police pension and retirement purposes the entire amount received from the two per centum tax paid upon premiums by foreign casualty insurance companies

(b) The amounts to be distributed shall be allocated in accordance with the following formulae

Formula 1 Divide the total amount of said tax available for distribution by the population of the Commonwealth as shown by the last preceding decennial census of the United States to determine a quotient Multiply this quotient by the population of each participating municipality to determine the amount payable to the treasurer of such municipality under Formula 1

Formula 1a To determine the amount payable to a treasurer of any participating county sum the amounts payable to the treasurers of all participating municipalities within the participating county divide said sum by the total number of policemen of the participating municipalities within the participating county to determine a quotient Multiply this quotient by the number of policemen of the participating county

Formula 2 Add the amounts payable to the treasurers of the participating municipalities under Formula 1 and the amounts payable to the treasurers of the participating counties under Formula 1a and divide the total by the sum of the number of policemen in all the said municipalities and the number of policemen in all the said counties to determine a quotient Multiply this quotient by the number of Pennsylvania State Police to determine the amount payable to the State Employees' Retirement Fund under Formula 2

Formula 3 Divide the balance of the tax available for distribution not allocated under Formulae 1 1a and 2 by the total number of policemen of the participating municipalities participating counties and the Pennsylvania State Police to determine a quotient Multiply this quotient by the number of policemen of each participating municipality to determine the amount payable to the treasurer of such municipality under Formula 3 Multiply the same quotient by the number of policemen of each participating county to determine the amount payable to the treasurer of such county under Formula 3 Multiply this same quotient by the number of State Police to determine the amount payable to the State Employees' Retirement Fund under Formula 3

(c) The following formulae illustrate the application of the foregoing methods of calculation wherein

"a" shall mean the total amount of tax for allocation

"b" shall mean the population of the Commonwealth

"c" shall mean the population of any municipality

"d" shall mean an amount payable to any municipal treasurer under Formula 1

"d1" shall mean total of amounts payable to all municipal treasurers under Formula 1

"e" shall mean number of policemen in all participating municipalities

"f" shall mean number of State police

"g" shall mean an amount payable to the State Retirement Fund under Formula 2

"h" shall mean number of policemen in any participating municipality

"i" shall mean an amount payable to any municipal treasurer under Formula 3

"i1" shall mean total of [accounts] amounts payable to all municipal treasurers under Formula 3

"k" shall mean an amount payable to the State Retirement Fund under Formula 3

"ci" shall mean the population of all participating municipalities within any participating county

"hi" shall mean the number of policemen of all participating municipalities within the participating county

"n" shall mean the number of policemen of any participating county

"nl" shall mean the number of policemen of all participating counties

"p" shall mean the amount payable to participating county under Formula 1a

"p1" shall mean total of amounts payable to all county treasurers under Formula 1a

"m" shall mean the amount payable to any county treasurer under Formula 3

"m1" shall mean total of amounts payable to all county treasurers under Formula 3

$$\begin{array}{l} \text{a} \\ 1 - X c = d \\ \text{b} \\ \text{a x n x ci} \\ 1a p = \frac{\quad}{\text{b x hi}} \\ \text{d1} \\ [2 - X f = g \\ \text{e} \end{array}$$

(d) All moneys paid to the treasurer of any municipality or county shall be forthwith paid or credited to the pension or retirement fund or the premium on the pension annuity contract as the case may be to provide pension retirement or disability benefits for the policemen of such municipality or county or the dependents of such policemen. All moneys paid into the State Employee's Retirement Fund shall be credited in equal proportion to the State annuity accounts of the members of the State Police who are contributing members to such fund.

[The first allocation made under the provisions of this act shall include all moneys accumulated from the said one-half of the tax paid in premiums by foreign casualty insurance companies since the passage of the act to which this is an amendment]

(e) Warrants for the above purposes shall be drawn by the Auditor General payable to the treasurers of the several participating municipalities participating counties and to the State Employees' Retirement Fund in accordance with this act.

Section [1.1] 3 Every municipality or county which makes application and certifies that it has a police force comprising at least one full-time paid policeman but which does not have a Municipal Employees' Retirement Fund as provided in section one of this act shall be paid in the manner provided in this act the amount that would be allocated had the municipality or county made provision through a Municipal Employees' Retirement Fund a Police Pension or Retirement Fund all of which sum so allocated shall be expended by the municipal or county authorities to secure Pension Annuity Contracts for their policemen. Warrants for this purpose shall be drawn by the Auditor General payable to the treasurers of the municipalities or counties and the municipal or county authorities are hereby directed to use the allocations to forthwith secure Pension Annuity Contracts until such time as they shall have made provisions therefor through a Municipal Employees' Retirement Fund a Police Pension or Retirement Fund.

Section 2 The provisions of this reenactment and amendment shall apply to all moneys received from the aforesaid tax in the year one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and thereafter.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE

Mr. BRETH offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 4, 1951.

Death has invaded the ranks of the shrinking group of ex-legislators and on this occasion has beckoned Blake B. Shugarts.

Mr. Shugarts was politically active for many years in Democratic circles, having served as borough tax collector in Clearfield and as a Member of the House of Representatives from 1933 to 1938.

As a member of the American Legion and of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Mr. Shugarts had a wide circle of "buddy" acquaintances.

In fraternal activities he was closely associated with the Red Men and served the order in the capacity of Great Sachem. His premature death at the age of fifty-four years has brought inconsolable sorrow to his surviving wife, his three children, his father, his two sisters, and two brothers; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives express its sorrow at the death of one of its former members, and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk be instructed to transmit a copy of this resolution to his surviving widow, Mrs. Blake B. Shugarts, of Clearfield County, Pennsylvania.

File of the Pennsylvania Legislative Correspondents' Association

"Looking Ahead—Off the Record"

Whereas, The critical year of 1951 finds all of us at wit's end on the future course of events, and,

Whereas, Republicans and Democrats for a change are unanimous in their agreement on this point, and,

Whereas, It's about time we got some authoritative information before Pennsylvania's ship of state founders on the sharp rocks of misdirection, and,

Whereas, It's about time we got the real inside information from someone other than the elevator operators, Therefore be it

Resolved, That all captains of the Ship of State, provided they possess ten dollars, be admitted to the 28th biennial dinner of the Pennsylvania Legislative Correspondents' Association at the Penn Harris Hotel, Tuesday evening, April 24, 1951 at 7:30 o'clock postmeridian time to hear the real inside info on what's ahead of us on wages, prices, credit controls, rent controls and home financing from Federal Economic Stabilization Director Eric Johnston, erstwhile Czar of Hollywood who may in addition touch on the Red Menace in Hollywood, and be it further

Resolved, That Native, Naturalized and Alien, elective and self-appointed skippers of State who have the urge and the 10 dollars are hereby directed to obtain said tickets at the News Room in the State Capitol on a strictly first-come, first-served basis.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

THURSDAY, April 5, 1951

The House met at 10:00 a. m.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend Charles F. Trunk, Jr., guest Chaplain, pastor of the Bethlehem Luthern Church, Harrisburg, offered the following prayer:

Almighty and eternal God, Thou Who art Lord of our Life and the Hope of every nation, we thank Thee that Thou art mindful of us in our smallness. Give to us the knowledge of Thy presence so that we may be unified in good purpose even when divided in debate.

Help us to do that which is needed in the way that is best for all, answering only to pressure from Thee through the inspiration of Thy Son, in Whose Name we pray. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journal of Wednesday, April 4, 1951? If not, and without objection, the Journal is approved.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 269, Printer's No. 184,
was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, House Bill No. 277, Printer's No. 185, will be passed over. Is there objection?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, this bill is a debatable measure. If the sponsor desires to call it it is quite all right as far as we are concerned. Some members of the Democratic delegation in the House are opposed to it. We have no objections to its going over, until there is a full house. Or we have no objections to its being called at this time.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objection, and the bill is passed over.

BILLS PASSED OVER

House Bill No. 368, Printer's No. 197, and House Bill No. 369, Printer's No. 91, were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Lovett,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 730, as follows:

An Act to further amend Section 501 of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1225) entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by regulating the issuance of resident hunters' licenses for antlerless deer for the hunting of antlerless deer and eliminating the provisions for special permits for antlerless deer and for abrogation of open season on antlerless deer

Section 1 Subsection (c) of Section 501 of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1225) entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" as last amended by the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 810) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 501 Open Seasons After investigation or information otherwise obtained by the commission as to the annual game supply the commission may by appropriate rules and regulations a summary of which shall be published as hereinafter specified fix seasons shooting hours and daily season and possession limit or remove protection and declare an open season or increase reduce or close seasons or increase or reduce bag limits for all species of game birds and game animals throughout the Commonwealth or in any part thereof or limit the number of hunters in any designated area and prescribe the methods of hunting therein when in its opinion such action is necessary to assure the maintenance of an adequate supply of such species or when an unbalanced sex ratio exists which in its opinion should be corrected or when in the opinion of the commission such additional open season will not jeopardize the future supply of game

Resident Hunters' Licenses for Antlerless Deer If in any year the commission by resolution declares an open season for antlerless deer it [may in its discretion] shall issue resident hunters' licenses for antlerless deer to hunt for or kill such deer at a fee of one dollar and ten cents under such rules and regulations governing the issuance of such licenses as it may deem necessary to limit the number of persons who may hunt for such deer in any county of the Commonwealth provided public notice of such action is given as hereinafter required Such licenses may be issued only to holders of resident hunting licenses

Resident hunters' licenses for antlerless deer shall be issued only by the Department of Revenue and by the county treasurers in counties where such deer may be hunted and killed who for that purpose are hereby made agents of the Department of Revenue

For services rendered in collecting and paying over fees and issuing licenses such agents may retain the sum of ten cents from the amount paid by each licensee which amount shall be paid into the county treasury except that such agents may retain therefrom any amounts necessary to reimburse them for any expenses including compensation of employees incurred in collecting such fees and issuing such licenses

Forty per cent of all antlerless deer licenses shall be made available for issuance by the Department of Revenue The remaining sixty per cent shall be made available for issuance by the county treasurers of the county in which such licenses are to be used

When such licenses are issued to restrict the number of persons who may hunt antlerless deer in any county of the Commonwealth any citizen of the United States residing within the Commonwealth who is a bona fide owner or lessee of lands which lie within the county declared open to the hunting of said deer or any member of the family or household or regularly hired help of such owner or lessee if such person is a citizen of the United States actually residing upon and cultivating such lands is hereby declared eligible to hunt antlerless deer without a resident hunter's license for antlerless deer upon said property and by and with the consent of the owner thereof upon the lands immediately adjacent and connected with his own lands other than lands owned by or under the control of the Commonwealth

The term "antlerless deer" and "deer without visible antlers" as used in this subsection or any other provision of the Game Law which this act amends are hereby defined to mean a deer without an antler sometimes called horn the term "antler" as herein used or in any other provision of the Game Law which this act amends meaning the bony growth on the head of a deer regardless of its size or development

When the commission adopts and promulgates such rules and regulations relative to resident hunters' licenses for antlerless deer it is unlawful for any person other than a landowner or lessee of the county or a member of his household as hereinbefore enumerated to hunt for antlerless deer without resident hunters' license for antlerless deer or to take such deer contrary to the rules and regulations adopted by the commission

Section 2 Subsection (d) of Section 501 of said act is hereby repealed

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. TOLL, TAYLOR, BYRNE, WELSH, LEVEN, SCANLON, CONWAY and POLASKI offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 5, 1951.

Tomorrow, Friday, April 6, 1951, is the birthday of a distinguished member of this House. He is gracing this chamber for his fifth term and is a valued member of this honorable assembly. He is a veteran of World War I and active in veteran affairs. He is married and has five sons, four of whom are in the Army and one is in college in Boston. He is an optometrist by profession and is President of the Polish Citizens League.

It is in honor of such an outstanding citizen and legislator, Dr. Leon J. Kolankiewicz, that congratulations are offered. Therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives congratulate Dr. Leon J. Kolankiewicz and express our sincere hope that he will be with us for many years in the future and that his family will be spared and enjoy good fortune, and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Dr. Leon J. Kolankiewicz.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Kolankiewicz.

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. Mr. Speaker, I do want to thank the Members of the House that presented the resolution. I thought this year I would be able to get away without any resolutions. However, the time had appeared, I know, because some of the boys took me out last night. They treated me just as though I were a young lady. However, I am very grateful to them and to the Members of this House.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. ZIEGLER offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 4, 1951.

All boys from 5 to 105 enjoy a circus, and the Members of this House are not exceptions, for there is something about a circus that makes it incomparable entertainment.

The 4th Annual Zembo Shrine's Circus with its excellent programming, timing, color, and performers, with its gifted clowns, gorgeous gals, rousing band, talented trained animals,—and all the rest—is a super-colossal production that leaves pleasant memories with all its spectators; everyone who invites his friend to this show is a friend indeed; now therefore be it

Resolved, (by the House of Representatives) That We hereby thank Mr. A. E. O'Brien and the Associated Penna. Constructors for their generous hospitality in inviting the members of this House as their guests to the 4th Annual Zembo Shrine Circus; and be it further

Resolved, That We hereby congratulate everyone connected with bringing to Harrisburg and carrying on this magnificent spectacle which is for the benefit of such a worthy cause; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives shall transmit copies of this resolution to Mr. A. E. O'Brien and to the Associated Penna. Constructors.

HELM

HOUSE BILL No. 964

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Highways for the erection and construction of ramp over the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad in the Borough of West Leechburg and for the construction of the necessary approaches thereto.

Referred to the Committee on Highways.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, what I have to say I will say in the Democratic caucus. It is becoming increasingly difficult to arrange a calendar in conformity with the wishes of Members who are not present. I am of course, the servant of the Democratic caucus, but as, if and when the Members hand the Floor Leader a list of four or five bills that they would like to hold over and then depart, one gets a hold-over list in the interest of Members who are not here. And, I wish to repeat, it is becoming increasingly difficult to arrange a calendar in the interests of the Members who are not present.

It will be my purpose to cooperate with any Member on either side that may not want a particular bill called if he is in the House. Because then we can ascertain the reasons why he does not want the bill called. But for a Member to leave a memoranda that he does not want a particular bill called and then depart to attend to his private business certainly places the floor leadership in a difficult position.

I simply want to say that we cannot continue indefinitely arranging calendars to suit the convenience of Members who are not present in the Hall of the House.

ADJOURNMENT

Mrs. COYLE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, April 9, 1951, at 4.30 p. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 10.59 a. m.) the House adjourned.

SENATE

MONDAY, April 9, 1951.

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. GILBERT L. BENNETT, Pastor of the First Methodist Church, Huntingdon, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

O Divine Shepherd, Who has prepared green pastures and still waters for the restoration of Thy people, lead us, we pray Thee, in the paths of peace. Lift us above fretfulness and care. Deliver us from strain and stress. Bestow upon us the spirit of calm and grant that our ordered lives may reflect the beauty of Thy peace. We offer our prayer in the name of Him who gave the peace that passeth all understanding. Amen,

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. SCARLETT, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

1092) entitled "An act defining fraternal benefit societies and their status authorizing such societies to create subordinate lodges and to pay benefits to members and their beneficiaries from funds collected and regulating such benefits and collections providing for the organization and incorporation of such societies and for their supervision regulation and examination by the Insurance Commissioner and for the admission of foreign societies designating tables of mortality as a basis for rates of contribution requiring all societies to make annual and other reports and appointing the Insurance Commissioner as attorney for service of process providing penalties for any violations of the act exempting such societies from taxation and certain other societies from its provisions and requiring beneficial associations other than fraternal benefit societies to report to and be supervised by the Insurance Commissioner and repealing existing laws" as amended by the act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 686) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 15 Funds Securities The funds from which benefits shall be paid and the funds from which expenses of the society shall be defrayed shall be derived from regular monthly or other periodical rates of contribution paid by the members of the society and accretions of said funds as apportioned in accordance with the constitution and laws of the society and no part of any funds set aside for the payment of benefits shall be used for expenses or other purposes [that would impair the valuation of the certificates herein provided] except that any such society having admitted assets as shown by its last annual statement filed with the Insurance Commissioner in excess of one hundred per cent of its entire liabilities including its required reserves computed on a net tabular basis may transfer or allocate such excess insurance funds to the expense or other funds of the society in accordance with its constitution and by-laws but the amount so transferred in any calendar year shall not exceed five per cent of the total premium income of such society during the next preceding calendar year Any such society having admitted assets as shown by its last annual statement filed with the Insurance Commissioner in excess of one hundred per cent of its entire liabilities including its required reserves computed on a net tabular basis not lower than the American Experience Table of Mortality with an interest rate of three and one-half per cent may in accordance with its constitution and by-laws provide for the consolidation of its various funds and may report its transactions accordingly provided that no expenses will be incurred that would impair the reserve base or bases which it is using Except as herein otherwise allowed every domestic society shall invest its funds only in securities and in the manner permitted by the laws of this Commonwealth for the investment of the funds of life insurance companies and in securities of Federal savings and loan associations or of other institutions to the extent that such investment is guaranteed by the United States Government or any instrumentality thereof Unless the approval of the Insurance Commissioner shall be first obtained in writing no domestic society shall keep or maintain at a place outside this Commonwealth any securities or other assets except such as are necessary for the collection of current dues and to enable it to comply with the laws of any other state or foreign country for the purpose of transacting business therein

Section 2 Section 29 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 29 Valuation Report In addition to the annual report herein required each society shall annually report to the insurance commissioner a valuation of its benefit fund obligations in force on December thirty-first last preceding [excluding those entered into within the year for which the report is filed in cases where the contributions for the first year in whole or in part are used for current expenses] Such report of valuation shall show as contingent liabilities the present mid-year value of the promised benefits provided in the constitution and laws of such society under certificates then subject to valuation at not more than four per cent interest less such portion thereof as may have been assumed by other associations or companies and as contingent assets the present mid-year value at the same rate of interest of [the] such future net contributions provided in [its constitution and laws of the same] the constitution and laws of such society as are in practice actually collected

In lieu of the above valuation any society at its option may show the net value of its benefit fund obligations subject to valuation at the rate of interest as hereinbefore provided and said net value when computed in the case of monthly contributions may be the mean of the terminal value for the end of the preceding and of the current certificate years from which said tabular values shall be deducted such portion thereof as may have been assumed by other associations or companies

Each valuation report shall be certified by a competent accountant or actuary or at the request and expense of the society verified by the actuary of the Department of Insurance of the home state of the society and shall be filed with the Insurance Commissioner on or before the first day of April succeeding the submission of the last preceding annual report

The minimum standard of valuation for death benefit fund obligations issued prior to the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-two shall be the National Fraternal Congress Table of Mortality hereinbefore referred to or at the option of the society by any other standard table or a table based upon the society's own experience of at least twenty years and covering not less than one hundred thousand lives with an interest assumption of not more than four per cent

The minimum standard of valuation for death benefit fund obligations issued on and after the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-two shall be the American Experience Table of Mortality with an interest assumption of not more than three and one-half per cent

Every valuation report shall set forth clearly and fully the mortality and interest basis and the method of valuation Any society providing for cancellable disability benefits shall keep a separate account of the same in its said valuation report shall [charge as a liability the balance to the credit of such fund or funds at the date of such valuation Where a combined contribution table is used by a society for both death and permanent and total disability benefits the valuation may be of death benefit only and in such case a separate accounting shall not be required] establish and maintain a reserve of one-half of the periodic contribution for such benefits On and after the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-two the minimum basis for contributions and reserves for disability benefits and double indemnity benefits shall be the minimum basis required of legal reserve life insurance companies for such benefits

Nothing herein contained shall require a society which has adopted a procedure for strengthening its reserve to modify any existing non-forfeiture benefits which had been previously used

A report of such valuation with such explanations as the society may deem advisable shall be printed and mailed to each beneficial member of the society not later than July first of each year or in lieu thereof may be published in the society's official paper and the issue containing the same mailed to each beneficial member of the society

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?
